Vol. 3 of 7 Edgar Thurston, 2020-03-20 Excerpt We embarked he writes in a boat at Hampi on the Tungabhadra which exactly corresponds to my idea of the coracle of the ancient Britons It consists of a very large round wicker basket about eight or nine feet in diameter covered over with leather and propelled by paddles As a rule it spins round and round but the boatmen can keep it fairly straight when exhorted to do so as they were on this occasion Some straw had been placed in the bottom of the coracle and we were also allowed the luxury of chairs to sit upon but it is safer to sit on the straw as a chair in a coracle is generally in a state of unstable equilibrium I remember once crossing a river in the Trichinopoly district in a coracle to take a confirmation at a village on the other side It was thought more suitable to the dignity of the occasion that I should sit upon a chair in the middle of the coracle and I weakly consented to do so All the villagers were assembled to meet us on the opposite bank four policemen were drawn up as a guard of honour and a brass band brought from Tanjore stood ready in the background As we came to the shore the villagers salaamed the guard of honour saluted the band struck up a tune faintly resembling See the conquering hero comes the coracle bumped heavily against the shelving bank my chair tipped up 3 and I was deposited heels up on my back in the straw We were rowed for about two miles down the stream The current was very swift and there were rapids at frequent intervals Darkness overtook us and it was not altogether a pleasant sensation being whirled swiftly over the rapids in our frail looking boat with ugly rocks jutting out of the stream on either side But the boatmen seemed to know the river perfectly and were extraordinarily expert in steering the coracle with their paddles
