Mobility and Migration Choices Martin van der Velde,Ton van Naerssen,2016-03-03 The crossing of national state borders is one of the most discussed issues of contemporary times and it poses many challenges for individual and collective identities This concerns both short distance mobility as well as long distance migration Choosing to move or not across international borders is a complex decision involving both cognitive and emotional processes This book tests the approach that three crucial thresholds need to be crossed before mobility occurs the individual's mindset about migrating the choice of destination and perception of crossing borders to that location and the specific routes and spatial trajectories available to get there Thus both borders and trajectories can act as thresholds to spatial moves The threshold approach with its focus on processes affecting whether when and where to move aims to understand the decision making process in all its dimensions in the hope that this will lead to a better understanding of the ways migrants conceive perceive and undertake their transnational journeys This book examines the three constitutive parts discerned in the cross border mobility decision making process people borders and trajectories and their interrelationships Illustrated by a global range of case studies it demonstrates that the relation between the three is not fixed but flexible and that decision making contains aspects of belonging instability security and volatility affecting their mobility or immobility

The Way Things Aren't: Deconstructing 'Reality' to Facilitate Communication John Backman, Malgorzata

Wojczik, 2019-05-15 In a world of continual conflict rethinking the way we communicate with other cultures religions or nations is of paramount importance Standing in the way is the unconscious assumption that our own views reflect the way things are an assumption both inefficient and harmful The Way Things Aren't Deconstructing Reality to Facilitate Communication explores communication as a meeting point between different perceptions of reality presenting how our assumptions and convictions hinder effective communication with those who are different from us Featuring case examples from Somalia Romania and other regions the chapters describe how authorities and the media often create reality to relegate some people cultures languages or religions to the wrong side of the tracks Featuring scholars and practitioners from many disciplines this discussion challenges readers with the idea that in order to remain open for new perspectives we must be aware that things are not always the way things are      Legislative Approximation and Application of EU Law in the Eastern Neighbourhood of the European Union Roman Petrov, Peter Van Elsuwege, 2014-02-24 This book explores the exportation and application of European Union legislation beyond EU borders It clarifies the means and instruments of the voluntary application of the EU's norms by third countries and analyses in detail the process of legislative approximation between the EU and its East European neighbours It also assesses the extent to which the EU is successful in promoting its legal standards abroad The first part of the book addresses the EU's mechanisms and instruments promoting the export of its own laws and practices to other countries Key issues include the post Lisbon constitutional basis for the EU's engagement with its Eastern neighbours Art 8 TEU the different methods of acquis export and the impact of a new generation of Association Agreements providing for the establishment of Deep and Comprehensive Free Trade Areas DCFTAs and ultimately a Neighbourhood Economic Community NEC between the EU and its Eastern partners The second part of the book includes substantive country reports that analyse the process of legislative approximation and application of EU law in the Eastern Partnership countries and Russia authored by leading academics from the countries concerned While currently these countries are not working towards full EU membership the EU encourages them to approximate and converge their legislation with the EU acquis The book also offers a unique picture of current practice of the application of EU law by judiciaries in the countries of the Eastern Partnership and Russia The book concludes with reflections on the multi faceted character of legislative approximation and the challenges surrounding the application of EU law in the EU s Eastern neighbourhood The conclusions reached are highly informative as to the effectiveness of present and future EU external regional policies aimed at the promotion of EU common values and EU legislation into the legal orders of third countries

The Drone Memos Jameel Jaffer, 2010-01-12 A trenchant summation and analysis of the legal rationales behind the US drone policy of targeted killing of suspected terrorists including US citizens Publishers Weekly starred review In the long response to 9 11 the US government initiated a deeply controversial policy of targeted killing the extrajudicial execution of suspected terrorists and militants typically via drones A remarkable effort was made to legitimize this practice one that most human rights experts agree is illegal and that the United States has historically condemned In The Drone Memos civil rights lawyer Jameel Jaffer presents and assesses the legal memos and policy documents that enabled the Obama administration to put this program into action In a lucid and provocative introduction Jaffer who led the ACLU legal team that secured the release of many of the documents evaluates the drone memos in light of domestic and international law He connects the documents legal abstractions to the real world violence they allow and makes the case that we are trading core principles of democracy and human rights for the illusion of security A careful study of a secretive counterterrorism infrastructure capable of sustaining endless orderless war this book is profoundly necessary Katrina vanden Heuvel editor and publisher of The Nation

