Dealing with Peace Simon Granovsky-Larsen, 2019-05-06 Dealing with Peace presents the struggles of the Guatemalan campesino peasant social movement during the country's post conflict transition from 1996 to the present focusing on efforts to obtain land and improve livelihoods within a shifting yet consistently hostile political economic environment With special focus on the relationship between the movement and the neoliberal state Simon Granovsky Larsen asks whether the acceptance of neoliberal resources in this case support for land access in Guatemala provided by the World Bank funded Fondo de Tierras reduces the potential for social movements to continue to work for transformative change Positioned in contrast to studies warning that social movements cannot maintain their original vision after accepting such support this book argues that organizations within the Guatemalan campesino movement have engaged strategically with neoliberalism utilizing available resources to advance visions of social change Using a wealth of primary data collected over more than a year of fieldwork it contributes significantly to the study of Guatemalan politics and advances understandings of the grounded operation of neoliberalism Exploring both the dynamics of a national neoliberal transition and the ways in which these play out within civil society Dealing with Peace reveals the long term and often contradictory negotiation of political and economic transitions
