Chinese Circulations Capital Commodities And Networks In Southeast Asia:

Chinese Circulations Eric Tagliacozzo, Wen-chin Chang, 2011-04-13 This collection of twenty essays provides an unprecedented overview of Chinese trade through the centuries highlighting its scope diversity complexity and the commodities that have linked it with Southeast Asia Conflict and Commerce in Maritime East Asia Xing Hang, 2016-01-05 The Zheng family of merchants and militarists emerged from the tumultuous seventeenth century amid a severe economic depression a harrowing dynastic transition from the ethnic Chinese Ming to the Manchu Qing and the first wave of European expansion into East Asia Under four generations of leaders over six decades the Zheng had come to dominate trade across the China Seas Their average annual earnings matched and at times exceeded those of their fiercest rivals the Dutch East India Company Although nominally loyal to the Ming in its doomed struggle against the Manchus the Zheng eventually forged an autonomous territorial state based on Taiwan with the potential to encompass the family's entire economic sphere of influence Through the story of the Zheng Xing Hang provides a fresh perspective on the economic divergence of early modern China from western Europe its twenty first century resurgence and the meaning of a Chinese identity outside China

Trade and Empire in Early Nineteenth-century Southeast Asia G. R. Knight, 2015 Discusses the complexities of a trading network in this period outlining commodity chains links between colonies and colonial centres and tensions between local polities and competing empires Transnational Dynamics in Southeast Asia Nathalie Fau, Sirivanh Khonthapane, Christian Taillard, 2014 Since the 1990s regional organizations of the United Nations and international financial institutions have adopted a new dynamic of transnational integration within the framework of the regionalization process of globalization In place of the growth triangles of the 1970s a strategy based on transnational economic corridors has changed the scale of regionalization Rising China and New Chinese Migrants in Southeast Asia Leo Suryadinata, Benjamin Loh, 2022-11-28 New Chinese migration is a recent development that has just entered an initial phase An overarching theme and conclusion across the sixteen chapters in this volume is that China's policy towards Chinese migrants has changed from period to period and it is still too early for us to determine if Beijing will continue to pursue the policy of luoye guigen return to original roots or will revert to one of luodi shenggen sink into local roots The various chapters also show that the profile motivations and outlooks of xin yimin new Chinese migrants have become more diverse while local reactions to these new migrants have become less accommodating with increasing nationalism Minority Stages Josh Stenberg, 2019-08-31 Minority Stages Sino Indonesian Performance and Public Display offers intriguing new perspectives on historical and contemporary Sino Indonesian performance For the first time in a major study this community's diverse performance practices are brought together as a family of genres Combining fieldwork with evidence from Indonesian Chinese and Dutch primary and secondary sources Josh Stenberg takes a close look at Chinese Indonesian self representation covering genres from the Dutch colonial period to the present day From glove puppets of Chinese origin in East Java and Hakka religious processions in West Kalimantan to wartime political theatre on Sumatra and contemporary Sino Sundanese choirs and dance groups in Bandung this book takes readers on a tour of hybrid and diverse expressions of identity tracing the stories and strategies of minority self representation over time Each performance form is placed in its social and historical context highlighting how Sino Indonesian groups and individuals have represented themselves locally and nationally to the archipelago's majority population as well as to Indonesian state power In the last twenty years the long political suppression of manifestations of Chinese culture in Indonesia has lifted and a wealth of evidence now coming to light shows how Sino Indonesians have long been an integral part of Indonesian culture including the performing arts Valorizing that contribution challenges essentialist readings of ethnicity or minority complicates the profile of a group that is often considered solely in socioeconomic terms and enriches the understanding of Indonesian culture Southeast Asian Chinese identities and transnational cultural exchanges Minority Stages helps counter the dangerous either/or thinking that is a mainstay of ethnic essentialism in general and of Chinese and Indonesian nationalisms in particular by showing the fluidity and adaptability of Sino Indonesian identity as expressed in performance and public display Negotiating Abolition Shawna