We Can Make the World Economy a Sustainable Global Home Lewis S. Mudge, 2014-03-28 This book by theologian ethicist Lewis Mudge offers fresh philosophical and theological concepts economic and political insights and practical financial proposals to counter the causes and lasting effects of the worldwide recession that began in late 2007 The historical and global dimensions of Mudge s perspective and his open ended suggestions keep the book s arguments highly relevant today little affected by daily changes in a world economy still suffering from the reverberations of the credit collapse several years ago Editorial references in footnotes provide up to date data and add nuances to the major issues raised by Mudge To help foster the ecumenical dialogue Mudge calls for We Can Make the World Economy a Sustainable Global Home includes responses from Elliott N Dorff John C Knapp and Djamel Eddine Laouisset a Jew a Christian and a Muslim

Prototype Politics Daniel Kreiss, 2016-06-01 Given the advanced state of digital technology and social media one would think that the Democratic and Republican Parties would be reasonably well matched in terms of their technology uptake and sophistication But as past presidential campaigns have shown this is not the case So what explains this odd disparity Political scientists have shown that Republicans effectively used the strategy of party building and networking to gain campaign and electoral advantage throughout the twentieth century In Prototype Politics Daniel Kreiss argues that contemporary campaigning has entered a new technology intensive era that the Democratic Party has engaged to not only gain traction against the Republicans but to shape the new electoral context and define what electoral participation means in the twenty first century Prototype Politics provides an analytical framework for understanding why and how campaigns are newly technology intensive and why digital media data and analytics are at the forefront of contemporary electoral dynamics The book discusses the importance of infrastructure the contexts within which technological innovation happens and how the collective making of prototypes shapes parties and their technological futures Drawing on an analysis of the careers of 629 presidential campaign staffers from 2004 2012 as well as interviews with party elites on both sides of the aisle Prototype Politics details how and why the Democrats invested more in technology were able to attract staffers with specialized expertise to work in electoral politics and founded an array of firms to diffuse technological innovations down ballot and across election cycles Taken together this book shows how the differences between the major party campaigns on display in 2012 were shaped by their institutional histories since 2004 as well as that of their extended network of allied organizations In the process this book argues that scholars need to understand how technological development around politics happens in time and how the dynamics on display during presidential cycles are the outcome of longer processes

Nation-Building in the Baltic States Gundar J. King, David E. McNabb, 2014-08-26 The product of more than twenty years of research first person observations discussions and policy analyses Nation Building in the Baltic States Transforming Governance Social Welfare and Security in Northern Europe explores the characteristics of the Baltic states as positioned in the northeast corridor in terms of military strife and polit

Geopolitics and the Quest for Dominance Jeremy Black, 2015-11-25 History and geography delineate the operation of power not only its range but also the capacity to plan and the ability to implement Approaching state strategy and policy from the spatial angle Jeremy Black argues that just as the perception of power is central to issues of power so place and its constraints and relationships is partly a matter of perception not merely map coordinates Geopolitics he maintains is as much about ideas and perception as it is about the actual spatial dimensions of power Black's study ranges widely examining geography and the spatial nature of state power from the 15th century to the present day He considers the rise of British power geopolitics and the age of Imperialism the Nazis and World War II and the Cold War and he looks at the key theorists of the latter 20th century including Henry Kissinger Francis Fukuyama and Samuel P Huntington Philip Bobbitt Niall Ferguson and others

