Departmental Report 2008 Hm Revenue Customs Cm:

Administration and Expenditure of the Chancellor's Departments, 2007-08 Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Treasury Committee, 2009 The Treasury Sub Committee calls for much greater transparency from the Treasury in accounting for the liabilities taken on by the nationalisation and part nationalisation of financial institutions The report recommends that these disclosures appear in the annual Treasury resource accounts Furthermore they should be at least as comprehensive as those made by major corporations and go further than meeting the minimum acceptable accounting standards In particular the Report notes that the Treasury s 2007 08 Annual Report and Accounts cover the Government s financial relationship with Northern Rock but do not comment on its performance under temporary public ownership Given the level of interest in the fully nationalised institutions of Northern Rock and Bradford Bingley and the Treasury s role in their governance the report recommends that key performance information for these institutions be published in the resource accounts as well The wholesale nationalisation of Northern Rock and Bradford Bingley has created governance responsibilities for the Treasury while these entities remain under public ownership The Government s announcements of October 2008 created further responsibilities regarding the oversight of part nationalised banks and created a new body UK Financial Investments UKFI The report calls for UKFI to report annually to Parliament and to be accountable to the Treasury Committee The Committee wants the Government to identify and publish performance indicators for UKFI and to report against these measures on a six monthly basis All these developments are additional challenges for the Treasury and require it to act in areas its current staff base may not be fully equipped for or familiar with The Government must ensure the Treasury is sufficiently resourced to manage the extended responsibilities arising from the economic downturn especially those regarding financial stability

Administration and expenditure of the Chancellor's departments, 2008-09 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Treasury Committee, 2010-03-09 The Chancellor s departments faced extraordinary challenges during 2008 09 mainly arising from the need to respond to the emerging financial crisis and associated economic downturn The report concludes that it is very difficult to draw final conclusions regarding their level of success too much remains unfinished business It draws attention in particular to the new relationship between the Treasury and UKFI and recommends that the Government considers whether the formal terms of the relationship need some re definition in the light of experience The report is particularly concerned by the dire results for HM Revenue Customs HMRC of a cross Government staff survey pilot study The Report calls for HMRC management to publish a clear and detailed plan to provide focus and direction to their efforts to re engage with their workforce Noting a rise in customer complaints and that on average only 57 per cent of calls to HMRC contact centres were answered during 2008 09 HMRC should publish more data to enable effective scrutiny of its performance against its targets data which is essential for tax gaps to be closed and for the take up of the working tax credit to be assessed and improved The Report is critical of the failure of most departments to provide accurate and timely monthly in year figures to the Treasury Other sections of the report cover National Savings Investment the revaluation of UK statutory ports and the performance of the Royal Mint

The Political Economy of Corporation Tax John Snape,2011-12-09 Excellent technical writing on corporation tax abounds but it tends to be inaccessible to public lawyers political theorists and political economists Although recent years have seen not only an explosion in public law scholarship but also a reawakening of interest in interpretative political theory and political economy the potential of these perspectives to illuminate the corporation tax debate has remained unexplored In this important work John Snape seeks to reconcile these disparate strands of scholarship and to contribute to a new way of understanding and conceptualising the reform of the law relating to corporate taxation Drawing on important developments in public law scholarship the study combines elements of political theory and political economy It advances a new interpretation of corporation tax law as an instrument of rule through the maximisation of a nation s economic potential Snape shows how corporate taxation belongs at the centre of any discussion of economic globalisation not only because of the potential of national tax systems to influence inward investment decisions but also because of the potential of those decisions to shape the public interest that those tax systems might embody Following public law and politics models the book looks afresh at the impact of Britain s political institutions of the processes of its representative government and of the theory that moulds and orders the values that the corporation tax code contains This is a timely exploration of cutting edge issues of public policy

The Economic Constitution Tony Prosser,2014-03-13 There has been little analysis of the constitutional framework for management of the UK economy either in constitutional law or regulatory studies This is in contrast to many other countries where the concept of an economic constitution is well established as it is in the law of the European Union Given the extensive role of the state in attempting to resolve recent financial crises in the UK and elsewhere in Europe it is particularly important to develop such an analysis This book sets out different meanings of an economic constitution and applies them to key areas of economic management including taxation and public borrowing the management of public spending including the Spending Review monetary policy financial services regulation industrial policy including state shareholdings and government contracting It analyses the key institutions involved such as the Treasury and the Bank of England also including a number of less well known bodies such as the Office for Budget Responsibility There is also coverage of the international context in which these institutions operate especially the European Union and the World Trade Organisation It thus provides an account of the public law applying to economic management in the UK This book also adopts a critical approach assessing the degree to which there is coherence in the arrangements for economic management the degree to which economic policy making is constrained by constitutional norms and the degree to which economic management is subject to deliberation and accountability through Parliament the courts and other institutions The Administration of Tax Credits Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Treasury Committee, 2006-06-06 The new tax credits the child tax credit and the working tax credit were introduced in April 2003 Government statistics indicate that 6 million families and 10 million children benefit from the receipt of these credits In 2003 04 period about one third of all tax credits awards 1 9 million were overpaid at a cost of nearly 2 billion This report by the Treasury Committee examines the reasons for the high level of overpayments The Committee acknowledges recent research which suggests that the tax credits regime is designed to deliver the correct amount of state assistance over the year as a whole rather than over a shorter period and that payments should perhaps be aligned more with the financial needs of families who budget over shorter periods The Committee states that HM Revenue and Customs HMRC need to develop a detailed understanding of the factors that have led to overpayment such as how much official errors and IT system errors have caused or contributed to overpayments The report also considers the incidence of fraud error on the part of claimants and organised crime The Committee also feels that the administration of the tax credits regime has been based around individual functions or tasks rather than centred around the needs of the claimants and that the HMRC needs to institute a claimant centred approach to the administration of tax credits Scrutiny of arms export controls (2010) Great Britain:

Parliament: House of Commons: Business, Innovation and Skills Committee, 2010-03-30 The joint committee is known as the Committees on Arms Export Controls formerly the Quadripartite Committee The UK strategic export controls annual report 2008 was published as Cm 7662 ISBN 9780101766227

The Roll-out of the Jobcentre Plus Office Network Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Committee of Public Accounts, 2008 Between 2002 and 2008 the Department for Work and Pension replaced over 1 500 jobcentres and social security offices across Great Britain with a network of just over 800 modernised Jobcentre Plus offices The aim was to improve significantly the job seeking experience and the delivery of benefits by providing a service similar to that offered by a bank or modern retailer To achieve such a radical shift the Department merged the Employment Service and the Benefits Agency into a new integrated service Jobcentre Plus This roll out was one of the largest public sector construction programmes undertaken in the UK in recent years Having learnt lessons from early difficulties the project was successful in delivering nearly all the planned offices while making savings against the original budget of 2 2 billion The estate rationalisation generated savings of 135 million a year and the Department estimates that the roll out will ultimately lead to cumulative benefits of 6 billion The successful delivery of the programme can be attributed to sound governance intelligent use of existing guidance and external advice strong support from the leadership of the organisation and critically the consistent senior management team The successful implementation of the project has important lessons for other major government programmes

Preparations for the London 2012 Olympic and

Paralympic Games Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2008 Within Central Government preparations for the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games are being led by the Government Olympic

Executive which is part of the Department for Culture Media and Sport DCMS The Executive is responsible for co ordinating the activities of a wide range of organisations including the Olympic Delivery Authority which is responsible for the construction of venues and associated infrastructure Whilst individual organisations have their own programme management arrangements the Government Olympic Executive has not yet developed a plan for the programme as a whole or finalised arrangements for identifying and managing risks across the programme On the basis of a report by the Comptroller and Auditor General HC 490 session 2007 08 ISBN 97801102954197 the Committee took evidence from DCMS and the Olympic Delivery Authority on the progress made in preparing for the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games Managing Financial Resources to Deliver Better Public Services Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Committee of Public Accounts, 2008 Annually central government spends some 558 billion and this is forecast to increase to 678 billion by 2010 11 Strong and competent financial resources management is central to departments meeting their objectives cost effectively and delivering public services which represent value for money Since the Committee's last report on this topic HC 181 25th report of session 2003 04 ISBN 9780215023636 the number of qualified finance directors with a seat on the departmental board has increased enhancing the focus on financial performance at senior management level but the lack of financial skills and awareness amongst non finance staff remains a barrier to improving financial management more generally across government Accruals based accounting and budgeting systems are helping some departments identify under utilised assets and dispose of those no longer required Departments need to improve their forecasting capabilities to strengthen budgetary control and to avoid underspends not being identified early enough to reallocate resources to other priorities Departments are continuing to spend less money than they forecast particularly on capital projects increasing the risk that resources are not being allocated across government in the most effective way Few departmental boards are presented with accurate timely and integrated financial and operational performance information to enable them to take sufficiently informed decisions on the use of resources and to review performance Although the Treasury and Cabinet Office have a number of initiatives to improve resource management there is some way to go before financial management is fully embedded within departmental cultures Preparing for Sporting Success at the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games and Beyond Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2008 The Department for Culture Media their setting of targets and monitoring of progress towards the Games and their approach to securing wider and long term benefits from elite sporting success Administration and expenditure of the Chancellor's departments, 2006-07 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Treasury Committee, 2008-03-07 This is the first annual scrutiny by the Treasury Committee of the Chancellor of the Exchequer's Departments The Committee sets out a number of conclusions and recommendations including that the Treasury should include within its annual reports a summary of the results of the annual surveys of stakeholder opinion and the Treasury's response to stakeholders the Committee recommends that the Treasury set itself a target to ensure that the Public Service Agreements finalised as part of the next Spending Review in 2009 or 2010 include a clear statement about the resources to be allocated across Government to the delivery of each Agreement the Committee criticises the Treasury's failure to meet its objective for the appointment of professionally qualified Finance Directors in all Departments by December 2006 and that a relevant accountancy qualification be described as an essential criterion in all future post advertisements the Committee views the Value for Money Delivery Agreements across Government as disappointing and wants the Government to develop programmes that measure quality of service and efficiency effectively the Committee commends the Royal Mint's return to profitability but is concerned about the ambitious target set for next year that the Office of Government Commerce has failed to publish a regular annual report the Committee expresses surprise that HM Revenue and Customs had approved a 60% increase in senior civil service bonus payments over a period of poor performance and headcount reductions also the Committee highlights the problems experienced in VAT registrations and the failure of HMRC to meet its processing target of VAT receipts as well as poor administration of tax credits

Dimensions of Tax Design Institute for Fiscal Studies (IFS),2010-04-30 The goal of the Mirrlees Review has been to identify what makes a good tax system for an open developed economy in the 21st century and to suggest how the UK tax system could be reformed to move in that direction As an integral part of the Review this volume brings together thirteen studies of different dimensions of tax design plus associated commentaries These were commissioned from IFS researchers and other international experts to be of interest and value in their own right as well as to provide inspiration for the final report of the Review which is published as a separate volume Tax by Design The Commission's work was directed by Tim Besley Richard Blundell Malcolm Gammie James Poterba The Commission's editorial team Stuart Adam Stephen Bond Robert Chote Paul Johnson Gareth Myles
