Celibacy A Way Of Loving Living And Serving:

Celibacy A. W. Richard Sipe, 1996      Impressively Free Higgins, Michael W., Burns, Kevin, 2019 Explores the genesis and evolution of Nouwen's multi-layered understanding of priestly ministry      Strangers to the City Michael Casey, 2013-09-01 Michael Casey a monk and scholar who has been publishing his wise teachings on the Rule of St Benedict for decades turns to the particular Benedictine values that he considers most urgent for Christians to incorporate into their lives today Eloquent and incisive Casey invites readers to accept that gospel living seen in the light of the Rule involves accepting the challenge of being different from the secular culture around us He encourages readers to set clear goals and objectives to be honest about the practical ways in which priorities may have to change to meet these goals and to have the courage to implement these changes both daily and for the future Casey presents thoughtful reflections on the beliefs and values of asceticism silence leisure reading chastity and poverty putting these traditional Benedictine values into the context of modern life and the spiritual aspirations of people today Strangers to the City is a book for all who are interested in learning more about the dynamics of spiritual growth from the monastic experience      Coenobium Michael Casey, OSCO, 2021-10-15 After sixty years of living in a Cistercian community Michael Casey combines his down to earth observations about the joys and challenges of living in community with an appreciation of the deeper meanings of cenobitic life taking into account the changes in both theory and practice that have occurred in his lifetime He invites his readers especially monks and nuns to reflect on their own experiences of community as a means of seeing a path forward into the future Many of the key components of monastic community have kept the same names for more than a millennium In an age of paradigm shift Michael Casey invites readers to examine these essential practices of community life and to ask how they might be envisioned in a way that speaks to our contemporaries      Courage at Three AM A.W. Richard Sipe, 2017-08-17 Who among us is ready to face death with eyes and heart completely open Who among us is ready to account for all that we have said and done for all our battles lost and won Who among would have the courage to pause at the very fulcrum of life and death and carefully consider whether it is time to lay down one's shield and fall upon one's sword or pray for Galahad's strength of ten and fight again In these poems of hope reflection and spirituality Richard Sipe endures a dark night of the soul and lingers there daring darkness to overwhelm him and spare him yet another battle while trying to believe in one more dawn What fool can stand wrestle the demons from the deep and hope to live survive un-mutilated he complains But the answer is Sipe himself as he recalls the dream childhood a dance with the devil and a path to the divine through sensuality and the ceaseless tests of maturity Summoning the courage to stand at his own graveside he reviews his scars his imperfections and his faults with uncommon candor concluding Truth alone will honor what I've been or done MICHAEL REZENDES Pulitzer Prize Winning Investigative Writer The Boston Globe A W Richard Sipe mentor and champion for victims of clergy sexual abuse records here as he did in his prior volume I Confess his wrestling with personal demons and angels ones that occur behind the veil of the man we all see Courage at Three AM says simply I am human a man I have lived life's paradoxes its arrows of broken integrity and its abuses of soul and meaning which over time demand a hearing by haunting the 3AMs of our waking dreams Like Judas we all face the challenge of transformation resolution and reintegration of our paradoxical parts The courage needed to dance with the 3AM muses is the same required for the realization and acceptance that we need someone to tell us one more time that we are loved and were born to be loved not abused forgotten or caste aside Courage at Three AM teaches us that our scars of inner conflict are not to be feared covered up lied about or air brushed away Rather our collective and individual scars need to be embraced because they are our own essential life marks that identify who we are collectively and individually STEPHEN de WEGER Queensland University of Technology Brisbane Australia

Veiled Desires Maureen Sabine, 2013-08-22 Ingrid Bergman's engaging screen performance as Sister Mary Benedict in The Bells of St Mary's made the film nun a star and her character a shining standard of comparison She represented the religious life as the happy and rewarding choice of a modern woman who had a complete understanding of both erotic and spiritual desire How did this vibrant and mature nun figure come to be viewed as girlish and naïve Why have she and her cinematic sisters in postwar popular film so often been stereotyped or selectively analyzed so seldom been seen as women and religious In Veiled Desires a unique full length in depth look at nuns in film Maureen Sabine explores these questions in a groundbreaking interdisciplinary study covering more than sixty years of cinema She looks at an impressive breadth of films in which the nun features as an ardent lead character including The Bells of St Mary's 1945 Black Narcissus 1947 Heaven Knows Mr Allison 1957 Sea Wife 1957 The Nun's Story 1959 The Sound of Music 1965 Change of Habit 1969 In This House of Brede 1975 Agnes of God 1985 Dead Man Walking 1995 and Doubt 2008 Veiled Desires considers how the beautiful and charismatic stars who play chaste nuns from Ingrid Bergman and Audrey Hepburn to Susan Sarandon and Meryl Streep call attention to desires that the veil concealed and the habit was thought to stifle In a theologically and psychoanalytically informed argument Sabine responds to the critics who have pigeonholed the film nun as the obedient daughter and religious handmaiden of a patriarchal church and the respectful audience who revered her as an icon of spiritual perfection Sabine provides a framework for a more complex and holistic picture of nuns onscreen by showing how the films dramatize these women's Christian call to serve sacrifice and dedicate themselves to God and their erotic desire for intimacy agency achievement and fulfillment

