Four Letters on the English Constitution George Dyer, 1817 A Letter Addressed to the Rev. T.S. Hughes, Occasioned by the Perusal of the "Address to the People of England in the Cause of the Greeks." Edmund Henry Barker, 1823
Burke: Four letters on the proposals for peace with the regicide Directory of France. New ed. 1926 Edmund Burke, 1878 Burke, Select Works: Four letters on the proposals for peace with the regicide Directory of France. 2d ed., 1878 Edmund Burke, 1878 Is the Supreme Court the Guardian of the Constitution? Robert A. Licht, 1993 This book examines the controversy surrounding the conventional wisdom that the Court is the guardian of the Constitution and the ultimate defender of our liberties Gentleman's Magazine and Historical Review, 1813 The Gentleman's Magazine, 1813 The Gentleman's Magazine: Or, Monthly Intelligencer Edward Cave, 1813 The Privileges of the University of Cambridge George Dyer, 1824 Essential Readings in Canadian Constitutional Politics Peter H. Russell, Christian Leuprecht, 2011-01-01 Essential Readings in Canadian Constitutional Politics introduces students scholars and practitioners to classic authors and writings on the principles of the Canadian Constitution as well as to select contemporary material To complement rather than duplicate the state of the field it deals with the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and with Canadian mega constitutional politics in passing only focusing instead on institutions federalism intergovernmental relations bilingualism and binationalism the judiciary minority rights and constitutional renewal Many of the selections reverberate well beyond Canada's borders making this volume an unrivalled resource for anyone interested in constitutional governance and democratic politics in diverse societies Between Authority and Liberty Marc W. Kruman, 2014-03-24 In a major reinterpretation of American political thought in the revolutionary era Marc Kruman explores the process of constitution making in each of the thirteen original states and shows that the framers created a distinctively American science of politics well before the end of the Confederation era Suspicious of all government power state constitution makers greatly feared arbitrary power and mistrusted legislators ability to represent the people's interests For these reasons they broadened the suffrage and introduced frequent elections as a check against legislative self interest This analysis challenges Gordon Wood's now classic argument that at the beginning of the Revolution the founders placed great faith in legislators as representatives of the people According to Kruman revolutionaries entrusted state constitution making only to members of temporary provincial congresses or constitutional conventions whose task it was to restrict legislative power At the same time Americans maintained a belief in the existence of a public good that legislators and magistrates when properly curbed by one another and by a politically active citizenry might pursue A letter addressed to ... T.S. Hughes, occasioned by the perusal of the Address to the people of England in the cause of the Greeks Edmund Henry Barker, 1823 Burke, Paine, and the Rights of Man R. R. Fennessy, 2012-12-06 At the present day when there is renewed interest in the concept of human rights and in the application of this concept to the problems of government it may be instructive to review an eighteenth century dispute which was concerned precisely with these themes Nor should the investigation be any less interesting because the disputants were Edmund Burke and Thomas Paine both these men have also been the object of renewed attention and study in recent years Critical work on the biography and bibliography of Paine is being done by Professor Aldridge and Col Richard Gimbel respectively 2 while Burke is being well looked after not only by the able team of experts who under the leadership of Professor Copeland are engaged in producing the critical edition of his Correspondence but also by such individual scholars as D C Bryant C B Cone T H D Mahoney 3 P J Stanlis C Parkin F Canavan and A Cobban But though Burke and Paine are being studied separately little work appears to have been done on the relationship between them apart from an 4 essay by Professor Copeland published more than twelve years ago It is hoped that the present study while it does not claim to add anything to the facts about Burke and Paine already known to his 1 See Nehemiah Robinson The Universal Declaration of Human Rights

The UK Constitution after Miller Mark Elliott, Jack Williams, Alison L Young, 2018-07-26 The judgment of the UK Supreme Court in R Miller v Secretary of State for Exiting the European Union is of fundamental legal constitutional and political significance The Supreme Court's judgment discussed the relative powers of Parliament and the Government the relationship between Westminster and the devolved legislatures and the extent to which the UK's membership of the EU had changed the UK constitution both prior to and even after departure It also provided further evidence of the emerging role of the UK's Supreme Court as a constitutional court despite the lack of a codified constitution in the UK This edited collection critically evaluates the decision in Miller providing a detailed analysis of the reasoning in the judgment and its longer term consequences for the UK constitution through the period of Brexit and beyond The case is used as a lens through which to evaluate the modern UK constitution and its potential future evolution Whatever form Brexit may eventually take the impact that EU membership and the triggering of Brexit has already had on the UK's constitutional settlement is profound The book will be of great value to anyone interested in the effect of the Miller case and Brexit on the UK's constitution
