Special Education During the Pandemic Festus E. Obiakor, Tachelle Banks, Anthony F. Rotatori, 2024-06-01 The COVID 19 pandemic triggered and continues to trigger many changes in K 12 education some major like learning remotely from home and some minor like sitting farther apart on the school bus While most students have had routines interrupted the children perhaps most affected by that disruption are students with special education needs The challenges we currently face should not undermine what we have accomplished over the last 60 years to protect students with disabilities and those from traditionally marginalized backgrounds Instead we must take an honest proactive and collaborative approach to the challenges laid bare To do so we must reckon with the fact that during a pandemic that disproportionately impacted traditionally marginalized communities and people with disabilities we collectively dropped the ball for students receiving special education services and we need to consider the continued consequences Further we must acknowledge that many students with disabilities have found virtual and remote learning to be more liberating and accessible for their learning strengths needs and preferences This text addresses how we must reconcile disparate realities of the special educational experience during pandemic Students parents teachers and school officials must align themselves together so that they can provide necessary services and support systems to students with disabilities during unpredictable times These efforts will help leverage opportunities to disrupt improve and ignite educational experiences and opportunities for our children and youth particularly those with disabilities

Un-Silencing Youth Trauma Laurie A. Garo,Bettie Ray Butler,Chance W. Lewis,2022-03-01 Urban violence poverty and racial injustice are ongoing sources of traumatic stress that affect the physical emotional and cognitive development and well being of millions of children each year Growing attention is therefore directed toward the study of child trauma and incorporation of trauma sensitive practices within schools Currently such practices focus on social and emotional learning for all children with some in school therapeutic approaches and outside referrals for serious trauma There is inadequate attention to racial injustice as an adverse childhood experience ACE confronting Black males among other youth of color Although there are guidelines for trauma sensitive approaches few are culturally responsive And it is now critical that educators consider the traumatic impacts of a dual pandemic covid 19 and racism on children and their education This timely book thus serves to inform and inspire transformative healing and empowerment among traumatized children and youth in pandemic post pandemic school and after school settings The reader will learn about trauma through actual experiences Researchers and practitioners present approaches to healing that can be adapted to local situations and settings The book consists of four parts Youth Voices on Traumatic Experience Trauma focused Research Culturally Responsive and Trauma Sensitive Practices and Where do we go from Here Suggestions for Next Steps Each part contains a set of themed chapters and closes with a youth authored poetic expression The book is especially designed for those working in urban education However anyone whose work is related to traumatized children and youth will find the book informative especially in a post pandemic educational environment

Addictions From an Attachment Perspective Richard Gill,2018-05-15 This outstanding book is an important collection of papers from the 2013 John Bowlby Memorial Conference by accomplished clinicians from different modalities who share their experience of working with people with different kinds of addiction The papers bring together an in depth understanding that addictions are a response to and hold the pain of broken attachments and are best treated within healthy interpersonal relationships For a long time the person with an addiction has been seen as the problem with society being able to live in denial of the causes These papers open up innovative and effective ways of working with people troubled by addiction from an attachment informed perspective Contributors Cara Crossan Richard Gill Lynn Greenwood Bob Johnson Liz Karter Edward Khantzian Arlene Vetere Kate White Jason Wright Just a Girl Karen Ann

Harden,2020-06-21 Sanctuary Trauma in other words trauma caused by those closest to us in our home environment where we are supposed to be safe often goes undetected This is a story about how it is possible to embrace our childhood wounds that have shaped us and redefine our story moving into adulthood so we do not pass on abusive cycles within our own home She also names out the challenges we may have to reach out to those children who are hurting and who need us most when their home environment is in chaos To challenge the old story of What is wrong with you to What happened to you This book takes you on a journey a soul journey First to understand the dynamics of an unsafe home and how it can affect a child s perception of life through the eyes of Karen s shared experience and secondly to understand the effort it takes to move out of the path of being a victim to an empowered path of being your truest self Karen encourages others to take this journey with her to seek understanding and to reflect on your own life s journey toward healing and ultimately to change the story of your life Toward Psychologies of Liberation M. Watkins,H. Shulman,2008-07-15 Psychologies of liberation are emerging on every continent in response to the collective traumas inflicted by colonialism and globalization The authors present the theoretical foundation and participatory methodologies that unite these radical interdisciplinary approaches to creating individual and community well being They move from a description of the psychological and community wounds that are common to unjust and violent contexts to engaging examples of innovative community projects from around the world that seek to heal these wounds The creation of public homeplaces and the work of liberation arts critical participatory action research public dialogue and reconciliation are highlighted as embodying the values and hopes of liberation psychology Drawing on psychoanalysis trauma studies liberation arts participatory research and contemporary cultural work this book nourishes our understanding of and imagination about the kinds of healing that are necessary to the creation of more just and peaceful communities In dialogue with cultural workers writers and visionaries from Latin America Africa Asia Europe the United States and the Pacific Islands Toward Psychologies of Liberation quickens a dialogical convergence of liberatory psychological theories and practices that will seed individual and community transformation Humanising Mental Health Care in Australia Richard Benjamin,Joan Haliburn,Serena King,2019-02-18 Humanising Mental Health Care in Australia is a unique and innovative contribution to the healthcare literature that outlines the trauma informed approaches necessary to provide a more compassionate model of care for those who suffer with mental illness The impact of abuse and trauma is frequently overlooked in this population to the detriment of both individual and society This work highlights the importance of recognising such a history and responding humanely The book explores the trauma informed perspective across four sections The first outlines theory constructs and effects of abuse and trauma The second section addresses the effects of abuse and trauma on specific populations The third section outlines a diverse range of individual treatment approaches The final section takes a broader perspective examining the importance of culture and training as well as the organisation and delivery of services Written in an accessible style by a diverse group of national and international experts Humanising Mental
