Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix, Prew, Martin, 2015-05-05
Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years Paying the Price Sara Goldrick-Rab, 2016-09-13 One of the most sustained and vigorous public debates today is about the value and crucially the price of college But an unspoken outdated assumption underlies all sides of this debate if a young person works hard enough they'll be able to get a college degree and be on the path to a good life That's simply not true anymore says Sara Goldrick-Rab Quite simply college is far too expensive for many people today and the confusing mix of federal state institutional and private financial aid leaves countless students without the resources they need to pay for it Drawing on a study of 3 000 young adults who entered public colleges and universities in Wisconsin in 2008 with the support of federal aid and Pell Grants Goldrick-Rab reveals the devastating effect of these shortfalls She believes America can fix this problem In the final section of the book Goldrick-Rab offers a range of possible solutions 2014 International Conference on Social Science and Environment Protection (SSEP2014) , 2014-02-11 This conference promises to be both informative and stimulating with a wonderful program Delegates will have a wide range of sessions to choose from and will have a difficult time choosing which session to attend The program consists of invited session technical workshop and discussions covering a wide range of topics in social science including communication culture economics education finance law management politics psychology and society This rich program provides all attendees with the opportunities to meet and interact with one another We hope that your experience with SSEP2014 is a fruitful and long lasting one Testing Times Willis Richard, 2014-02-07 This book focuses on the delivery of public examinations offered by the main examining boards in England since Victorian England The investigation reveals that the provision of examinations was as controversial in the nineteenth century as it is today particularly since the government is now determined to bring in reform The issues of grade inflation the place of coursework in marking and the introduction of technological change all feature in this book Educational policy is primarily examined as well as some reference to the global scene The study analyses archival material from a wide range of sources including those records stored at the National Archives and the London Metropolitan Archives An emphasis is placed upon the various institutions that contributed to the process including the Royal Society of Arts the London Chamber of Commerce the City of Guilds of London Institute and the University of London Attention is given to the findings of the Taunton Commission and the Bryce Commission and shorter reports such as the Northcote Trevelyn Report which served to radicalise entry and recruitment to the Civil Service The modern GCSE and the plans for I levels are considered and key observations are made about the efficacy of those examinations offered by Oxford and Cambridge universities and O levels A levels and NVQs The reader is given every opportunity to benefit enthusiastically in this account of examinations and those engaged in education whether teachers examiners students or administrators will be able to gain useful insights into the workings of the examination system
