Founders At Work Stories Of Startups Early Days:

Founders at Work Jessica Livingston, 2008-11-01 Now available in paperback with a new preface and interview with Jessica Livingston about Y Combinator Founders at Work Stories of Startups Early Days is a collection of interviews with founders of famous technology companies about what happened in the very earliest days. These people are celebrities now. What was it like when they were just a couple of friends with an idea? Founders like Steve Wozniak, Apple, Caterina Fake, Flickr, Mitch Kapor, Lotus, Max Levchin, PayPal, and Sabeer Bhatia, Hotmail tell you in their own words about their surprising and often very funny discoveries as they learned how to build a company. Where did they get the ideas that made them rich? How did they convince investors to back them? What went wrong and how did they recover? Nearly all technical people have thought of one day starting or working for a startup. For them, this book is the closest you can come to being a fly on the wall at a successful startup to learn how it's done. But ultimately, these interviews are required reading for anyone who wants to understand business, because startups are business reduced to its essence. The reason their founders become rich is that startups do what businesses do: create value more intensively than almost any other part of the economy. How? What are the secrets that make successful startups so insanely productive? Read this book and let the founders themselves tell you.

SUMMARY Edition Shortcut (author), 1901 SUMMARY - Founders At Work: Stories Of Startups Early Days By Jessica Livingston Shortcut Edition, 2021-06-04 Our summary is short, simple, and pragmatic. It allows you to have the essential ideas of a big book in less than 30 minutes. By reading this summary, you will discover how the groups of web giants were built and how their success based on innovative ideas took place from the very first years. You will also discover that success does not necessarily depend on a grandiose project and substantial funds; the simplest ideas are often the best. It is necessary to know your product well; success is more often achieved when a technician founds a company than when he is a salesman; you need to know how to surround yourself with the right people and be lucky to create an efficient network. Based on interviews with the founders of some of the most popular startups on the web, Jessica Livingston reveals their common characteristics: an unwavering determination to create a project that works; an unfailing perseverance; an adaptability that requires a great flexibility of mind; and a real motivation residing more in the love of a job well done and the desire to change the world than in the desire to make a lot of money. In a large company, the time spent on looking efficient is less and less time spent on productivity. Startups, on the other hand, prefer working methods that leave less room for appearances and focus on efficiency. This book proposes to explore what, according to their creators, has made the greatest successes on the web. Buy now the summary of this book for the modest price of a cup of coffee. Founders At Work: Stories Of Startups' Early Days Livingston, 2008-03-01 What Every Engineer Should Know About Starting a High-Tech Business Venture Eric Koester, 2009-01-06 Written by an experienced business lawyer in the technology, scientific, and engineering community, this publication is for the engineer with an innovative high-tech idea or concept who needs those crucial business insights and Left Brain, Right Stuff Phil Rosenzweig,2014-01-07 Left Brain Right Stuff takes up where other books about decision making leave off For many routine choices from shopping to investing we can make good decisions simply by avoiding common errors such as searching only for confirming information or avoiding the hindsight bias But as Phil Rosenzweig shows for many of the most important more complex situations we face in business sports politics and more a different way of thinking is required Leaders must possess the ability to shape opinions inspire followers manage risk and outmaneuver and outperform rivals Making winning decisions calls for a combination of skills clear analysis and calculation left brain as well as the willingness to push boundaries and take bold action right stuff Of course leaders need to understand the dynamics of competition to anticipate rival moves to draw on the power of statistical analysis and to be aware of common decision errors all features of left brain thinking But to achieve the unprecedented in real world situations much more is needed Leaders also need the right stuff In business they have to devise plans and inspire followers for successful execution in politics they must mobilize popular support for a chosen program in the military commanders need to commit to a battle strategy and lead their troops and in start ups entrepreneurs must manage risk when success is uncertain In every case success calls for action as well as analysis and for courage as well as calculation Always entertaining often surprising and immensely practical Left Brain Right Stuff draws on a wealth of examples in order to propose a new paradigm for decision making in synch with the way we have to operate in the real world Rosenzweig's smart and perceptive analysis of research provides fresh and often surprising insights on topics such as confidence and overconfidence the uses and limits of decision models the illusion of control expert performance and deliberate practice competitive bidding and new venture management and the true nature of leadership

Becoming Steve Jobs Brent Schlender, Rick Tetzeli, 2015-03-24. The 1 New York Times bestselling biography of how Steve Jobs became the most visionary CEO in history. Becoming Steve Jobs breaks down the conventional one-dimensional view of Steve Jobs that he was half genius, half jerk from youth, an irascible and selfish leader who slighted friends and family alike. Becoming Steve Jobs answers the central question about the life and career of the Apple cofounder and CEO: How did a young man so reckless and arrogant that he was exiled from the company he founded become the most effective visionary business leader of our time, ultimately transforming the daily life of billions of people? Drawing on incredible and sometimes exclusive access, Schlender and Tetzeli tell a different story of a real human being who wrestled with his failings and learned to maximize his strengths over time. Their rich, compelling narrative is filled with stories never told before from the people who knew Jobs best, including his family, former inner circle executives, and top people at Apple, Pixar, and Disney, most notably Tim Cook, Jony Ive, Eddy Cue, Ed Catmull, John Lasseter, Robert Iger, and many others. In addition, Schlender knew Jobs personally for 25 years and draws upon his many interviews with him on and off the record in writing the book. He and Tetzeli humanize the man and explain rather than simply describe his behavior. Along the way, the book provides rich context about the technology revolution we've all lived through and the ways in which Jobs changed our world. A rich and revealing account. Becoming Steve Jobs shows us how one of the most colorful and compelling figures of our times was able to combine his unchanging, relentless passion with an evolution in management style to create one of the most valuable and beloved companies on the planet.
