Cordesman, Steven Colley, 2016-01-12 China's emergence as a global economic superpower and as a major regional military power in Asia and the Pacific has had a major impact on its relations with the United States and its neighbors China was the driving factor in the new strategy the United States announced in 2012 that called for a rebalance of U S forces to the Asia Pacific region At the same time China's actions on its borders in the East China Sea and in the South China Sea have shown that it is steadily expanding its geopolitical role in the Pacific and having a steadily increasing impact on the strategy and military developments in other Asian powers Strategic Forum, 1994 Nominations Before the Senate, ... S. Hrg. 112-745, February 9; March 29; April 26; July 19; November 15, 2012, 112-2 Hearings, , 2013 Withdrawal from Iraq Anthony H. Cordesman, Adam Mausner, 2009-08-12 Iraq and the US face a critical transition during the period through 2011 and beyond There is still a war to finish but this is only part of the challenge both countries face No one can be certain whether Iraq can achieve a stable level of political accommodation to deal with its internal problems Iran seeks to expand its influence and Turkey will not tolerate a sanctuary for hostile Kurdish movements like the PKK Arab support for Iraq remains weak and Iraq's Arab neighbors fear both Shi'ite dominance and what that could mean in terms of Iran's role in Syria and Lebanon as well as Iraq. Even if it moves forward towards stability and political accommodation and largely ends the insurgency it will be extremely difficult for Iraq to develop all of the security capabilities it needs for even the counterinsurgency mission before the full US withdrawal scheduled to take place by the end of 2011. This could force the US to hand over responsibility to the Iraqi Security Forces before these forces are fully able to do the job. It could also force the US to withdraw prematurely the US trainers and partner units that the IRS needs to secure the country and defend it from any threat from its neighbors. Dealing with these issues will be a critical priority for the US for at least half a decade to come. Chinese Naval Shipbuilding

Andrew S. Erickson, 2017-02-15 China's shipbuilding industry has grown more rapidly than any other in modern history. Commercial shipbuilding output jumped thirteen fold from 2002-12 ensuring that Beijing has largely reached its goal of becoming the world's leading shipbuilder. Yet progress is uneven with military shipbuilding leading overall but with significant weakness in propulsion and electronics for military and civilian applications. It has never been more important to assess what ships China can supply its navy and other maritime forces with today and in the future. Chinese Naval Shipbuilding answers three pressing questions: What are China's prospects for success in key areas of naval shipbuilding? What are the likely results for China's navy? What are the implications for the US Navy? To address these critical issues this volume assembles some of the world's leading experts and linguistic analysts often pairing them in research teams. These sailors, scholars, industry professionals and government specialists have commanded ships at sea, led shipbuilding programs ashore, toured Chinese vessels and production facilities, invested in Chinese shipyards and analyzed and presented important data to top level decision makers in times of crisis. In synthesizing their collective insights this book fills a key gap in our understanding of China, its shipbuilding industry, its navy and what it all means. Chinese and Indian Strategic Behavior

George J. Gilboy, Eric Heginbotham, 2012-03-12 Politics Government Handbook of Defence Politics Isaiah "Ike" Wilson III, James J.F. Forest of the US Military Academy West Point, USA, this volume is international in scope with pieces written by experts in the field offering a collection of up to date and balanced insights on key contemporary issues of concern to defence policymakers. The Changing Military Balance in the Koreas and Northeast Asia

Anthony H. Cordesman, Aaron Lin, 2015-07-07 The tensions between the Koreas and the potential involvement of China Japan Russia and the United States in a Korean conflict create a nearly open ended spectrum of possible conflicts These conflicts could range from posturing and threats to a major conventional conflict on the Korean peninsula with intervention by outside powers to the extreme of nuclear conflict The Korean balance is also affected by the uncertain mix of cooperation and competition between the United States and China particularly with the U.S. pivot toward Asia and the steady modernization of Chinese forces This new volume up to date through Spring 2015 provides a detailed examination of the military forces in Northeast Asia North and South Korea China Russia Japan and the United States setting those forces in the larger geostrategic context

The Dragon's Teeth Benjamin Lai, 2016-07-14 An in depth look at the past present and future of China's military When Mao Zedong proclaimed the People's Republic of China in 1949 China was a poor and wrecked society after years of continuous wars For centuries in fact China had been seen as a sort of plunder zone to be invaded and then a backwater until the late 1980s when domestic policy brought about monumental changes The result is that China has grown to be the second largest economy in the world and its military has grown proportionately Successive decades of economic growth have transformed China in addition to the weapons revolution during the computer age so that the People's Liberation Army PLA has become a modern fighting force No longer having to rely on massed infantry attacks it now features a formidable arsenal including nuclear submarines ICBMs stealth fighters and modern battle tanks Perhaps ominously for other maritime powers the Chinese have also focused on beyond the horizon missile technology as well as anti-aircraft systems and have explored the possibilities of cyber warfare What is today's PLA really like What are its traditions and histories and how is it armed and equipped How does it recruit and train This book describes some of the lesser known battles and wars the Chinese have undertaken and the development of their key weapons systems The United States having opened the door to drone warfare has had an attentive audience for such technologies in Beijing The last chapter provides thoughts on how the Chinese view matters of security It is not yet known whether foreign powers can still enforce their territorial wills on China but future attempts will meet an increased challenge
