Andreopoulos,1997-02 Part II The reality of genocide      Genocide Culture Kaziwa Salih,2024-10-15 This book considers different stages of Kurdish history oppression and genocide through a critical lens offering an historiography of Iraq and colonialism Divided into two parts the first part conceptualizes the coined term genocide culture and examines dominant Iraqi cultural practices that fostered genocide The second part contextualizes the experiences of the Kurdish community to examine the effects of cultural practices and the role of civilian actors in fueling the extermination of targeted groups Through semi structured interviews primary archival documents and nonparticipant observation the author studies the links between everyday cultural practices and microaggression in general and the nexus between the state and the general population in the implementation of macroaggression and genocide The audience will include scholars and students interested in genocide studies and the relation of both genocide and culture to histories of colonialism as well as those working in the fields of violence and cultural psychology sociology history international relations ethnic conflict and Middle Eastern studies      War Crimes and Human Rights William Schabas,2008 This is a collection of essays and articles on human rights law and international criminal law authored by William Schabas one of the most prominent contemporary scholars and practitioners Particular attention is given to such topics as the limitation and abolition of the death penalty genocide and crimes against humanity the establishment and operation of the International Criminal Court and the ad hoc international criminal tribunals truth and reconciliation commissions reservations to human rights treaties and the implementation of international human rights norms in domestic law      A Cultural History of Genocide in the Middle Ages Melodie H. Eichbauer,2023-05-04 The period covered by this volume roughly 800 1400 considers genocidal massacres and actions within the context of the pre modern state a time when the term genocide did not yet exist In considering rhetoric discrimination and political and legal marginalization that impacted the lives of particular peoples the volume takes as its premise that genocidal practices and massacres can occur when social dynamism and political change challenges the identity of a community The case studies analysed in the individual chapters implicitly or explicitly draw upon the frameworks of comparative genocide scholars to explore genocidal massacres in the Middle Ages as localized phenomenon even if these isolated outbursts do not graph onto the modern definition of genocide perfectly Each contribution considers genocide as caused by settling national religious and ethnic differences genocide as designed to enforce or fulfil an ideology and genocide as designed to colonize Collectively the essays move beyond the number of people killed to consider the steps taken against a people to erase them from the social and cultural fabric of society It is hoped that this volume encourages us to think both about the legal structures of genocide but also about how the term can be more inclusive and expansive      Genocide, Crimes Against Humanity, War Crimes Machteld Boot,2002 3 1 The Tokyo Charter      Statistical Methods for Human Rights Jana Asher,David Banks,Fritz J. Human Rights Darren O'Byrne, 2014-06-06 Human Rights An Introduction is an important text that provides a comprehensive overview of human rights and related issues from a social science perspective First this book does more than discuss theory it uses case studies and personal testimonies in the debate Human rights as an area of academic interest cannot be easily divorced from human rights struggles and the reality of contemporary conditions Second the book is aimed at what is an emerging and growing cross disciplinary field of study Human rights issues are increasingly coming to the fore in a number of academic debates Whereas the study of human rights has traditionally been included in departments of law international relations and philosophy a number of courses are now being set up in departments of sociology and anthropology Consequently there is an increasing need to bring these disparate approaches together

Barbaric Civilization Christopher Powell, 2011-06-15 From its beginnings in the early twelfth century the Western civilizing process has involved two interconnected transformations the monopolization of military force by sovereign states and the cultivation in individuals of habits and dispositions of the kind that we call civilized The combined forward movement of these processes channels violent struggles for social dominance into symbolic performances But even as the civilizing process frees many subjects from the threat of direct physical force violence accumulates behind the scenes and at the margins of the social order kept there by a deeply habituated performance of dominance and subordination called deferentialization When deferentialization fails difference becomes dangerous and genocide becomes possible Connecting historical developments with everyday life occurrences and discussing examples ranging from thirteenth century Languedoc to 1994 Rwanda Powell offers an original framework for analyzing comparing and discussing genocides as variable outcomes of a common underlying social system raising unsettling questions about the contradictions of Western civilization and the possibility of a world without genocide

Costa Vargas, 2023-06-14 Never Meant to Survive presents a historical political and social assessment of anti black genocide and liberatory struggles that arose to resist it Based on fine grained accounts of community life at the street level Costa Vargas s work presents crucial examples of political resistance and community activism By examining two cities linked by common experiences of Blackness Los Angeles and Rio de Janeiro this book identifies a prevailing genocidal force that organizes individuals and groups across society The 1965 and 1992 riots in Los Angeles the work of the Black Panther Party and favela activists in Brazil and police brutality in struggles between black communities and the state in both L A and Rio de Janeiro all figure importantly in Costa Vargas s compelling account What emerges from this analysis is a call for the destruction of the conditions that foster the marginalization of black communities and a halt to the internal conflicts between black social groups themselves Genocide Studies Jeffrey S.