Herzog, 2020-12-10 Negotiating Abolition The Antislavery Project in the British Straits Settlements 1786-1843 explores how sex and gender complicated the enforcement of colonial anti-slavery policies in the region the challenges local officials faced in identifying slave populations and how European reclassification of slave labor to systems of indenture or free labor created a new illicit trade for women and girls to the Straits Settlements of Southeast Asia Through a history of early 19th century slavery and abolition in this often overlooked region in British imperial history Herzog bridges a historiographical gap between colonial and modern slave systems She discusses the dynamic intersectionality between perceptions of race class gender and civilization within the Straits and how this informed behavior and policy regarding slavery abolition and prostitution within the settlement This book provides an important new perspective for scholars of slavery interested in Southeast Asia British imperialism in the Indian Ocean world and Asia the East India Company in the Straits and gender and sexuality in the context of empire Pacific America Lon Kurashige, 2017-07-31 In recent times the Asia Pacific region has far surpassed Europe in terms of reciprocal trade with the United States and since the 1980s immigrants from Asia entering the United States have exceeded their counterparts from Europe reversing a longstanding historical trend and making Asian Americans the country's fastest growing racial group What does transpacific history look like if the arc of the story is extended to the present The essays in this volume offer answers to this question challenging current assumptions about transpacific relations Many of these assumptions are expressed through fear that the ascendance of China threatens a U.S. led world system and undermines domestic economies that immigrants subvert national unity and that globalization for all its transcending of international cultural and racial differences generates its own forms of prejudice and social divisions that reproduce global and national inequalities The contributors make clear that these fears associated with and induced by acific integration are not new Rather they are the most recent manifestation of international racial and cultural conflicts that have driven transpacific relations in its premodern and especially modern iterations Pacific America differs from other books that are beginning to flesh out the transnational history of the Pacific Ocean in that it is more self consciously a people s history While diplomatic and economic relations are addressed the chapters are particularly concerned with histories from the bottom up including attention to social relations and processes individual and group agency racial and cultural perception and collective memory These perspectives are embodied in the four sections focusing on China and the early modern world circuits of migration and trade racism and imperialism and the significance of Pacific islands The last section on Pacific Islanders avoids a common failing in popular perception that focuses on both sides of the Pacific Ocean while overlooking the many islands in between The chapters in this section take on one of the key challenges for transpacific history in connecting the migration and imperial histories of the United States Japan China Korea Vietnam and other nations with the history of Oceania

Transpacific Engagements Florina H. Capistrano-Baker, Meha Priyadarshini, 2020-01-01

Between the sixteenth and nineteenth centuries competing European empires notably Spain Portugal Great Britain the Netherlands Germany France Belgium and others vied for commercial and political control of transoceanic networks particularly the transpacific routes between Asia and the Americas The essays in Transpacific Engagements Trade Translation and Visual Culture of Entangled Empires 1565 1898 address the resulting cultural and artistic exchanges with an emphasis on both the Spanish and American enterprises in the Asia Pacific region The essays are grouped into three parts entitled Entangled Empires Empires and Translations and Empires and Trade A common thread in the diverse perspectives presented here is the importance of transpacific engagements to the global connections of the sixteenth century and beyond While the focus is on the specific connection between the Asia Pacific region and the Americas through the Philippines we see how other parts of the world notably South and Southeast Asia and Europe were also participants impacted by these transpacific linkages The goal is to convey the complexity of entangled networks of commercial political and religious interests that complicate the Spanish enterprise in the Pacific Commercial ventures into Canton and Manila by the early American republic for example overlapped with and later replaced the Spanish galleons East South and Southeast Asian polities and dynasties remained powerful players in what were often multilateral rather than bilateral exchanges

In Asian Waters Eric Tagliacozzo, 2022-07-19 A sweeping account of how the sea routes of Asia have transformed a vast expanse of the globe over the past five hundred years powerfully shaping the modern world In the centuries leading up to our own the volume of traffic across Asian sea routes an area stretching from East Africa and the Middle East to Japan grew dramatically eventually making them the busiest in the world The result was a massive circulation of people commodities religion culture technology and ideas In this book Eric Tagliacozzo chronicles how the seas and oceans of Asia have shaped the history of the largest continent for the past half millennium leaving an indelible mark on the modern world in the process. Paying special attention to migration, trade, the environment and cities, In Asian Waters examines the long history of contact between China and East Africa, the spread of Hinduism and Buddhism across the Bay of Bengal, and the intertwined histories of Islam and Christianity in the Philippines. The book illustrates how India became central to the spice trade, how the Indian Ocean became a British lake between the seventeenth and nineteenth centuries, and how lighthouses and sea mapping played important roles in imperialism. The volume ends by asking what may happen if China comes to rule the waves of Asia as Britain once did. A novel account showing how Asian history can be seen as a whole when seen from the water, In Asian Waters presents a voyage into a past that is still alive in the present.

