Carlo Scarpa Architect Intervening With History:

Carlo Scarpa, Architect Carlo Scarpa, R. Nicholas Olsberg, 1999 Between 1953 and 1978 the Italian architect Carlo Scarpa produced an incredibly varied range of works that challenge our notions of what modern architecture might be. Foremost in that work was the need to reconcile a wholehearted embrace of the new with the longstanding traditions of local craft and of universal practice to create an architecture that would clearly express its own machine-driven times without abandoning the psychic and sensual forces of place, materiality and memory. Carlo Scarpa Architect Intervening with History illustrates through abundant reproductions of Scarpa's drawings the ways the architect created a dialogue with light, space and architecture within the historic fabric of Italian cities. Presenting these projects as they exist today, the patient eye of contemporary photographer Guido Guidi deepens our understanding of this timely approach to architectural dialogue.

Carlo Scarpa Architect: Intervening with History, 1999 The Architecture of Modern Italy Terry Kirk, 2005-06-02 Modern Italy may sound like an oxymoron. For Western civilization, Italian culture represents the classical past and the continuity of canonical tradition, while modernity is understood in contrary terms of rupture and rapid innovation. Charting the evolution of a culture renowned for its historical past into the 10th modern era challenges our understanding of both the resilience of tradition and the elasticity of modernity. We have a tendency when imagining Italy to look to a rather distant and definitely premodern setting. The ancient forum, medieval cloisters, baroque piazzas and papal palaces constitute our ideal itinerary of Italian civilization. The Campo of Siena, Saint Peter's all of Venice and San Gimignano satisfy us with their seemingly unbroken panoramas onto historical moments untouched by time, but elsewhere modern intrusions alter and obstruct the view to the landscapes of our expectations. As seasonal tourist or seasoned historian, we edit the encroachments; time and change have wrought on our image of Italy. The learning of history is always a complex task, one that in the Italian environment is complicated by the changes wrought everywhere over the past 250 years. Culture on the peninsula continues to evolve with characteristic vibrancy. Italy is not a museum. To think of it as such as a disorganized yet phenomenally rich museum, unchanging in its exhibits, is to misunderstand the nature of the Italian cultural condition and the writing of history itself. Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction, a full list of entries and contributors, a generous selection of sample pages and more, visit the Encyclopedia of 20th Century Architecture website. Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world, this three-volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism. Unlike existing works, this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types, movements, styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries. Adaptive Reuse of the Built Heritage Bie Plevoets, Koenraad Van Cleempoel, 2019-04-18 Adaptive reuse is the process of repairing and restoring existing buildings for new or continued use.

becoming an essential part of architectural practice As mounting demographic economic and ecological challenges limit opportunities for new construction architects increasingly focus on transforming and adapting existing buildings This book introduces adaptive reuse as a new discipline It provides students and professionals with the understanding and the tools they need to develop innovative and creative approaches helping them to rethink and redesign existing buildings a skill which is becoming more and more important Part I outlines the history of adaptive reuse and explains the concepts and methods that lie behind new design processes and contemporary practice Part II consists of a wide range of case studies representing different time periods and strategies for intervention Iconic adaptive reuse projects such as the Caixa Forum in Madrid and the Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam are discussed alongside less famous and spontaneous transformations such as the Kunsthaus Tacheles in Berlin in addition to projects from Italy Spain Croatia Belgium Poland and the USA Featuring over 100 high quality color illustrations Adaptive Reuse of the Built Heritage is essential reading for students and professionals in architecture interior design heritage conservation and urban planning

