American Book Publishing Record, 2003 Biography and History in Film Thomas S. Freeman, David L. Smith, 2019-10-14 The essays in this volume seek to analyze biographical films as representations of historical individuals and the times in which they lived To do this contributors examine the context in which certain biographical films were made including the state of knowledge about their subjects at that moment and what these films reveal about the values and purposes of those who created them This is an original approach to biographical as opposed to historical films and one that has so far played little part in the growing literature on historical films The films discussed here date from the 1920s to the 2010s and deal with males and females in periods ranging from the Middle Ages to the end of the twentieth century In the process the book discusses how biographical films reflect changing attitudes towards issues such as race gender and sexuality and examines the influence of these films on popular perceptions of the past The introduction analyses the nature of biographical films as a genre it compares and contrasts the nature of biography on film with written biographies and considers their relationship with the discipline of history As the first collection of essays on this popular but understudied genre this book will be of interest to historians as well as those in film and cultural studies

Political Leadership for the New Century Linda O. Valenty, Ofer Feldman, 2002-03-30 Valenty Feldman and their contributors challenge the current state of political leadership studies by offering a variety of analytical methods from scholars around the world While focused on American political leadership the different approaches and vantage points offer fresh insights of the roles of cultural and political context including the historical circumstance environmental factors and socialization agents that affect and shape American political leadership and performance The highly unusual and valuable approach includes multidisciplinary perspectives with contributors from the fields of political science political psychology philosophy sociology and economics Scholars students and researchers from a variety of disciplines will find the evaluations of the interaction between personality leadership decision making and context invaluable
