Cartesian Economics The Bearing Of Physical Science Upon State Stewardship Cosimo Classics:

Cartesian Economics Frederick Soddy, 2012-10-24 Cartesian Economics The Bearing of Physical Science upon State Stewardship is a compilation of two lectures given by Frederick Soddy to the student unions of Birbeck College and the London School of Economics The lectures were the first of four works written between 1921 and 1934 that applied the concepts of hard science to the economy Though Soddy's ideas were largely rejected at the time much of his theories are rooted in real world examples and mirrored in other aspects of life like the laws of thermodynamics Soddy's main arguments are against the concepts of debt and wealth He likens the economy to a machine which must draw energy from outside itself and which cannot forever recycle that energy to create more energy Similarly economists posited that debt could produce more wealth and thus fuel an economy Soddy argued instead that debt destroyed wealth eating it up until there was more debt in a society than wealth making it unsustainable These lectures are poignant and highly applicable to the economic situation at the beginning of the 21st century They will interest burgeoning and seasoned economists yearning for a new perspective

The Dialectics of Ecology John Bellamy Foster, 2024-04 Today the fate of the earth as a home for humanity is in question and yet contends John Bellamy Foster the reunification of humanity and the earth remains possible if we are prepared to make revolutionary changes As with his prior books The Dialectics of Ecology is grounded in the contention that we are now faced with a concrete choice between ecological socialism and capitalist exterminism and rooted in insights drawn from the classical historical materialist tradition In this latest work Foster explores the complex theoretical debates that have arisen historically with respect to the dialectics of nature and society He then goes on to examine the current contradictions associated with the confrontation between capitalist extractivism and the financialization of nature on the one hand and the radical challenges to these represented by emergent visions of ecological civilization and planned degrowth on the other

An Introduction to Ecological Economics Robert Costanza, John H Cumberland, Herman Daly, Robert Goodland, Richard B Norgaard, Ida Kubiszewski, Carol Franco, 2014-12-02 From Empty World Economics to Full World Economics Ecological economics explores new ways of thinking about how we manage our lives and our planet to achieve a sustainable equitable and prosperous future Ecological economics extends and integrates the study and management of both nature's household and humankind's household An Introduction to Understanding Green Finance Johannes Jäger, Ewa Dziwok, 2024-01-18 Exploring how green finance has become a key strategy for the financial industry in the wake of the 2007-08 financial crisis this timely book critically assesses the current dominant forms of neoliberal green finance Understanding Green Finance delivers a pioneering analysis of the topic covering the essential tenets of green finance with an emphasis on critical approaches to mainstream views and presenting alternatives insights and perspectives
