Making Home(s) in Displacement Luce Beeckmans,Alessandra Gola,Ashika Singh,Hilde Heynen,2022-01-17 Making Home s in Displacement critically rethinks the relationship between home and displacement from a spatial material and architectural perspective Recent scholarship in the social sciences has investigated how migrants and refugees create and reproduce home under new conditions thereby unpacking the seemingly contradictory positions of making a home and overcoming its loss Yet making home s in displacement is also a spatial practice one which intrinsically relates to the fabrication of the built environment worldwide Conceptually the book is divided along four spatial sites referred to as camp shelter city and house which are approached with a multitude of perspectives ranging from urban planning and architecture to anthropology geography philosophy gender studies and urban history all with a common focus on space and spatiality By articulating everyday homemaking experiences of migrants and refugees as spatial practices in a variety of geopolitical and historical contexts this edited volume adds a novel perspective to the existing interdisciplinary scholarship at the intersection of home and displacement It equally intends to broaden the canon of architectural histories and theories by including migrants and refugees spatial agencies and place making practices to its annals By highlighting the political in the spatial and vice versa this volume sets out to decentralise and decolonise current definitions of home and displacement striving for a more pluralistic outlook on the idea of home

To be at Home James Williams, Felicitas Hentschke, 2018-09-24 Houses and homes are dynamic spaces within which people work to organize and secure their lives livelihoods and relationships Written by a team of renowned historians and anthropologists and accompanied by original photography by Maurice Weiss To Be at Home House Work and Self in the Modern World compares the ways people in different societies and historical periods strive to make and keep houses and homes under conditions of change upheaval displacement impoverishment and violence These conditions speak to the challenges of life in our modern world The contributors of this volume position the home as a new nodal point between work the self and the world to explore people s creativity agency and labour Houses and homes prove complex and powerful concepts if also often elusive invoking places persons objects emotions values attachments and fantasies This book demonstrates how the relations between houses work and the self have transformed dramatically and unpredictably under conditions of capitalism and modernity and continue to change today
