Framing Post Cold War Conflicts The Media And International Intervention:

Framing post-Cold War conflicts Philip Hammond, 2018-07-30 Since the end of the Cold War there have been many competing ideas about how to explain contemporary conflicts and about how the West should respond to them This study examines how the media interpret conflicts and international interventions testing the sometimes contradictory claims that have been made about recent coverage of war Framing post Cold War conflicts takes a comparative approach examining UK press coverage across six different crises Through detailed analysis of news content it seeks to identify the dominant themes in explaining the post Cold War international order and to discover how far the patterns established prior to 11 September 2001 have subsequently changed Based on extensive original research the book includes case studies of two humanitarian military interventions in Somalia and Kosovo two instances where Western governments were condemned for not intervening enough Bosnia and Rwanda and the post 9 11 interventions in Afghanistan and Iraq

Managing Military Organizations Joseph Soeters, Paul C. van Fenema, Robert Beeres, 2010-02-02 This book deals with the processes and theories involved in managing military organisations in both peacetime and crisis conditions Examining the challenges faced by policymakers and military commanders in conducting military operations this book considers the benefits of conventional management and organisation theory for the military At the same time these essays recognise that the military should be considered as a highly individual organisation operating in exceptional circumstances This awareness of the differences between the military and other organisations generates important lessons not only for the military but also for general organisations as it teaches them how to cope in exceptional hyper conditions These theoretical lessons are illustrated by case studies and experiences from recent military operations such as those in Iraq and Afghanistan This book will be of great interest to students of military studies security studies and organizational studies Joseph Soeters chairs the department of management and organization studies and defence economy at the Netherlands Defense Academy and he is a professor in organizational sociology at Tilburg University Paul C van Fenema is an associate professor of organization studies at the Netherlands Defence Academy and Tilburg University Robert Beeres is an associate professor in the field of defence accounting and control business administration at the Netherlands Defence Academy and at Nyenrode Business School

Coalition of the unWilling and unAble John R Deni, 2021-01-12 Why does the United States need European allies and why is it getting more difficult for those allies to partner with Washington in standing up to China pushing back against Russia and pursuing other common interests around the world This book addresses the economic demographic political and military trends that are fundamentally upending the ability and willingness of European allies to work with Washington Brexit and its impact on Britain s economy and its military Germany s seemingly relentless economic and political rise France s continuing economic malaise Italy s aging population and its withdrawal from major overseas operations and Poland s demographic decline and single minded obsession with Russia will combine to make partnership with Washington nearly impossible In short the constellation of allies and partners the United States has relied on since 9 11 will look very different a decade from now How should Washington respond It doesn t hold all the cards but this book offers an array of practical recommendations for American leaders By leveraging these proposals U S policy makers can avoid the worst case scenarios and make the most of limited opportunities The Propaganda Model Today Joan Pedro-Carañana, Daniel Broudy, Jeffery Klaehn, 2018-10-25 While the individual elements of the propaganda system or filters identified by the Propaganda Model PM ownership advertising sources flak and anti communism have previously been the focus of much scholarly attention their systematisation in a model empirical corroboration and historicisation have made the PM a useful tool for media analysis across cultural and geographical boundaries Despite the wealth of scholarly research Herman and Chomsky s work has set into motion over the past decades the PM has been subjected to marginalisation poorly informed critiques and misrepresentations Interestingly while the PM enables researchers to form discerning predictions as regards corporate humanitarian crises Conflict and Development Roger Mac Ginty, Andrew Williams, 2009-03-24 Over the past decade a new awareness of the relationship between conflicts and development has grown Developmental factors can act as a trigger for violence as well as for ending violence and for triggering post conflict reconstruction This book explores the complexity of the links between violent conflict usually civil wars and development under development and uneven development It emphasizes the connections between stable developed economies and civil wars in other parts of the world and examines how structural factors such as the organization of the global economy virtually condemn some regions to conflict and under development This valuable introductory text explains reviews and critically evaluates this complex relationship It focuses on intra state conflicts and complex political emergencies that combine transnational and internal characteristics Attention is also given to inter state conflicts Chapters emphasize how the relationship between conflict and development traverses many scales macro meso and micro and dimensions economic political and cultural Furthermore it explains how different developmental challenges and opportunities emerge along the full life cycle of conflict Specifically the role of poverty state market civil society globalization humanitarian aid refugees gender and health within conflict dynamics are examined The book also investigates specific developmental issues emerging during conflict management and post conflict reconstruction Both authors have a background in conducting research in deeply divided societies and argue that many of the processes connected with war and peace making deliberately write people out of the equation This book attempts to write people in By drawing on contemporary theoretical debates and examining current policies and events the text unpacks the difficult and complex aspects of the relationships between armed conflict and development and makes them accessible interesting and policy relevant It considers how peace making peace building and post war reconstruction are usually more sustainable and successful if politicians policy makers entrepreneurs and those working for international NGOs take on board local opinion and capacity Written in an accessible style the book considers the main contemporary theories and arguments on conflict development and the interactions between the two The text is illuminated throughout with case studies drawn from Africa the Balkans Asia and the Middle East The Routledge Companion to British Media History Martin Conboy, John Steel, 2014-09-15 The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides a comprehensive exploration of how different media have evolved within social regional and national contexts The 50 chapters in this volume written by an outstanding team of internationally respected scholars bring together current debates and issues within media history in this era of rapid change and also provide students and researchers with an essential collection of comparable media histories The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides an essential guide to key ideas issues concepts and debates in the field Chapter 40 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license https://www.routledgehandbooks.com/doi/10.4324/9781315756202_ch40 Inside War Fabio Armao, 2016-02-22 The post Cold War era was characterised by both the recurrence of state wars and the spread of forms of organised violence other than wars Asymmetric warfare between alliances led by the USA and groups of insurgents such as those witnessed in Afghanistan and Iraq coexist alongside domestic conflicts such as that of former Yugoslavia and more recently Libya and Syria and still other conflicts involving gangs mafias or narco traffickers The massive military industrial complexes conceived in the context of the threat of nuclear Armageddon are still there of course but they now coexist with irregular armies of insurgents carrying out massacres through the use of light weapons and improvised explosives devices This book oppose the idea that this situation prefigures the return to an anarchical pre political condition by assuming that new wars are rather the product of the blurring of the public private divide induced by the end of the Cold War together with globalisation As a consequence also the internal and external factors are blurred and ever more permeable and elusive is becoming even the border between war and crime Inside War goes beyond a state centered analysis and adopts an interdisciplinary and multilayered approach and is intended to foster the dialogue among researchers from different fields It places war at the core of analysis assuming that the reality of war is what we make of it and that the only insurmountable limit to our comprehension of war is our way of knowing and representing it Fabio Armao teaches courses in Politics and Globalisation Processes and Criminal Systems He has been Visiting Professor at Cornell University and co convenor of the Standing Group on Organized Crime European Consortium for Political Research Founding member of T wai Torino World Affair Institute he is also member of the Editorial Board of Global Crime His research interests and publications focus on international wars and geopolitics on violent non state actors and transnational organised crime and on urban security