Modern Architectural Theory Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2009-07-13 Modern Architectural Theory is the first book to provide a comprehensive survey of architectural theory primarily in Europe and the United States during three centuries of development In this synthetic overview Harry Mallgrave examines architectural discourse within its social and political context He explores the philosophical and conceptual evolution of its ideas discusses the relation of theory to the practice of building and most importantly considers the words of the architects themselves as they contentiously shaped Western architecture He also examines the compelling currents of French rationalist and British empiricist thought radical reformation of the theory during the Enlightenment the intellectual ambitions and historicist debates of the nineteenth century and the distinctive varieties of modern theory in the twentieth century up to the profound social upheaval of the 1960s Modern Architectural Theory challenges many assumptions about architectural modernism and uncovers many new dimensions of the debates about modernism

Suspending Modernity: The Architecture of Franco Albini Kay Bea Jones, 2016-04-01 Franco Albini's works of architecture and design produced between 1930 and 1977 have enjoyed a recent revival but to date have received only sporadic scholarly attention from historians and critics of the Modern Movement A chorus of Italian voices has sung his praises none more eloquently than his protégé Renzo Piano Kay Bea Jones illuminating study of selected works by Studio Albini will reintroduce his contributions to one of the most productive periods in Italian design Albini emerged from the ideology of Rationalism to produce some of Italy's most coherent and poetic examples of modern design He collaborated for over 25 years with Franca Helg and at a time when professional male female partnerships were virtually unknown His museums and installation motifs changed the way Italians displayed historic artifacts He composed novel suspension structures for dwellings shops galleries and his signature INA pavilions where levity and gravity became symbolic devices for connoting his subjects Albini clarified the vital role of tradition in modern architecture as he experimented with domestic space His cohort defied CIAM ideologies to re-socialize postwar housing and speculate on ways of reviving Italian cities. He explored new fabrication technologies from the scale of furniture to wide-span steel structures yet he never abandoned the rigors of craft and detail in favor of mass production. Suspending Modernity follows the evolution of Albini's most important buildings and projects even as they reveal his apprehensive attitudes about the modern condition. Jones argues here that Albini's masterful use of materials and architectural expression mark an epic paradigm shift in the modern period. With(Out) Trace: Interdisciplinary Investigations into Time, Space and the Body Simon Dwyer, Rachel Franks, Reina Green, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Interdisciplinary Press in 2015. This book Without Trace: Interdisciplinary Investigations into Time, Space and the Body unpacks many of the issues that surround the idea of trace: what we intentionally and unintentionally leave behind as well as how trace can help us to move forward. In particular, this volume looks at how an interdisciplinary approach can suggest new ways of seeing and subsequently exploring interconnections between time, space, and the body. The papers within this work accomplish more than tracing a theme, a theory, or discipline within the study of time, space, and the body. Moreover, the collection does not simply trace past debates about the relationship between the three. Indeed, the interdisciplinarity of this collection will, it is hoped, suggest other ways of seeing the field and of tracing new paths through it. Exploring those new perspectives and new paths will undoubtedly enrich future thinking about the interconnections between time, space, and the body. The Making of Place John Dixon Hunt, 2015-11-15 Gardening is rich in tradition and many gardens are explicitly designed to refer to or honor the past. But garden design is also rich in innovation and in The Making of Place John Dixon Hunt explores the wide varieties of approaches, aesthetics, and achievements in garden design throughout the world today. The gardens Hunt explores offer surprising new ideas about how we can carve out a space for respite in nature. Taking readers to gardens public and private, busy and hidden away, to botanical gardens, small parks, university campuses, and vernacular gardens, Hunt showcases the differences between cultures and countries around the globe, including the United States, United Kingdom, France, Germany, China, and