Innovation shapes wars and twelve studies by former faculty members of West Point's United States Military Academy examine specific cases of past and present military innovation. The complex competitive and dynamic environment that defines war drives combatants to seek solutions to potentially lethal problems. As some solutions prove effective, gain traction, and win emulation, they follow a path of innovation. The chapters address a broad array of innovations including in weapon technology, strategy, research and development, philosophy, organization of the military instrument, and leveraging maps for strategic goals. Geographically, the examples in this volume span four continents and the Mediterranean Sea, and chronologically, they proceed from the twelfth century to the twenty-first. Collectively, the studies point to the interconnected value of pursuing constructive solutions to challenges, networking interdisciplinary forms of knowledge appropriately, balancing expectations and capabilities, and understanding an innovation as a journey rather than as an episodic event.

Resources in Education, 2001-04 Churchill, America and Vietnam, 1941-45 T. Smith, 2011-10-28 Put in the wider context of British imperial and diplomatic aims in 1941-1945, the book clarifies the importance of Vietnam to Britain's regional objectives in Southeast Asia, concluding that Churchill was willing to sacrifice French colonial interests in Vietnam for his all-important special relationship with the United States. World History Candice Goucher, Linda Walton, 2013-03-12 World History Journeys from Past to Present uses common themes to present an integrated and comprehensive survey of human history from its origins to the present day. By weaving together thematic and regional perspectives in coherent chronological narratives, Goucher and Walton transform the overwhelming sweep of the human past into a truly global story that is relevant to the contemporary issues of our time. Revised and updated throughout, the second edition of this innovative textbook combines clear chronological progression with thematically focused chapters divided into six parts as follows: PART 1 EMERGENCE: Human origins to 500 CE; PART 2 ORDER: 1 CE to 1500 CE; PART 3 CONNECTIONS: 500-1600 CE; PART 4 BRIDGING WORLDS: 1300-1800 CE; PART 5 TRANSFORMING LIVES: 1500-1900; PART 6 FORGING A GLOBAL COMMUNITY: 1800-Present. The expanded new edition features an impressive full-color design with a host of illustrations, maps, and primary source excerpts integrated throughout. Chapter-opening timelines supply context for the material ahead, while end-of-chapter questions and annotated additional resources provide students with the tools for independent study. Each chapter and part boasts introductory and summary essays that guide the reader in comprehending the relevant theme. In addition, the companion website offers a range of resources, including an interactive historical timeline, an indispensable study skills section for students, tips for teaching and learning thematically, and PowerPoint slides for lecture.
