[COMPANY NAME] DRESS CODE POLICY

Policy Overview:

The [company name] cell phone policy offers general guidelines for using personal and company cell phones during work hours.

The purpose of this policy is to help us all get the most out of the advantages cell phones offer our company while minimizing distractions, accidents, and frustrations improper cell phone use can cause.

This policy applies to all [company name] employees.

Cell Phone Use Guidelines:

The following are [company name]'s basic guidelines for proper employee cell phone use during work hours. In general, cell phones should not be used when they could pose a security or safety risk, or when they distract from work tasks.

- Never use a cell phone while driving.
- Never use a cell phone while operating equipment.
- Do not use cell phones for surfing the internet or gaming during work hours.
- Avoid using work cell phones for personal tasks.
- Avoid using personal cell phones for work tasks.
- Do not use cell phones during meetings.
- Do not use cell phones to record confidential information.

We realize the cell phones can be great tools for our employees. We encourage employees to use cell phones when:

- For making or receiving work calls in the appropriate place and situation to do so.
- For other work-related communication, such as text messaging or emailing, in appropriate places and situations.
- To schedule and keep track of appointments.
- To carry out work-related research.
- To keep track of work tasks.
- To keep track of work contacts.

Disciplinary Action:

Improper use of cell phones may result in disciplinary action. Continued use of cell phones at inappropriate times or in ways that distract from work may lead to having cell phone privileges revoked.

Cell phone usage for illegal or dangerous activity, for purposes of harassment, or in ways that violate the company confidentiality policy may result in employee.

Guidance to Promote Family Rules and Workplace Policies to Reduce Cell Phone Use While Driving and Promote Engaged Driving Jay Otto,2021 Distracted driving is a significant contributing factor to motor vehicle crashes Cultural based strategies seek to change the behaviors of individuals by connecting their social identity to nested layers of relationships Relationships between family members or between supervisors and employees provide opportunities to reduce distracted driving This project conducted surveys among parents with teens who were driving and supervisors who supervised employees who drove for work to better understand their beliefs about distracted driving and about establishing or clarifying expectations and rules about distracted driving Regression models indicated that attitudes perceived injunctive and descriptive norms and perceived control were significant predictors of distracted driving behaviors by parents Many parents indicated they had family rules about not having hand held cell phone conversations or texting while driving far fewer parents indicated they had rules about not having hands free cell phone conversations not adjusting vehicle equipment or not reaching for objects while driving Regression models indicated that behavioral beliefs perceived descriptive norms and perceived control were significant predictors of parenting behaviors to reduce distracted driving among their teens Similar patterns were found among supervisors in workplaces with employees who drive for work The results of these surveys informed the development of conversation guides for parents and supervisors to decrease distracted driving and increase engaged driving
