Stawicki, Michael S. Firstenberg, Sagar C. Galwankar, Ricardo Izurieta, Thomas Papadimos, 2021-01-07 International health security IHS is a broad and highly heterogeneous area Within this general context IHS encompasses subdomains that potentially influence and more specifically endanger the well being and wellness of humans The general umbrella of IHS includes but is not limited to natural disasters emerging infectious diseases EID and pandemics rapid urbanization social determinants of health population growth systemic racism and discrimination environmental matters civilian violence and warfare various forms of terrorism misuse of antibiotics and the misuse of social media The need for this expanded definition of health security stems from the realization that topics such as EID food water and pharmaceutical supply chain safety medical and health information cybersecurity and bioterrorism although important within the overall realm of health security are not only able to actively modulate the wellness and health of human populations but also tend to do so in a synergistic fashion This inaugural tome of a multi volume collection Contemporary Developments and Perspectives in International Health Security introduces many of the topics directly relevant to modern IHS theory and practice This first volume provides a solid foundation for future installments of this important and relevant book series Adequacy, Diversity and Choice Among Primary School Children Shreelata Rao Seshadri, Jyoti Ramakrishna, 2017-10-20 This book highlights the reality of malnutrition among school age children in India and relates it with dietary adequacy diversity and choice Using empirical data from field research conducted in Karnataka India it documents the nutritional status of school going children and examines the socio economic determinants. It provides insights into changing dietary patterns by analysing case studies from households and schools and documents the impact of changing dietary choices on the daily nutritional intake of young children As the issue of nutrition for school age children is one that is largely neglected in the literature the book fills an important gap The book also investigates the policy framework for addressing the nutritional needs of school going children and assesses the available government sponsored interventions in terms of their efficiency and effectiveness measured by their impact on the nutritional indices of the target group It offers concrete recommendations for changing the nutritional intake of school going children Navigating through the socio cultural causes for changing food choice and their impact on children's nutritional outcomes this book shows a viable path to addressing malnutrition taking into account both macro level policy constraints and the micro level perspectives of families schools and communities

Tosef Arnould, 2018-11-27 A nutrition expert examines why Americans have been eating poorly and offers easy money saving ways to eat better healthier more nutritious foods Obesity diabetes dementia and related epidemics plaquing Americans today are primarily the result of deceptive dietary advice that began in the 1950s By following that advice faithfully throughout the last half of the twentieth century most Americans became helpless victims of these diseases Now in American Diet Revolution Dr

Josef Arnould reveals how Americans can throw off the chains of that 1950s dietary advice overcome these epidemics and regain the personal freedom of good health He conveys why Americans must eliminate the fattening inflaming toxic industrial foodstuffs that have dominated their diets for decades and how they can easily do so Additionally American Diet Revolution shares simple and economical strategies to purchase and prepare nutritious foods to replace the toxic ones of the past Then in an empowering finale Dr Arnould takes the genre of dietary advice to a new place and demonstrates that by rejecting the deceitful dietary advice of yesteryear Americans are inciting a second American Revolution In the process of creating new diets and new food economics based upon honest nutritional research Americans are revolting peacefully but powerfully against all individuals and organizations that previously maximized their power and profits by colonizing Americans with toxic information toxic foods and toxic drugs
