Colonialism and Foreign Ownership of Capital (Routledge Revivals) Bharat Hazari, 2015-12-22 First published in 1982 Foreign control of capital is a major problem for many developing countries and can lead to the exercise of a form of colonial control whereby capital is provided for political rather than economic reasons This book discusses the implications of this phenomenon for trade theory and the amount of pressure that foreign countries can exert The opening chapter examines the themes of de industrialisation of stagnation after an initial spurt in economic activity and the premise that inflows of capital do not necessarily generate growth and expansion These initial discussions are developed in the subsequent chapters where the effects of foreign ownership on the host country's economy and trade are dealt with fully This work would be of interest to students of economics and development Colonialism and Foreign Ownership of Capital Bharat R. Hazari, 2016

HAZARI, 1982 Blood and Money David McNally, 2020-05-05 The history of money and its violent and oppressive origins from slavery to war by the author of Global Slump In most accounts of the origins of money we are offered pleasant tales in which it arises to the mutual benefit of all parties as a result of barter But in this groundbreaking study David McNally reveals the true story of money's origins and development as one of violence and human bondage Money's emergence and its transformation are shown to be intimately connected to the buying and selling of slaves and the waging of war Blood and Money demonstrates the ways that money has internalized its violent origins making clear that it has become a concentrated force of social power and domination Where Adam Smith observed that monetary wealth represents command over labor this paradigm shifting book amends his view to define money as comprising the command over persons and their bodies This fascinating and informative study rich in novel insights treats money not as an abstraction from its social base but as deeply embedded in its essential functions and origins in brutal violence and harsh oppression Noam Chomsky A fine grained historical analysis of the interconnection between war enslavement finance and money from classical times to present Jeff Noonan author of The Troubles of Democracy McNally casts an unsparing light on the origins of money and capitalism itself in this scathing Marxist informed account McNally builds a powerful richly documented argument that unchecked capitalism prioritizes greed and violence over compassion T his searing academic treatise makes a convincing case Publishers Weekly resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world

SouthSouth Trade and Finance in the Twenty-First Century Omar Dahi, Firat Demir, 2016-10-10 This book is a contribution to the international trade and economic development literature and is based on a decade of joint research and collaboration on South South economic relations Given the increasing focus on the economic power of some developing countries for example the 2013 Human Development Report's Rise of the South it is particularly appropriate and timely NP The book's findings are based on rigorous empirical examination of South South trade and finance and it provides an even handed assessment from the perspective of long term development goals rather than mainstream welfare approaches or ideological theoretical worldview NP This work directly engages with the new developmentalism literature that has challenged the neoliberal orthodoxy and its policy approach which focuses on liberalization privatization and deregulation It also engages with literature by examining whether the increase in South South trade facilitates or inhibits the possibilities for developmentalist economic policy in developing countries The book shows concrete and positive results from South South trade particularly related to industrial development and also documents how South South trade is dominated by large developing countries and that South South trade liberalization may be counterproductive

Rethinking Statehood in Palestine Leila H. Farsakh, 2021-10-26 The quest for an inclusive and independent state has been at the center of the Palestinian national struggle for a very long time This book critically reexamines this quest by exploring the meaning of Palestinian statehood and the challenges that face alternative models to it today Rethinking Statehood in Palestine gives prominence to a young set of diverse Palestinian scholars both men and women to show how notions of citizenship sovereignty and nationhood are being currently rethought within the broader context of decolonization Bringing forth critical and multifaceted engagements with what Palestinian self determination entails within a larger regional context this groundbreaking book sets the terms of debate for the future of Palestine beyond partition

