The Ethics Project in Legal Education Michael Robertson, Lillian Corbin, Kieran Tranter, Francesca Bartlett, 2010-10-06 The contributions in this volume suggest that the ethics project in legal education is increasingly an international one Even though the strength of commitment by both the profession and the legal academy to ethics learning within law schools varies two fundamental questions confront all who work in this area First what is it that we want our students to learn or perhaps in what manner do we want our students to develop from the teaching of legal ethics Second how can we create a learning environment that will encourage the nature and quality of learning we think is important All the contributors to this volume take a strong stand on the importance of ethical legal practice and the role of law schools in developing students capacities in this area They share a belief in the essential need to encourage law students to engage with the moral dimensions of legal practice The questions that these scholars grapple with are therefore not of the should we be teaching this variety but how might we best to go about doing this so that our efforts within law schools really make some difference Each of the chapters in this volume adds uniquely to our understanding of these matters
