examines the rhetorical power of storytelling in cookbooks to fortify notions of southernness Tippen brings to the table her ongoing hunt for recipe cards and evaluates a wealth of cookbooks with titles like Y all Come Over and Bless Your Heart and famous cookbooks such as Sean Brock s Heritage and Edward Lee s Smoke and Pickles She examines her own southern history grounding it all in a thorough understanding of the relevant literature The result is a deft and entertaining dive into the territory of southern cuisine black eyed peas and cornbread fried chicken and fried okra pound cake and peach cobbler and a look at and beyond southern food tropes that reveals much about tradition identity and the yearning for authenticity Tippen discusses the act of cooking as a way to perform and therefore reinforce the identity associated with a recipe and the complexities inherent in attempts to portray the foodways of a region marked by a sometimes distasteful history Inventing Authenticity meets this challenge head on delving into problems of cultural appropriation and representations of race thorny questions about authorship and more The commonplace but deceptively complex southern cookbook can sustain our sense of where we come from and who we are or who we think we are Recipes and Songs Razia Parveen, 2017-02-04 This book presents a systematic approach to the literary analysis of cultural practices Based on a postcolonial framework of diaspora the book utilizes literary theory to investigate cultural phenomena such as food preparation and song Razia Parveen explores various diverse themes including the female voice genealogy space time and diaspora and applies them to the analysis of community identity This volume also demonstrates how a literary analysis of oral texts helps to provide insight into women s lived narratives For example Parveen discusses how the notion of the third space creates a distinctly feminine spatiality
