Law and Technology Nanci K. Carr,2024-09-26 Technology is an important part of our everyday lives Whether we ask Alexa to start the coffee machine or check our phones for the traffic report we increasingly interact with technology As much as we may enjoy and rely upon technology it is not without its challenges including the inability of the law to keep pace with technological developments and the ethical issues that arise For example tort law is impacted by technology the proliferation of drones requires a new look at the law of trespass and video Zoom meetings can impose direct liability on employers for example Social media supports an increasing share of all advertising and endorsements and is subject to regulation of which influencers are often not aware Global advertising expenditures on various internet and social media platforms also drives the need for a change in right of publicity law In the United States the right of publicity is governed by state rather than federal law so there is no uniform approach One part of the book includes a survey of the law of each US state and proposes a new federal statute Although most of the examples are drawn from the US the issues raised are fully international in scope and relevance This book will appeal to legal practitioners trying to manage new technology issues facing their clients academics teaching students how the law is changing and needs to continue to change as technology develops and teachers and researchers in business and management schools needing to address technology and governance issues

Fixing Law Schools Benjamin H. Barton,2019-12-17 An urgent plea for much needed reforms to legal education The period from 2008 to 2018 was a lost decade for American law schools Employment results were terrible Applications and enrollment cratered Revenue dropped precipitously and several law schools closed Almost all law schools shrank in terms of students faculty and staff A handful of schools even closed Despite these dismal results law school tuition outran inflation and student indebtedness exploded creating a truly toxic brew of higher costs for worse results The election of Donald Trump in 2016 and the subsequent role of hero lawyers in the resistance has made law school relevant again and applications have increased However despite the strong early returns we still have no idea whether law schools are out of the woods or not If the Trump Bump is temporary or does not result in steady enrollment increases more schools will close But if it does last we face another danger We tend to hope that crises bring about a process of creative destruction where a downturn causes some businesses to fail and other businesses to adapt And some of the reforms needed at law schools are obvious tuition fees need to come down teaching practices need to change there should be greater regulations on law schools that fail to deliver on employment and bar passage Ironically the opposite has happened for law schools they suffered a harrowing near death experience and the survivors look like they re going to exhale gratefully and then go back to doing exactly what led them into the crisis in the first place The urgency of this book is to convince law school stakeholders faculty students applicants graduates and regulators not to just return to business as usual if the Trump Bump proves to be

 Lois annotées ,1853 Menstruation Matters Bridget J. Crawford,Emily Gold Waldman,2024-10 Explores the burgeoning menstrual advocacy movement and analyzes how law should evolve to take menstruation into account Approximately half the population menstruates for a large portion of their lives but the law is mostly silent about the topic Until recently most people would have said that periods are private matters not to be discussed in public But the last few years have seen a new willingness among advocates and allies of all ages to speak openly about periods Slowly around the globe people are recognizing the basic fundamental human right to address menstruation in a safe and affordable way free of stigma shame or barriers to access Menstruation Matters explores the role of law in this movement It asks what the law currently says about menstruation spoiler alert not much and provides a roadmap for legal reform that can move society closer to a world where no one is held back or disadvantaged by menstruation Bridget J Crawford and Emily Gold Waldman examine these issues in a wide range of contexts from schools to workplaces to prisons to tax policies and more Ultimately they seek to transform both law and society so that menstruation is no longer an obstacle to full participation in all aspects of public and private life Current Law ,1907 Jurisprudence du XIXe siècle, ou Table générale : alphabétique et chronologique du Recueil général des lois et des arrêts ,1853 Learning Digital Identity Phillip J.
