Chinati Marianne Stockebrand, Donald Judd, Chinati Foundation, 2020 A beautiful book on the famed Chinati Foundation in Marfa Texas The Chinati Foundation a world famous destination for large scale contemporary art was founded by Donald Judd 1928 1994 to preserve and present a select number of permanent installations that were inextricably linked to the surrounding landscape in Marfa Texas This handsome publication first published in 2010 and now available with a new chapter devoted to the permanent installation by Robert Irwin that was inaugurated in 2016 and a new foreword by Jenny Moore director of the Chinati Foundation describes how Judd developed his ideas of the role of art and museums from the early 1960s onward culminating in the creation of Chinati The individual installations featured here include work by John Chamberlain Dan Flavin David Rabinowitch Roni Horn Ilya Kabakov Richard Long Ing Ifur Arnarsson Carl Andre Claes Oldenburg and Coosje Van Bruggen and John Wesley as well as by Judd himself The book also features a complete catalogue of the collection and writings by Judd relating to Chinati and Marfa Published in association with the Chinati Foundation La Fundaci n Chinati Donald Judd Annie Ochmanek, Alex Kitnick, 2021 Gathers the main monographic essays written on the work of one of the most influential American artists of the postwar era Donald Judd Interviews Donald Judd, 2019-11-12 Donald Judd Interviews presents sixty interviews with the artist over the course of four decades and is the first compilation of its kind It is the companion volume to the critically acclaimed and bestselling Donald Judd Writings This collection of interviews engages a diverse range of topics from philosophy and politics to Judd s insightful critiques of his own work and the work of others such as Mark di Suvero Edward Hopper Yayoi Kusama Barnett Newman and Jackson Pollock The opening discussion of the volume between Judd Dan Flavin and Frank Stella provides the foundation for many of the succeeding conversations focusing on the nature and material conditions of the new art developing in the 1960s The publication also gathers a substantial body of unpublished material across a range of mediums including extensive interviews with art historians Lucy R Lippard and Barbara Rose Judd s contributions in interviews panels and extemporaneous conversations are marked by his forthright manner and rigorous thinking whether in dialogue with art critics art historians or his contemporaries In one of the last interviews he observed Generally expensive art is in expensive chic circumstances it s a falsification The society is basically not interested in art And most people who are artists do that because they like the work they like to do that make art Art has an integrity of its own and a purpose of its own and it s not to serve the society That s been tried now in the Soviet Union and lots of places and it doesn t work The only role I can think of in a very general way for the artist is that they tend to shake up the society a little bit just by their existence in which case it helps undermine the general political stagnation and perhaps by providing a little freedom supports science which requires freedom If the artist isn t free you won t have any art Donald Judd Interviews is co published by Judd Foundation and David Zwirner Books The interviews expand upon the artist's thinking present in Donald Judd Writings Judd Foundation David Zwirner Books 2016

The New Monuments and the End of Man Robert Slifkin, 2019-11-05 How leading American artists reflected on the fate of humanity in the nuclear era through monumental sculpture In the wake of the atomic bombings of Japan in 1945 artists in the United States began to question what it meant to create a work of art in a world where humanity could be rendered extinct by its own hand The New Monuments and the End of Man examines how some of the most important artists of postwar America revived the neglected tradition of the sculptural monument as a way to grapple with the cultural and existential anxieties surrounding the threat of nuclear annihilation Robert Slifkin looks at such iconic works as the industrially evocative welded steel sculptures of David Smith the austere structures of Donald Judd and the desolate yet picturesque earthworks of Robert Smithson Transforming how we understand this crucial moment in American art he traces the intersections of postwar sculptural practice with cybernetic theory science fiction cinema and literature and the political debates surrounding nuclear warfare Slifkin identifies previously unrecognized affinities of the sculpture of the 1940s and 1950s with the minimalism and land art of the 1960s and 1970s and acknowledges the important contributions of postwar artists who have been marginalized until now such as Raoul Hague Peter Grippe and Robert Mallery Strikingly illustrated throughout The New Monuments and the End of Man spans the decades from Hiroshima to the Fall of Saigon when the atomic bomb cast its shadow over American art

Abstract Painting and the Minimalist Critiques Matthew L. Levy, 2019-05-07 This book undertakes a critical reappraisal of Minimalism through an examination of three key painters Robert Mangold David Novros and Jo Baer By establishing their substantive engagements with Minimalist discourse as well as their often overlooked artistic exchanges with their sculptor peers it demonstrates that painting crucially informed the movement's development serving not only as an object of critique but also as a crucible for its most central tenets It also poses broader disciplinary implications as it historicizes and challenges Minimalism's death of painting critiques that have been so influential to theories of modernism and postmodernism in the visual arts Donald Judd.