Schooling Diaspora Karen M. Teoh, 2018. Schooling Diaspora looks into the motivations and strategies of missionaries, colonial authorities, and Chinese reformists and revolutionaries for educating girls, as well as the impact that this education had on identity formation among overseas Chinese women and larger society.

China's Encounters on the South and Southwest James A. Anderson, John K. Whitmore, 2014-11-06. China's Encounters on the South and Southwest: Reforging the Fiery Frontier Over Two Millennia discusses the mountainous territory between lowland China and Southeast Asia, what we term the Dong world, and varied encounters by China with this world's many elements. The essays describe such encounters over the past two millennia and note various asymmetric relations that have resulted therefrom. Local populations, indigenous chiefs, state officials, and rulers have all acted to shape this frontier, especially after the Mongol incursions of the thirteenth century drastically shifted it. This process has moved from the alliances of the Dong world to the indirect rule of the Tusi, native official, age to the Qing, and recent Gaitu Guiliu efforts at direct rule by the state, placing regular officials in charge there. The essays detail the complexities of this frontier through time, space, and personality, particularly in those instances as today on land and sea when China elects to pursue an aggressive policy in this direction. Contributors include Brantly Womack, Kenneth MacLean, Amy Holmes, Tagchungdarpa, Bradley Davis, Jaymin Kim, Alexander Ong, Joseph Dennis Sun, Laichen John K. Whitmore, Kathlene Baldanza, Kenneth M. Swope, Michael Brose, James A. Anderson, Liam Kelley, and Catherine Churchman.

The Political Economy of Transnational Governance Hong Liu, 2021-11-29. The past two decades have witnessed far-reaching socioeconomic and political changes in Asia, such as the growing intraregional flows of capital, goods, people, and knowledge; the rise of China as the world's second largest economy; and its increasing influence in Southeast Asia. Intensified US-China confrontations in the global arena and the onslaught of the global COVID-19 pandemic. Focusing on multidimensional interactions, including geopolitical and economic relationships, diaspora engagement, and knowledge exchange between China and Southeast Asia, this book argues that an interwoven perspective of the political economy, transnational governance, and regional networks serves as an effective analytical framework for deciphering these transformations, as well as their global and theoretical implications. Drawing upon a wide range of primary data and engaging with the latest interdisciplinary scholarship on contemporary Asia.

this book's thought provoking and nuanced analyses will appeal to scholars and students in Chinese and Southeast Asian studies international political economy international relationships ethnic and migration studies and public governance The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

The Archaeology of Early Colonial Manila Ellen Hsieh, 2025-01-14 A view into the diverse culture of the Philippines in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Although Manila capital city of the Philippines played a critical role in economic and cultural exchanges between the East and the West during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries little is known about what life was like for its residents during this time In this book Ellen Hsieh uses archaeological historical and ethnographic resources to document the ways Manila was transformed by the arrival of Spanish colonists in 1571 and how the city in turn shaped the modern world Manila was uniquely positioned as a crossroads in the networks of Southeast Asia East Asia and Iberia resulting in a hybridized culture where colonial Spanish Indigenous Tagalog and overseas Chinese groups exchanged goods and ideas In The Archaeology of Early Colonial Manila Hsieh analyzes material goods such as ceramics from Intramuros the Spanish walled city and Parian the Chinese quarter and illustrations from the Boxer Codex a Spanish manuscript featuring images of people in the Philippines and surrounding areas to illuminate the diversity of Manila society and to unravel the intricate power dynamics among these ethnic groups Bridging the gap in research between pre Spanish and late colonial periods and amplifying the voices of non elite diasporic and colonized communities often overlooked in historical documents Hsieh provides an important focus on Manila's contributions to world history during a period of intense globalization