War Reporting and Justice Slavko Gajevic, 2019-03-21 This book explores how journalists understand and interpret justice in their coverage of wars Its deep analysis of war reporting offers a new understanding of modern multicultural societies in times of conflict In particular it explores how the Yugoslav conflicts of the 1990s gave birth to the modern notion of the transnational community The text provides new theoretical concepts in order to better understand media work during times of war and offers new definitions of conflict and the transnational community as an authority of normative criteria for justice Furthermore it details a new model for the analysis of media texts with step by step guidelines and examples that will be very useful for media educators journalism teachers and students of journalism The book s novel approach to understanding justice during a times of conflict will also be valuable for journalists who cover armed conflicts

Pockets of resistance Piers Robinson, Peter Goddard, Katy Parry, Craig Murray, 2013-01-18 For scholars of media and war the 2003 invasion of Iraq is a compelling case to study As part of President Bush s war on terror the invasion was the most controversial British foreign policy decision since Suez and its ramifications and aftermath have rarely been far from the news In the many political and public debates regarding this conflict arguments over the role of the media have been omnipresent For some media coverage was biased against the war for others it became a cheerleader for the invasion Where does the truth lie Drawing upon a uniquely detailed and rich content and framing analysis of television and press coverage and on interviews with some of the journalists involved Pockets of Resistance provides an authoritative assessment of how British news media reported the 2003 Iraq invasion and also of the theoretical implications of this case for our understanding of wartime media state relations Pockets of Resistance examines the successes and failures of British television news as it sought to attain independence under the difficult circumstances of war and describes and explains the emergence of some surprisingly vociferous anti war voices within a diverse national press Political Public Relations Jesper

Stromback, Spiro Kioussis, 2011-05-18 Political Public Relations maps and defines this emerging field bringing together scholars from various disciplines political communication public relations and political science to explore the area in detail The volume connects differing schools of thought bringing together theoretical and empirical investigations and defines a field that is becoming increasingly important and prominent It offers an international orientation as the field of political public relations must be studied in the context of various political and communication systems to be fully understood As a singular contribution to scholarship in public relations and political communication this work fills a significant gap in the existing literature and is certain to influence future theory and research The Yugoslav Wars of the 1990s Catherine Baker, 2015-07-30 Catherine Baker offers an up to date balanced and concise introductory account of the Yugoslav wars of the 1990s and their aftermath The volume incorporates the latest research showing how the state of the field has evolved and guides students through the existing literature topics and debates
