The Creation of a Professional Learning Community for School Leaders Amalia Humada- Ludeke, 2013-09-03

The unwavering culture of continuous improvement efforts to bring about school change has irrevocably changed the role expectations for the school leader The school leader in the 21st century is increasingly perceived as an instructional leader expected to implement whole school reform models that can shape teacher practice and influence student outcomes The significant changes in role expectations for school leaders present considerable challenges to an educational system that was not designed to incorporate these conceptualizations In light of the increased acceptance of changed leadership expectations the elements that are needed for developing supporting and sustaining instructional leaders who can lead systemic change efforts are frequently not present are fragmented or are observed at various developmental stages throughout the pK 20 pipeline This book is centered on the learning and changed behaviors of school leaders who engaged in a sustained job embedded professional learning community facilitated through a university district partnership The learning from the findings suggested that job embedded learning with their peers can be instrumental for these principals to build the capacity to lead systemic change efforts The findings further suggested that creating conditions for new understanding to occur and sustained opportunities to apply new learning in context to their role entailed a collaborative effort by a partnership involving two separate institutions with different priorities The author makes a case for the educational pipeline to prioritize the support and understanding of complex systemic change efforts and innovations as they are linked to school improvement

The Learning Leader Douglas B. Reeves,2006-04-15 We can t do that in our school district I don t have time to add that to my curriculum We re fighting against impossible odds with these students Effective school leadership does not have to be a losing battle In The Learning Leader How to Focus School Improvement for Better Results Douglas B Reeves helps leadership teams go beyond excuses to capitalize on their strengths and reduce their weaknesses He introduces the Leadership for Learning Framework which challenges readers to consider that student achievement is more than a set of test scores Reeves asserts that when leaders focus exclusively on results they fail to measure and understand the importance of their own actions Instead he encourages leaders to use the Leadership for Learning Framework to look deeper into their results The framework helps leaders distinguish between Lucky educators who achieve high results but don't understand their actions and Leading educators who achieve high results and understand how their actions influence their success From conducting strategic planning to evaluating projects to organizing leadership teams The Learning Leader will help leaders reconceptualize their leadership role and motivate their colleagues Reeves urges teachers and administrators to become more efficient and focused leaders but most important he charges them to be better educators for their students Note This product listing is for the Adobe Acrobat PDF version of the book
