The Geography of Names Gwilym Lucas Eades, 2016-07-15 This book examines geographical names place names and toponymy from philosophical and cultural evolutionary perspectives Geographical name tracking networks Geo NTN are posited as tools for tracking names through time and across space and for making sense of how names evolve both temporally and spatially Examples from North and South American indigenous groups the Canadian arctic Wales England and the Middle East are brought into a theoretical framework for making sense of aspects of place naming practices beliefs and systems New geographical tools such as geographic information systems GIS and global positioning systems GPS are demonstrated to be important in the production and maintenance of robust networks for keeping names and their associated meanings viable in a rapidly changing world where place naming is being taken up increasingly in social media and other new mapping platforms The Geography of Names makes the case that geographical names are transmitted memetically i.e. as cultural units or memes through what Saul Kripke called communication chains Combining insights from Kripke with views of later Wittgenstein on language and names as being inherently spatial the present work advances theories of both these thinkers into an explicitly geographical inquiry that advances philosophical and practical aspects of naming language and mapping

Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean: Meeting the Challenge for Conserving Earth Ecosystems in the Long Term Monica M. C. Muelbert, 2024-12-24 National and international agencies need assessments of change in ecosystems and their drivers in order to sustain natural systems to maintain the delivery of services and to meet the challenge for conserving Earth ecosystems in the long term In marine systems change may arise directly from human activities e.g. fisheries indirectly from local or global activities cascading effects through food webs from fisheries or changing environments from climate change and/or ocean acidification or from naturally varying processes A particular challenge for managers is to identify how dangerous future climate change will be for ecosystems and their services and whether mitigation or adaptation may be needed in advance in order to achieve the conservation requirements For regions of international attention particularly those that have the attention of many management or policy oriented bodies a standardized process is needed to harmonize the scientific information on the status and trends in ecosystems used by the different bodies That process also needs to ensure the information is available in a timely manner For example assessments of change in habitats species and/or food webs in the Southern Ocean are currently compiled separately for at least ten different international organizations or processes A Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean MEASO aims to harmonize that information for policy makers This assessment began with an international conference in April 2018 <http://www.measo2018.aq> where it was agreed to undertake the first MEASO over 2018-2019 with the view to provide the outcomes to relevant bodies such as the Scientific Committee for the Conservation of Antarctic Marine Living Resources soon after

UAV Photogrammetry and Remote Sensing Fernando Carvajal-Ramírez,Francisco Agüera-Vega,Patricio Martínez-Carricondo,2021-09-06 The concept of remote sensing as a way of capturing information from an object without making contact with it has until recently been exclusively focused on the use of Earth observation satellites The emergence of unmanned aerial vehicles UAV with Global Navigation Satellite System GNSS controlled navigation and sensor carrying capabilities has increased the number of publications related to new remote sensing from much closer distances Previous knowledge about the behavior of the Earth s surface under the incidence different wavelengths of energy has been successfully applied to a large amount of data recorded from UAVs thereby increasing the spatial and temporal resolution of the products obtained More specifically the ability of UAVs to be positioned in the air at pre programmed coordinate points to track flight paths and in any case to record the coordinates of the sensor position at the time of the shot and at the pitch yaw and roll angles have opened an interesting field of applications for low altitude aerial photogrammetry known as UAV photogrammetry In addition photogrammetric data processing has been improved thanks to the combination of new algorithms e g structure from motion SfM which solves the collinearity equations without the need for any control point producing a cloud of points referenced to an arbitrary coordinate system and a full camera calibration and the multi view stereopsis MVS algorithm which applies an expanding procedure of sparse set of matched keypoints in order to obtain a dense point cloud The set of technical advances described above allows for geometric modeling of terrain surfaces with high accuracy minimizing the need for topographic campaigns for georeferencing of such products This Special Issue aims to compile some applications realized thanks to the synergies established between new remote sensing from close distances and UAV photogrammetry
