Mattes, Christoph Novak, 2019-04-15 What is it like to be young and religious in migration society This volume presents research at the intersection of religion age and race The chapters foci range from methodological challenges to conceptual work and empirical case studies The authors present research on various religious traditions including contributions on young Alevis Hindus Buddhists and Muslims and apply an array of theoretical angles among them feminist post and de colonial perspectives Furthermore the volume engages in the debate over novel conceptual frameworks attuned to investigate contemporary manifestations of youth religiosity for example in digital spaces The methodological chapters advocate for reflexivity in the context of empirical research on religion in migration society and promote a self evaluative assessment of researchers positionalities Completing a Professional Practice Dissertation Jerry W. Willis, Ron

Valenti, Deborah Inman, 2010-06-01 A growing number of both established and newly developed doctoral programs are focusing on the preparation of practitioners rather than career researchers Professional doctorates such as the Doctor of Nursing Practice DNP Doctor of Education EdD Doctor of Pharmacy PharmD Doctor of Professional Studies DProf or DPS and the Doctor of Psychology PsyD are in fact just a few of the professional doctorates being offered today Professional doctorates are the fastest growing segment of doctoral education The nature of the dissertation and the process of completing a dissertation can be quite different in a professional practice doctoral program but there are few resources for both students and faculty involved in completing and mentoring such dissertations This book was written specifically for students and faculty involved in professional practice dissertation work It addresses both the tasks and procedures that professional practice dissertations have in common with dissertations in research doctoral programs as well as the tasks and issues that are more common in professional practice doctoral programs For example negotiating entry into applied settings and securing the cooperation of practicing professionals is covered as are alternative models for the dissertation e g the three article dissertation or TAD The book also covers tasks such as getting IRB approval for applied dissertation research conducted in the field and how to propose and carry out studies based on applied and professional models of research This book written by three experienced mentors of professional practice dissertation students is the comprehensive guide for both students and faculty Qualitative Research Methods in Education and Educational Technology Jerry Willis, 2008

Qualitative Research Methods in Education and Educational Technology was written for students and scholars interested in exploring the many qualitative methods developed over the last 50 years in the social sciences The book does not stop however at the boundaries of the social sciences Social scientists now consume and use research methods from many fields The rich resources of research methods and theories from both the humanities and philosophy are also covered in this book It explains why postpositivist quantitative research should not be the only game in town and provides solid theoretical foundations beginning with the positions of Plato and Aristotle for broadening our horizons about what warrants our attention Using Aristotle s concept of phronesis the author shows why methods such as narrative research and storytelling hermeneutic inquiry literary theory philosophical inquiry and much more have important applications in education and educational technology On those foundations the author also builds a framework for doing many types of research from participatory action research to content analysis to postmodern case studies to empowerment research and philosophical inquiry He accomplishes this through a combination of original text summaries of exemplary research in education and educational technology and suggested readings that are annotated and introduced at the end of each chapter Many of these readings are available online and they extend the discussion of research methods or serve as exemplars of a particular type of educational technology research There are open ended and conceptual questions for each reading and developing your own answers to them is one way you can extend your depth of understanding about qualitative research methods in education and educational technology