China and the Islamic World Robert R. Bianchi, 2019-02-01 China is building a New Silk Road that runs through the heartland of the Muslim world promising it will create integrated economies and stronger ties across Eurasia and Africa Robert R Bianchi argues that while China has the financial and technical resources to accomplish its infrastructure goals it is woefully unprepared to deal with the social and political demands of its partner countries citizens China and the Islamic World explores how China's leaders and citizens are learning through their relationships with Pakistan Turkey Indonesia Iran Nigeria and Egypt that they have to respect and adjust to the aspirations of ordinary people throughout the Islamic world not just cater to the narrow band of government and business elites Bianchi demonstrates that turbulent countries along the New Silk Road are likely to transform Chinese society at least as much as China changes them This realization will be deeply unsettling for China's authoritarian rulers who desperately want to monopolize power domestically The party and state bosses have responded to challenges with a contradictory blend of flexibility abroad and rigidity at home compromising with popular demands in one country after another while refusing to negotiate many of the same issues with their own citizens This book shows how China faces a growing struggle to maintain their double sided statecraft as it becomes apparent that the New Silk Road is not a one way street

Miracles and Material Life Teren Sevea, 2020-07-30 In this ground breaking new study Teren Sevea reveals the economic environmental and religious significance of Islamic miracle workers pawangs in the nineteenth and twentieth century Malay world Through close textual analysis of hitherto overlooked manuscripts and personal interaction with modern pawangs readers are introduced to a universe of miracle workers that existed both in the past and in the present uncovering connections between miracles and material life Sevea demonstrates how societies in which the production and extraction of natural resources as well as the uses of technology were intertwined with the knowledge of charismatic religious figures and locates the role of the pawangs in the spiritual economy of the Indian Ocean world across maritime connections and Sufi networks and on the frontier of the British Empire Migrating Fujianese Guotong Li,2016-11-07 With the Fujian coast at its center this book reveals the intellectual migratory and gendered relationships that tied Fijian to the Chinese imperial domain and to its overseas networks This Fujian study also offers ways to analyze local histories of late imperial China from a more global perspective Based on a wide range of sources such as business contracts legal documents women s writings and folksongs Migrating Fujianese elucidates China s southeast coast and its migration patterns Examining this multi ethnic migrant community through the lens of ethnicity shows the complex operation of linked chain migration overseas male emigration and overland family migration by the ethnic She people and its impact on the gender relations and family strategies of the coastal people The study argues that examination of Fujianese migration through the lenses of gender and ethnicity is crucial to understanding the relationship between the flow of people and the society nourishing that flow Networks beyond Empires Huei-Ying Kuo,2015-08-24 In Networks beyond Empires Kuo examines business and nationalist activities of the Chinese bourgeoisie in Hong Kong and Singapore between 1914 and 1941 The book argues that speech group ties were key to understanding the intertwining relationship between business and nationalism Organization of transnational businesses and nationalist campaigns overlapped with the boundary of Chinese speech group networks Embedded in different political economic contexts these networks fostered different responses to the decline of the British power the expansion of the Japanese empire as well as the contested state building processes in China Through negotiating with the imperialist powers and Chinese state builders Chinese bourgeoisie overseas contributed to the making of an autonomous space of diasporic nationalism in the Hong Kong Singapore corridor Border Studies Thomas M. Wilson,2025-08-11 This multidisciplinary book provides a diverse overview of social science approaches to geopolitical borders social boundaries and cultural frontiers An array of esteemed specialists examine political imaginaries of border security and identify methodological innovations that will enhance future scholarly work in the field They also discuss the multiplicity of borders with a view to addressing the question how far have we come Migration in the Time of Revolution Taomo Zhou,2019-10-15 Migration in the Time of Revolution explores the complex relationship between China and Indonesia from 1945 to 1967 during a period when citizenship identity and political loyalty were in flux Taomo Zhou examines the experiences of migrants including youths seeking an ancestral homeland they had never seen and economic refugees whose skills were unwelcome in a socialist state Zhou argues that these migrants played an active role in shaping the diplomatic relations between Beijing and Jakarta rather than being passive subjects of historical forces By using newly declassified documents and oral history interviews Migration in the Time of Revolution demonstrates how the actions and decisions of ethnic Chinese migrants were crucial in the development of post war relations between China and Indonesia By integrating diplomatic history with migration studies Taomo Zhou provides a nuanced understanding of how ordinary people's lives intersected with broader political processes in Asia offering a fresh perspective on the Cold War's social dynamics
