Best of the Best Isabella Wallace, 2018-02-15 The Best of the Best series brings together for the first time the most influential voices in education in a format that is concise insightful and accessible for teachers Keeping up with the latest and best ideas in education can be a challenge as can putting them into practice but this highly acclaimed series is here to help Each title features a comprehensive collection of brief and accessible contributions from some of the most eminent names in education from around the world In this third volume Wallace and Kirkman explore the core concept of engagement an essential facet of effective learning both for learners and for teachers and share practical realistic cross curricular and cross phase strategies to make the most of these important insights Engagement whether of the teacher or the learners can t be compelled and will always be contingent on the complexities of motivation Indeed it could be argued that it is teacher engagement which is the key to successful learning Such engagement can be facilitated by encouraging professional dialogue between staff or it may be that the school s high expectations alone could encourage in its teachers a sense of professional empowerment But how do we recognise learner engagement and what can we do to encourage it From this compendium of expert voices emerge three important themes that teachers engagement and positive example should be seen as a prerequisite for establishing learner motivation that learners interest needs to be actively engaged whether by meaningful challenge or by tapping into their natural curiosity and that an expectation of appropriate behaviour must precede expectations of engagement In this volume you will find many practical suggestions of ways to apply these ideas both in the classroom and in the staffroom Each contributor has provided a list of further reading so you can dig deeper into the topic and in addition the Teacher Development Trust offer their advice on how to plan effective CPD and responsive changes to practice based on the contributors suggestions Contributions include Sir Tim Brighouse argues that it is teacher engagement specifically their collaborative evaluation dialogue and planning which is the key to successful learning Dr Bill Rogers advocates a non confrontational approach and illustrates how the teacher s verbal communications can be more effective when they are descriptive and assertive rather than imperative and confrontational Vic Goddard suggests that a bottom up staff led approach to CPD can be a more motivating catalyst for teacher engagement than that which is top down and senior leadership team led Sue Cowley urges teachers to be responsive adaptable creative and flexible in the classroom and instead of focusing on what students need to change to take control of their teaching and decide what they need to change about themselves Richard Gerver discusses his passionate belief that teachers and school leaders should trust in their profession and their children more and build a culture that shouts about an assumption of excellence Andy Cope advises that teachers should focus on how they wish to be in order to achieve the energy and empowerment to engage more effectively with their to do list Professor Bill Lucas focuses on the numerous ways that schools can encourage parental engagement in their children s learning Ian Gilbert points out that in order to encourage engaged behaviour we need first to banish classroom boredom and that the opposite of boring in a learning context should be challenging Professor Susan Wallace focuses on teacher behaviour suggesting that one of the most powerful ways of encouraging engagement is for the teacher to model the desired attitude by presenting themselves as enthusiastic and highly motivated