Theological Anthropology of Self-Realization Jennifer Slater O.P., 2012-07-31 The book addresses the intriguing problem of human self realization precisely because of the diverse uses of the term which ranges from abstract philosophical theological theories to practical psychological spiritual applications Jennifer Slater draws the concept from Karl Rahner the twentieth German theologian who uses the term self realization in his theology on freedom and symbolism relating it to the basic free choice which the human person makes to be for or against God Divine Jennifer Slater explores this fundamental free choice which is at the same time a basic choice about oneself She writes from the understanding that the human person is radically free to become the choices she or he makes and freedom is the capacity for definitive self realization In the book she shows that in the exercising of freedom humans precisely as historical beings are also transcendent beings Jennifer grapples with the perception that since human self realization involves the power to make decisions which in reality actualizes a persons own reality how then does this self realization come about and where does the Divine fit into the process If self realization is related to the human self and to the Divine Self she then questions what constitutes the self and self realization This struggle practically employs the woman in general and in particular the woman consecrated to a vowed life The pervasive question throughout is What constitutes the self realization of a human woman being

Human Sexuality in the Catholic Tradition Kieran Scott, Harold Daly Horell, 2007 Contemporary culture provides conflicting and confusing messages about the meaning and purpose of human sexuality and often sex education that is offered often does not promote a mature integrated understanding of sexuality Human Sexuality in the Catholic Tradition meets the great need for pastoral guidance in addressing moral issues of sexuality in both the Church and broader culture today Kieran Scott and Harold Horell explore with other leading scholars how to draw from the best Christian faith traditions to renew our understanding of sexuality explore the integration of our sexuality and our spirituality and develop life affirming and life sustaining ways of approaching contemporary sexual issues This book explores sexuality from spiritual psychological moral and ministerial perspectives and addresses specific issues such as sex and marriage celibacy homosexuality and cohabitation Child Sexual Abuse and the Catholic Church Marie Keenan, 2013-04-01 A meticulously researched inside look at child sexual abuse by clergy this exhaustive hard hitting analysis weaves together interviews with abusive priests and church historical and administrative details to propose a new way of thinking about clerical sexual offenders Linking the personal and the institutional researcher and therapist Marie Keenan locates the problem of child sexual abuse not exclusively in individual pathology but also within larger systemic factors such as the very institution of priesthood itself the Catholic take on sexuality clerical culture power relations governance structures of the Catholic Church the process of formation for priesthood and religious life and the complex manner in which these factors coalesce to create serious institutional risks for boundary violations including child sexual abuse Keenan draws on the priests own words not to excuse their horrific crimes but to offer the first in depth account of a tragic multi faceted phenomenon What emerges is a troubling portrait of a Church in crisis and a series of recommendations that call for nothing less than a new ecclesiology and a new more critical theology Only through radical institutional reform Keenan argues can a more representative and accountable Church emerge Child Sexual Abuse and the Catholic Church is a unique reference for scholars of the Church and therapists who work with both victims and offenders as well as a forward thinking blueprint for reform Bless Me Father for I Have Sinned Thomas G. Plante Ph.D., 1999-09-30 A tremendous amount of media attention has been devoted to revealing sexual abuse perpetrated by Roman Catholic priests These essays outline a clinical and research agenda for professionals dealing with clergy sexual abuse They should enable research clinical professionals and clergy to identify the relevant issues in the identification diagnosis treatment and prevention of child and adolescent sexual abuse committed by Roman Catholic priests Leading experts in the field from the United States and Canada have offered their different perspectives on this compelling problem including victim profiles for determining who is at risk Towards a New Catholic Church in Advanced Modernity Staf Helleman, Jozef Wissink, 2012 A new Catholic Church is emerging in the West one that is very different from the Church before 1960 This book describes the new Church in the making its new position in society its new structuring and workings and its new frame of mind The book also looks in a prospective way at some basic issues the Church has to deal with such as imagining the Church in advanced modernity attracting both youth and adults rebuilding local communities refashioning liturgy and rethinking pastoral guidance The book is the result of an interdisciplinary endeavor by philosophers sociologists and theologians Series Tilburg Theological Studies Tilburger Theologische Studien Vol 5 In the name of God Christine