Australia. Richly illustrated, The Making of Place is sure to enchant and inspire even the most modest of home gardeners. The Routledge Companion to Architectural Drawings and Models Federica Goffi, 2022-05-30 Architectural drawings and models are instruments of imagination, communication, and historical continuity. The role of drawings and models and their ownership, placement, and authorship in a ubiquitous digital age deserve careful consideration. Expanding on the well-established discussion of the translation from drawings to buildings, this book fills a lacuna in current scholarship, questioning the significance of the lives of drawings and models after construction. Including emerging, well-known, and world-renowned scholars in the fields of architectural history and theory and curatorial practices, the thirty-five contributions define recent research in four key areas: drawing sites, sites of knowledge construction, drawing office construction, site, the afterlife of drawings and models, archiving, collecting, displaying, and exhibiting tools of making architectural representations and their apparatus over time, and the ethical responsibilities of collecting and archiving authorship ownership copyrights and rights to copy The research covers a wide range of geographies and delves into the practices of such architects as Sir John Soane Superstudio Eugène Emmanuel Viollet le Duc Frank Lloyd Wright Wajiro Kon Germ n Samper Gnecco A PS Mies van der Rohe and Renzo Piano Key Modern Architects Andrew Higgott, 2018-05-31 Key Modern Architects provides an accessible and thought provoking introduction to the work of the most significant architects of the modern era Fifty short chapters introduce fifty key architects from Le Corbusier to Aldo Van Eyck to Zaha Hadid exploring their most influential buildings and developing a critique of each architect's work within a broader cultural and historical context The selection represents the most influential architects working from 1890 to the present those most likely to be taught on survey courses in modern architectural history along with some lesser known names with an equal claim to influence Emphasis is placed on a critical and interpretative approach allowing the student to position each architect in a cultural and intellectual context quickly and easily Artistic technical social and intellectual developments are brought to the fore built and unbuilt projects writings and influences This approach brings to light the ideology behind architectural work offering insights into each architect's working practice Helps students to develop a critical approach to understanding modern architectural history One chapter per architect meaning chapters may be read individually as a concise resource for the study of an architect or together as a coherent book length history of the whole period of modern architecture Chapters are supported by boxed lists of each architect's most significant projects along with suggestions for further reading as a springboard to further study and research Combining the clarity and accessibility of a textbook with in depth reading and a critical approach Key Modern Architects provides an invaluable resource for both the classroom and for independent study in architectural and art history The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture James Stevens Curl, Susan Wilson, 2015-02-26 Containing over 6 000 entries from Aalto to Zwinger and written in a clear and concise style this authoritative dictionary covers architectural history in detail from ancient times to the present day It also includes concise biographies of hundreds of architects from history excluding living persons from Sir Francis Bacon and Imhotep to Liang Ssu ch eng and Francis Inigo Thomas The text is complemented by over 260 beautiful and meticulous line drawings labelled cross sections and diagrams These include precise drawings of typical building features making it easy for readers to identify particular period styles This third edition of The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture has been extensively revised and expanded with over 900 new entries including hundreds of definitions of garden and landscape terms such as Baroque garden floral clock hortus conclusus and Zen garden design Each entry is followed by a mini bibliography with suggestions for further reading The full bibliography to the first edition previously only available online has also been fully updated and expanded and incorporated into this new edition This is an essential work of reference for anyone with an interest in architectural and garden history With clear descriptions providing in depth analysis it is invaluable for students professional architects art historians and anyone interested in architecture and garden design and provides a fascinating

