seems no reason to question this that Captain Johnson created the modern conception of pirates Scottish novelists Robert Louis Stevenson author of Treasure Island and J M Barrie author of Peter Pan featuring Captain Hook both identified Johnson's General History of the Pyrates as one of their major influences and Stevenson even borrowed one character's name Israel Hands from a list of Blackbeard's crew which appeared in Johnson's book In 1932 a literary scholar and writer named John Robert Moore posited that Daniel Defoe be acknowledged the author of A General History After years of research in connection with a collection of Defoe's works Moore published a study of his findings detailing his argument for Defoe's authorship of this and other works Moore declared that A General History was substantially a work of Defoe based on writing style and content similar to other pieces that have been attributed to Defoe Moore argued that Defoe's interest in subjects such as seafaring and criminals shows that A General History falls squarely into his repertoire Moore posited that not only could other works be used to confirm that Defoe wrote A General History but that A General History could be used to endorse his authorship of those same works Another point that Moore counted on to validate his claims was that many authors to include historians had used A General History of the Pyrates as a source of information for their own writings