Property Rights in Outer Space Matthew Johnson, 2024-05-28 This book explores the role of private mining rights in the utopian imaginary of space colonisation It presents a transdisciplinary account of the new and evolving legislative frameworks that have been established in anticipation of commercial exploitation of the mineral resources of the off world frontier Written in an engaging style the book investigates a novel case study in the history of capitalism and the commons the emergence of a nascent space mining industry undergirded by a contentious legislative framework In 2015 the US passed laws that would recognise the claims of US corporations to own and sell space resources This unilateral act of pre emptive law making would appear to contravene the terms of the UN Outer Space Treaty 1967 which declared that the exploration and use of outer space should be for the benefit of all mankind and not subject to national appropriation Using this central dynamic between privately held mining rights and outer space as a global commons Matthew Johnson constructs an historical sociology of space mining from the deep historical roots of common and private property to the contemporary networks of neoliberalism that have engaged with the commercialisation of space activity The anticipatory expansion of private property claims beyond the Earth both resonates with and problematises the terrain of political history such as the tensions between states and markets public law and private power the commons and exclusive property The emerging cosmopolitics of off world private property mirrors and is often explicitly embedded within neoliberal geopolitics prompting urgent questions about how we can reaffirm principles of democracy and common heritage in the international laws of Earth and space This book is compelling reading for anyone interested in the social study of space law economics technology politics and property rights

India after Naxalbari Bernard D'Mello, 2018-07-23 How the 1967 uprising at Naxalbari inspired a generation of resistance across India and the South Asian subcontinent Although the 1967 revolutionary armed peasant uprising in Naxalbari at the foot of the Indian Himalayas was brutally crushed the insurgency gained new life elsewhere in India In fact this revolt has turned out to be the world's longest running people's war and Naxalbari has come to stand for the road to revolution in India What has gone into the making of this protracted Maoist resistance Bernard D Mello's fascinating narrative answers this question by tracing the circumstances that gave rise to India's 1968 decade of revolutionary humanism and those that led to the triumph of the 1989 era of appallingly unequal growth condoned by Hindutva nationalism the Indian variant of Nazism Will what remain of India's continuing 1968 bring twenty first century New Democracy to the collective agenda Or will the ongoing regression of 1989 lead the way to full blown semi fascism and sub imperialism India after Naxalbari is far more than a simple history of the ongoing Naxalite Maoist resistance it is a deeply passionate and informed work that not only captures the essence of modern Indian history but also tries to comprehend the present in the context of that history so that the oppressed can exercise their power to influence its shape and outcome