The Parables of Jesus and the Problems of the World Richard Q. Ford, 2016-09-09 Remarkable is how extensively in each parable Jesus provides a subtle but rich array of unexpected possibilities hidden within the hierarchies of power so commonplace in his world By doing so he profoundly addresses the perils inherent in the prerogatives of many of us living in today's world In these ancient interpersonal tragedies readers can discover modern global analogues where the powerful still control the powerless and where others of us immersed as we are in privilege are still willing to side with control      Ethnic Relations in Post-Soviet Russia Andrew Foxall,2014-10-03 While the collapse of communism in Russia was relatively peaceful ethnic relations have been deteriorating since then This deterioration poses a threat to the functioning of the Russian state and is a major obstacle to its future development Analysing ethnic relations in the North Caucasus this book demonstrates how a myriad of processes that characterised post Soviet transition including demographic change economic upheaval geopolitical instability and political restructuring have affected daily life for citizens It raises important questions about ethnicity identity nationalism sovereignty and territoriality in the post Soviet space      Race and Place Deirdre Mayer Dougherty,2025-08-12 Race and Place considers the everyday experiences of community members throughout the process of school desegregation and how race place and truth came to matter in this process in Prince George s County Maryland from 1945 through 1973 The book is organized around several successive policies that emerged in this time school equalization school choice neighborhood schools school construction school closure busing for racial integration and school discipline Dougherty shows how these policies contained and reinforced assumptions about place and created new racial truths about people and schooling      The Palgrave Handbook of Global Approaches to Peace Aigul Kulnazarova,Vesselin Popovski,2018-12-19 With existing literature focusing largely on Western perspectives of peace and their applications a global understanding of peace is much needed Spurred by more recent debates and discourses that criticize the dominant realist and liberal approaches for crises in contemporary state and peace building the contributors to this handbook emphasize not only the need to solve this eternal conundrum of humanity but also demand with the rise of increasingly more violent conflicts in international relations the development of a global interpretive framework for peace and security To this end the present handbook examines conceptual institutional and normative interpretive approaches for making building and promoting peace in the context of roles played by state and non state actors within local national regional and global units of analysis      A World of Homeowners Nancy Kwak,2018-09-28 In Latin America Scandinavian housing experts explained that housing is too important a commodity to be subjected to the same general market conditions as other goods but the Americans ridiculed such a stance The Cold War was fought with bricks and mortar not just small hot wars in poor places and the threat of nuclear Armageddon Privatisation began in Malaysia in the 1940s in West Germany Taiwan Burma and South Korea in the 1950s India in 1964 Jordan in 1965 Brazil in 1966 Guatemala and Nigeria in 1967 and the Philippines again in 1968 In the 1960s the US granted loans to expand the private housing sectors in Chile Colombia Costa Rica Ecuador El Salvador Guatemala Nicaragua Panama Peru Uruguay and Venezuela They began housing projects in Rhodesia Zambia and Mali They moved into Senegal in 1972 Botswana in 1973 Tanzania in 1974 and Kenya in 1975 all the while spreading the American dream      Cold War Workers Isabel Campbell,2025-04-15 When Canada sought to protect its borders and aid its allies during the Cold War many people were recruited to build the emerging security state as construction and maintenance workers engineers members of the armed forces medical researchers and research subjects Security work transformed the lives of individuals families and communities in ways that were both predictable and surprising and both beneficial and harmful the militarization and colonization of Indigenous lives and lands was especially disruptive The opening essays of Cold War Workers intimately portray the complicated effects of Cold War labour upon Indigenous lives Elmer Sinclair a residential school survivor and member of the Canadian Armed Forces achieved equality with white men through his militarized masculinity His more positive professional experience contrasts with those of Indigenous workers on northern radar lines many of whom lost languages connections to the land and other elements of traditional cultures as they sought new skills and better employment Diverse Indigenous experiences of Cold War security work set the scene for the second set of essays which explore the impact of security preoccupations on marginalized groups the study of extreme isolation through scientific experimentation on human subjects the targeting of gay men with psychiatric labelling to enforce an idealized masculinity and the restriction of gender mobility in the Canadian military and the pushback from servicewomen Cold War Workers raises questions about the influence of settler colonial masculine institutional values on those who laboured for the Cold War state and society By comparing the experiences of different types of workers families and communities this volume reveals how race gender and privilege affected people in varied and sometimes unexpected ways

The End of Empires and a World Remade Martin Thomas, 2024-03-19 A capacious history of decolonization from the decline of empires to the era of globalization Empires until recently were everywhere They shaped borders stirred conflicts and set the terms of international politics With the collapse of empire came a fundamental reorganization of our world Decolonization unfolded across territories as well as within them Its struggles became internationalized and transnational as much global campaigns of moral disarmament against colonial injustice as local contests of arms In this expansive history Martin Thomas tells the story of decolonization and its intrinsic link to globalization He traces the connections between these two transformative processes the end of formal empire and the acceleration of global integration market reorganization cultural exchange and migration The End of Empires and a World Remade shows how profoundly decolonization shaped the process of globalization in the wake of empire collapse In the second half of the twentieth century decolonization catalyzed new international coalitions it triggered partitions and wars and it reshaped North South dynamics Globalization promised the decolonized greater access to essential resources to wider networks of influence and to worldwide audiences but its neoliberal variant has reinforced economic inequalities and imperial forms of political and cultural influences In surveying these two codependent histories across the world from Latin America to Asia Thomas explains why the deck was so heavily stacked against newly independent nations Decolonization stands alongside the great world wars as the most transformative event of twentieth century history In The End of Empires and a World Remade Thomas offers a masterful analysis of the greatest process of state making and empire unmaking in modern history
