

SIPM BIOLOGY ESSAY

1. Describe the organisation of the nervous system in humans.

The organisation of the human nervous system can be divided into two main parts, central nervous system (CNS) and peripheral nervous system (PNS). Central nervous system consists of brain and spinal cord. Brain receives and processes sensory information, initiates responses, stores memories and generates thoughts and emotions. Spinal cord conducts signals to and from the brain and controls reflex actions. Peripheral nervous system consists of peripheral nerves that include spinal nerves (from spinal cord) and cranial nerves (from brain). It connects central nervous system to the rest of the body including muscles, sensory organs and organs of digestive, respiratory, excretory and circulatory systems.

Peripheral nervous system contains sensory or afferent neurones which carry signals to central nervous system from sensory organs and motor or efferent neurones carry signals from central nervous system to effectors, such as organs and muscles. It can be subdivided into somatic nervous system which controls voluntary movements by activating skeletal muscle and autonomic nervous system which controls involuntary responses by influencing heart, smooth muscles and glands. It controlled by medulla and hypothalamus. It consists of sympathetic nervous system (prepares body for stressful or energetic activity/ fight or flight) and parasympathetic nervous system (dominates during maintenance and relaxation activities).

Advanced Histopathology Gordon W.H. Stamp, N.A. Wright, 2012-12-06 It is easy to be confident that an appropriate body of advice is available to candidates about the content of an examination once you have passed it Prospectively the Primary and Final Examinations of the Royal College of Pathologists will appear to most to involve the assimilation of what seems at the time an inexhaustible volume of data and the recent change in the College examination system has not diminished this concern for the majority of candidates The guidelines for training for the new Part I examination state that this is the major hurdle of the MRCPPath and it is clear that it will determine whether candidates are suitable for training which will permit them to practise independently as consultants after Part II These general aims and objectives do not answer questions such as How much do I need to know about glomerulonephritis or Where do I stop with the lymphomas This text attempts to resolve the difficulty of knowing what standard to aim at using College questions as its starting point It concentrates on the essential basis of any single answer many candidates for the new three year examination will know more about individual topics than is stated here However it is the breadth of information required which is a feature of College examinations and this text should help with this problem