Women, Power, and Property Rachel E Brulé, 2020-10-22 Quotas for women in government have swept the globe Yet we know little about their capacity to upend entrenched social political and economic hierarchies Women Power and Property explores this question within the context of India the world's largest democracy Brul employs a research design that maximizes causal inference alongside extensive field research to explain the relationship between political representation backlash and economic empowerment Her findings show that women in government gatekeepers catalyze access to fundamental economic rights to property Women in politics have the power to support constituent rights at critical junctures such as marriage negotiations when they can strike integrative solutions to intrahousehold bargaining Yet there is a paradox quotas are essential for enforcement of rights but they generate backlash against women who gain rights without bargaining leverage In this groundbreaking study Brul shows how well designed quotas can operate as a crucial tool to foster equality and benefit the women they are meant to empower The ABC of the OPT Orna Ben-Naftali, Michael Sfard, Hedi Viterbo, 2018-05-10 A lexicon of the legal administrative and military terms and concepts central to the Israeli occupation of the Palestinian Territories The Politics of Precarity Gediminas Lesutis, 2021-12-30 Based on critical theory and ethnographic research this book explores how intensifying geographies of extractive capitalism shape human lives and transformative politics in marginal areas of the global economy Engaging the work of Judith Butler Henri Lefebvre and Jacques Rancière with ethnographic research on social and political effects of mining induced dispossession in Mozambique in the book Lesutis theorises how precarity unfolds as a spatially constituted condition of everyday life given over to the violence of capital Going beyond labour relations or governance of life in liberal democracies that are typically explored in the literature on precarity the book shows how dispossessed people are subjected to structural symbolic and direct modalities of violence this simultaneously constitutes their suffering and ceaseless desire however implausible to be included into abstract space of extractivism As a result despite the multifarious violence that it engenders extractive capital accumulation is sustained even in the margins historically excluded from contingently lived imaginaries of a good life promised by capitalism Presenting this theorisation of precarity as a framework on and a critique of the contemporary politics of unliveability the book speaks to key debates about precarity dispossession resistance extractivism and development in several disciplines especially political geography IPE global politics and critical theory It will also be of interest to scholars in development studies critical political economy and African politics The Privatisation of Higher Education in Postcolonial Bangladesh Ariful H. Kabir, Raqib Chowdhury, 2021-05-16 This book problematises contemporary realities of the political dimension of the privatisation of higher education in Bangladesh By exploring the complexities of neoliberalism as an economic and ideological doctrine a mode of governance and as a policy package it considers the post attached to and hyphenated with colonialism as more aspirational than achieved Based on an interdisciplinary study involving contemporary theories from political and social sciences economics and the socio economics of education the book explores the unique ways in which Bangladeshi higher education has evolved over the past four decades and the complex politics behind its privatisation Through an empirically based account of how neoliberalism has worked its way through the higher education sector in the fastest growing economy in the South Asian context it discusses how changes have been characterised by policy reforms massification and a sustained friction between control and autonomy in the university sector The authors take a nuanced approach to their geo political and onto epistemological positionalities as diasporic and hybridised scholars by rejecting epistemological exclusion inherent in the colonial present and research conducted in such contexts This position allows the reinforcement of a colonial present theorising from within Global South decolonial and postcolonial research literature This book contributes to discourses of globalisation from above and globalisation from below and sheds light on the often idiosyncratic ways in which higher education reform has unfolded in South Asia It will be of interest to comparative educators and those researching higher education policy and education developments in Global South nations

Averting a Great Divergence Peer Vries, 2019-08-08 The most significant debate in global economic history over the past twenty years has dealt with the Great Divergence the economic gap between different parts of the world Thus far this debate has focused on China India and north western Europe particularly Great Britain This book shifts the focus to ask how Japan became the only non western country that managed at least partially to modernize its economy and start to industrialize in the 19th century Using a range of empirical data Peer Vries analyses the role of the state in Japan s economic growth from the Meiji Restoration to World War II and asks whether Japan s economic success can be attributed to the rise of state power Asserting that the state s involvement was fundamental in Japan s economic catching up he demonstrates how this was built on legacies from the previous Tokugawa period In this book Vries deepens our understanding of the Great Divergence in global history by re examining how Japan developed and modernized against the odds

Ecologies and Politics of Health Brian King, Kelley A. Crews, 2013-05-07 Human health exists at the interface of environment and society Decades of work by researchers practitioners and policy makers has shown that health is shaped by a myriad of factors including the biophysical environment climate political economy gender social networks culture and infrastructure Yet while there is emerging interest within the natural and social sciences on the social and ecological dimensions of human disease and health there have been few studies that address them in an integrated manner Ecologies and Politics of Health brings together contributions from the natural and social sciences to examine three key themes the ecological dimensions of health and vulnerability the socio political dimensions of human health and the intersections between the ecological and social dimensions of health The thirteen case study chapters collectively present results from Africa Asia Latin America the United States Australia and global cities Section one interrogates the utility of several theoretical frameworks and conventions for understanding health within complex social and ecological systems Section two concentrates upon empirically grounded and quantitative work that collectively redefines health in a more expansive way that extends beyond the absence of disease Section three examines the role of the state and management interventions through historically rich approaches centering on both disease and non disease related examples from Latin America Eastern Africa and the United States Finally Section four highlights how health vulnerabilities are differentially constructed with concomitant impacts for disease management and policy interventions This timely volume advances knowledge on health environment interactions disease vulnerabilities global development and political ecology It offers theoretical and methodological contributions which will be a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners in geography public health biology anthropology sociology and ecology
