Sutin, John C. Weidman, John L. Yeager, 2015-06-17 There seems to be renewed interest in having universities and other higher education institutions engage with their communities at the local national and international levels But what is community engagement Even if this interest is genuine and widespread there are many different concepts of community service outreach and engagement The wide range of activity encompassed by community engagement suggests that a precise definition of the community mission is difficult and organizing and coordinating such activities is a complex task This edited volume includes 18 chapters that explore conceptual understandings of community engagement and higher education reforms and initiatives intended to foster it Contributors provide empirical research findings including several case study examples that respond to the following higher education community engagement issues What is the community and what does it need and expect from higher education institutions Is community engagement a mission of all types of higher education institutions or should it be the mission of specific institutions such as regional or metropolitan universities technical universities community colleges or indigenous institutions while other institutions such as major research universities should concentrate on national and global research agendas and on educating internationally competent researchers and professionals How can a university be global and at the same time locally relevant Is it or should it be left to the institutions to determine the scope and mode of their community engagement or is a state mandate preferable and feasible If community engagement or community service are mandatory what are the consequences of not complying with the mandate How effective are policy mandates and university engagement for regional and local economic development What are the principal features and relationships of regionally engaged universities Is community engagement to be left to faculty members and students who are particularly socially engaged and locally embedded or is it or should it be made mandatory for both faculty and students How can community engagement be better integrated with the other two traditional missions of the university research and teaching Cover image The Towering Four fold Mission of Higher Education by Natalie Jacob

Salvation in African Christianity Rodney L. Reed, David K. Ngaruiya, 2023-10-31 What must I do to be saved That question raised in the book of Acts by the Philippian jailer is a question for the ages Yet what even does it mean to be saved Is salvation for this life or the next Is it purely spiritual or does it have physical and material implications Can salvation be lost Do we determine who will be saved or does God What role does Christ play in salvation Such are the seemingly unending questions soteriology strives to answer In this eighth volume from the Africa Society of Evangelical Theology African theologians articulate their understanding of salvation and its widespread implications for life and practice in conversation with Scripture and the rich diversity of an African cultural context Salvation is examined from historical philosophical and theological lenses and scholars address topics as wide ranging as conversion ethnicity fertility poverty prosperity the Trinity exclusivism African Pentecostalism rural community eschatology wholeness and atonement It is a powerful exploration of the holistic nature of salvation as articulated in Scripture and understood by the African church

Accessibility of Digital Higher Education in the Global South Mashau, Pfano, Farisani, Tshililo Ruddy, 2023-12-01 Accessibility of Digital Higher Education in the Global South authored by Pfano Mashau and Tshililo Farisani from the University of KwaZulu Natal South Africa is an academic book that examines the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on higher education in Africa The book aims to provide a comprehensive analysis of the sustainability of the new normal approaches in African universities and institutions of learning as well as government responses to teaching and learning processes during and post pandemic The sudden outbreak of COVID 19 triggered demands for informal comfortable and self designed spaces that go beyond conventional formal classrooms where students can take initiative and demonstrate independence in learning However access to digitalized teaching methods remains problematic due to the digital divide among learners and the rural urban dichotomy The book invites researchers academics and scholars in the Global South to contribute to the narrative to document successes in and improve the higher education sector post pandemic The book covers a range of themes including the sustainability of digitalized teaching approaches integrative and interactive teaching and learning theories and practices government responses to teaching and learning processes comparative analysis of conventional and digitalized teaching and learning approaches and equality diversity and participation in digitalized teaching and learning platforms among others