Binding Space: The Book as Spatial Practice Marian

Macken, 2018-04-17 Books orient intrigue provoke and direct the reader while editing interpreting encapsulating constructing and revealing architectural representation Binding Space The Book as Spatial Practice explores the role of the book form within the realm of architectural representation It proposes the book itself as another three dimensional complementary architectural representation with a generational and propositional role within the design process Artists books in particular that is a book made as an original work of art with an artist designer or architect as author have certain qualities and characteristics quite different from the conventional presentation and documentation of architecture Paginal sequentiality the structure and objecthood of the book and the act of reading create possibilities for the book as a site for architectural imagining and discourse In this way the form of the book affects how the architectural work is conceived constructed and read In five main sections Binding Space examines the relationships between the drawing the building and the book It proposes thinking through the book as a form of spatial practice one in which the book is cast as object outcome process and tool Through the book we read spatial practice anew Materials Oscar Riera Ojeda, 2003 This new series examines the role of details in contemporary architecture through the work of many emerging and established practitioners whose designs speak sensitively and energetically at the small scale The collection presents these details in photographs accompanied by working drawings sketches an introductory essay and captions that explain how the elements were conceived and built The details presented are often beautiful telltales of a designer's thoughts scaled to our eye made physical to the touch of our hand These crafted moments remind us that architecture can be a subtle and powerful force played out in some cases by evoking historical motifs in others by radical experimentation with new materials But more than a simple catalogue of ideas these details are ultimately shown as individual expressions of discovery gestures of delight or severity of beauty and clarity They are meaningful indications of the architect's presence more than all else willful signs that the true craft of design is alive and well Materials examines a wide spectrum of architectural palettes from traditional materials used in innovative ways to the testing of new substances that alter the meaning of historic forms The images demonstrate the use of single materials throughout a space as well as the joining of multiple components in one place These details exemplify projects in which patterns textures color and surface qualities contribute ingeniously to the character of the architecture around them Architectural Record, 1999 Italy Diane Ghirardo, 2013-02-15 Packed in its dense historic city centers Italy holds some of the most prized architecture and art in the world with which planners and politicians have had to negotiate as they struggle to cope with massive migration from the countryside to the city Early modern architecture coincided with a sustained drive to transform a country that was still primarily rural into a modern industrial state and throughout the twentieth century architects in Italy have attempted to define the role of architecture within a capitalist economy and under diverse political systems In Italy Modern Architectures in History Diane Yvonne Ghirardo addresses these and other issues in her analysis of the last century of Italy's building practices. Specifically, she examines the post-unification efforts to identify a distinctly Italian architectural language as well as the transformation of the urban environment in Italian cities undergoing industrialization in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. She challenges received interpretations of modern architecture and also looks at the subject of illegal building and current responses to ecological challenges. In order to illuminate the full scope of the building industry in Italy, her examples are drawn not only from the work of widely published architects in the largest cities but from throughout the peninsula, including small towns and rural areas. Insightful reading for those interested in Italian culture, this book offers a new way of understanding the architectural history of modern Italy.

Museum Space Kali Tzortzi, 2016-03-09. Museums are among the iconic buildings of the twenty-first century as remarkable for their architectural diversity as for the variety of collections they display. But how does the architecture of museums affect our experience as visitors? This book proposes that by seeing space as common ground between architecture and museology and so between the museum building and its display, we can illuminate the individuality of each museum and the distinctive experience it offers. For example, how some museums create a sense of personal exploration while others are more intensely didactic, and how the visit in some cases is transformed into a spatial experience and in other cases into a more social event. The book starts with an overview of the history of museum buildings and display strategies and a discussion of theoretical and critical approaches. It then focuses on specific museums as in-depth case studies and uses methods of spatial analysis to look at the key design choices available to architects and curators and their effects on visitors' behaviour. Theoretically grounded, methodologically original, and richly illustrated, this book will equip students, researchers, and professionals in the fields of architecture, museum studies, curating, exhibition design, and cultural studies with a guide for studying museums and a theoretical framework for their interpretation.

Design & Historic Preservation David L. Ames, Richard D. Wagner, 2009. This collection of papers addresses two questions central to design and historic preservation: what are the parameters of compatibility in the design of additions to historic buildings and of new infill buildings in historic districts and landscapes? Presented at the Third National Forum on Historic Preservation Practice: A Critical Look at Design in Historic Preservation held at Goucher College, the authors include practicing and academic historic preservationists, architectural historians, architects, landscape architects, and engineers. Organized under the themes of Melding Contemporary and Historic Design, Design Standards in Changing Environments, Modernism and Postmodernism in Preservation, Design and Engineering, and Preservation issues of compatibility are explored through diverse projects in locations across the United States, from historic Charleston, SC to downtown Los Angeles.
