Miles, 2020-03-02 Torture doctors invent and oversee techniques to inflict pain and suffering without leaving scars Their knowledge of the body and its breaking points and their credible authority over death certificates and medical records make them powerful and elusive perpetrators of the crime of torture In The Torture Doctors Steven H Miles fearlessly explores who these physicians are what they do how they escape justice and what can be done to hold them accountable At least one hundred countries employ torture doctors including both dictatorships and democracies While torture doctors mostly act with impunity protected by governments medical associations and licensing boards Miles shows that a movement has begun to hold these doctors accountable and to return them to their proper role as promoters of health and human rights Miles's groundbreaking portrayal exposes the thinking and psychology of these doctors and his investigation points to how the international human rights community and the medical community can come together to end these atrocities Doctors' Orders Tania M. Jenkins, 2020-07-21 The United States does not have enough doctors Every year since the 1950s internationally trained and osteopathic medical graduates have been needed to fill residency positions because there are too few American trained MDs However these international and osteopathic graduates have to significantly outperform their American MD counterparts to have the same likelihood of getting a residency position And when they do they often end up in lower prestige training programs while American trained MDs tend to occupy elite training positions Some programs are even fully segregated accepting exclusively U S medical graduates or non U S medical graduates depending on the program s prestige How do international and osteopathic medical graduates end up so marginalized and what allows U S trained MDs to remain elite Doctors Orders offers a groundbreaking examination of the construction and consequences of status distinctions between physicians before during and after residency training Tania M Jenkins spent years observing and interviewing American international and osteopathic medical residents in two hospitals to reveal the unspoken mechanisms that are taken for granted and that lead to hierarchies among supposed equals She finds that the United States does not need formal policies to prioritize American trained MDs By relying on a system of informal beliefs and practices that equate status with merit and eclipse structural disadvantages the profession convinces international and osteopathic graduates to participate in a system that subordinates them to American trained MDs Offering a rare ethnographic look at the inner workings of an elite profession Doctors Orders sheds new light on the formation of informal status hierarchies and their significance for both doctors and patients

Imposter Doctors Rebekah Bernard, 2023-06-01 When you experience a medical emergency you expect to be treated by a licensed physician with expertise in your condition What happens when you look up from your hospital gurney to find that the doctor has been replaced by a non physician practitioner with just a small fraction of the training and experience From the co author of Patients at Risk The Rise of the Nurse Practitioner and Physician Assistant in Healthcare the first book to warn of the systematic replacement of physicians comes Imposter Doctors an even more frightening expos of patient endangerment at the hands of for profit corporate entities and healthcare conglomerates In the two years since Patients at Risk debuted the employment of non physician practitioners has continued to skyrocket While advocates insist that nurse practitioners and physician assistants are just as good as physicians they are wrong Despite over fifty years of scientific analysis there is no conclusive evidence that non physicians can provide safe and effective medical care without physician oversight In fact recent studies have shown the opposite that the replacement of physicians puts patients at risk The only cure for today s healthcare crisis is for patients to become informed about who is providing their care We must all know the difference in clinician education and training and demand answers from those who would deprive us of physician led care
