Women, Gender, and Technosciences, 1900-2020 Grégory Dufaud, Isabelle Lémonon-Waxin, 2025-04-03 This innovative volume analyzes the historical entanglement of gender technosciences and government governance. Situated at the crossroad of women and gender studies, science and technology studies, and political sociology, this volume shows the ever accumulating gendered mechanisms that have determined the careers of scientific women and their access to power positions. It underlines on different scales from the lab to international organizations or states how the masculine culture of technoscientific practices has assigned women to subaltern institutional positions while social practices of legitimization and recognition ended up granting some women access to leadership positions outside of institutions. With a broad geographic, political and disciplinary scope, the contributors draw on a variety of new sources including interviews, private collections and archives to examine the institutions, structures and policies that shaped the technosciences as well as the individuals who developed practices and environments that gained agency for themselves and their contemporaries. This book will be of interest to students and scholars alike interested in women and gender studies, political studies, STS history and sociology of science and technology.

Monarch of the Flute Nancy Toff, 2005-08-18 Georges Barré 1876-1944 holds a preeminent place in the history of American flute playing. Best known for two of the landmark works that were written for him, the Poem of Charles Tomlinson Griffes and Density 21.5 by Edgard Varèse, he was the most prominent early exemplar of the Paris Conservatoire tradition in the United States and set a new standard for American woodwind performance. Barré's story is a musical tale of two cities and this book uses his life as a window onto musical life in Belle Epoque Paris and twentieth century New York. Recurrent themes are the interactions of composers and performers, the promotion of new music, the management personnel and repertoire of symphony orchestras, the economic and social status of the orchestral and solo musician, including the increasing power of musicians' unions, the role of patronage, particularly women patrons, and the growth of chamber music as a professional performance medium. A student of Paul Taffanel at the Paris Conservatoire by age eighteen, Barré played in the premiere of Debussy's Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun. He went on to become solo flutist of the Concerts Colonne and to found the Société Moderne d'Instruments Vent, a pioneering woodwind ensemble that premiered sixty-one works by forty composers in its first ten years. Invited by Walter Damrosch to become principal flute of the New York Symphony in 1905, he founded the woodwind department at the Institute of Musical Art (later Juilliard). His many ensembles toured the United States, building new audiences for chamber music and promoting French repertoire as well as new American music. Toff narrates Barré's relationships with the finest musicians and artists of his day, among them Isadora Duncan, Yvette Guilbert, André Caplet, Paul Hindemith, Albert Roussel, Wallingford Riegger, and Henry Brant. The appendices of the book, which list Barré's 170 premieres and the 50 works dedicated to him, are a resource for a new generation of performers. Based on extensive archival research and oral histories in both France and the United States, this is the first
