Chinas Nonprofit Sector Progress And Challenges Asian Studies:

China's Nonprofit Sector Chien-Chung Huang,Guosheng Deng,Zhenyao Wang,Richard L. Edwards,2013-10-16 The nonprofit sector in China including nongovernmental organizations foundations and charities is fairly new especially to foreigners since the rapid development of this third sector has not been widely studied in Western scholarship The contributors to this volume have been engaged in research of China s nonprofit sector for many years and are intimately familiar with the operation of Chinese nonprofit organizations China s Nonprofit Sector describes the development of China s nonprofit sector since 1995 including discussions on the rise of corporate responsibility and charitable foundations grassroots organizations and the microphilanthropy that arose after the Sichuan earthquake in 2008 It enumerates the shifting legal framework the complex relationship between government affiliated and private sector organizations the media s role the emergence of microphilanthropy and the lack of knowledge of the general public regarding philanthropic enterprises This volume in Transaction s Asian Studies series directly addresses the topic of China s nonprofit sector and gives a coherent and comprehensive account of its development and challenges This work will be of value for all policy specialists Asian Studies scholars and all individuals interested in China

Social Enterprise in China Echo Lei Wang,2023-07-21 Wang offers an empirically based exploration into work integration social enterprises as a means for delivering social services in China Focusing on the political economy of social enterprise development in China Wang examines the nature of the relationship between the state and social enterprises and the implications of such relationships for their institutional effectiveness She adopts a bottom up approach that investigates indigenous practices embedded within the local political context Common ground has been established internationally that the social enterprise model provides new ways of social service delivery that could potentially change and restructure the social welfare economy However the development path differs across social contexts especially in an authoritarian country like China This study provides insights into China s efforts to develop its social welfare sector and reinvigorate customary ideas about how public services could be better offered given the country s political economy This book will be of great interest to both scholars of China s political economy and those with an interest in the development of the social enterprise sector looking to see how this works in a Chinese context

The Routledge Companion to Nonprofit Management Helmut Anheier,Stefan Toepler,2020-04-08 Over the past three decades or so the nonprofit voluntary or third sector has undergone a major transformation from a small cottage industry to a major economic force in virtually every part of the developed world as well as elsewhere around the globe Nonprofit organizations are now major providers of public services working in close cooperation with governments at all levels and increasingly find themselves in competition with commercial firms across various social marketplaces This transformation has come with ever increasing demands for enhancing the organizational capacities and professionalizing the management of nonprofit institutions The Routledge Companion to Nonprofit Management is the first internationally focused effort to capture the full breadth of current nonprofit management research and knowledge that has arisen in response to these developments. With newly commissioned contributions from an international set of scholars at the forefront of nonprofit management research, this volume provides a thorough overview of the most current management thinking in this field. It contextualizes nonprofit management globally, provides an extensive introduction to key management functions, core revenue sources, and the emerging social enterprise space, and raises a number of emerging topics and issues that will shape nonprofit management in future decades. As graduate programs continue to evolve to serve the training needs in the field, The Routledge Companion to Nonprofit Management is an essential reference and resource for graduate students, researchers, and practitioners interested in a deeper understanding of the operation of the nonprofit sector.

Options for Aged Care in China Elena Glinskaya, Zhanlian Feng, 2018-11-28. China is aging at an unprecedented rate. Improvements in life expectancy and the consequences of the decades-old family planning policy have led to a rapid increase in the elderly population. According to the United Nations World Population Prospects, the proportion of older people age 65 and over will increase by about one fourth by 2030, and the elderly will account for about one quarter of the total population by 2050. Population aging will not only pose challenges for elder care but also have an impact on the economy and all aspects of society. World Bank 2016a. The government is aware of the need to develop an efficient and sustainable approach to aged care. To this end, the General Office of the State Council issued the 12th Five Year Plan for the Development of Aged Care Services in China and the Development Plan for a System of Social Services for the Aged 2011-2015. It is now in the process of formulating the 13th Five Year National Plan on Aging, which will further elaborate and finalize the reform roadmap for 2016 to 2020. The Plan is expected to be finalized and launched by June 2016. The National Development and Reform Commission (NDRC) helped draft these plans and is now leading the development of policy measures for the provision of social services for the elderly. This volume has been prepared to support the translation of the broad ideas on aged care provision expressed in the 12th and 13th Five Year Plans and other government plans into reality and to help the government tackle the challenges described above. It strives to identify a policy framework that fits the Chinese context and can be put in place gradually. Specifically, it aims to provide an up-to-date understanding of the evolving aged care landscape in China, review international experiences in long-term care provision, financing, and quality assurance, and assess their relevance to China's current situation; discuss implications of current developments and trends for the future of aged care in China; and propose policy options based on available evidence and best practices.

Non-Governmental Orphan Relief in China Anna High, 2019-07-17. Based on field studies and in-depth interviews across rural and urban China, this book presents a socio-legal analysis of non-state organized care for some of China's most vulnerable children. The first full-length book to examine non-state organized care of modern China's lonely children, Gu'er, this book describes the context in which abandonment occurs and the care provided to children unlikely to be adopted because of their disability. It also explores the various faith groups and humanitarian workers providing this care in private orphanages and foster homes in response to perceived deficiencies in the state orphanage system in the context of a broader societal shift from welfare statism to welfare pluralism. Formal law and policy has not always kept pace with this shift. This study demonstrates that in practice state regulation of these unauthorised care providers has mostly centred on local level negotiations, hidden rules and discretion with mixed outcomes for children. However, there has also been a recent shift towards tighter state control and clearer laws, policies and standards. This timely research sheds light on the life paths and stories of today's lonely children and the changing terrain of civil society, humanitarianism, policy making and state power in modern China. As such, this book will appeal to students and scholars of Asian and Chinese studies, law and society, NGOs and comparative social and child welfare.

Social Organizations and the Authoritarian State in China Timothy Hildebrandt, 2013-02-18. An analysis of the emergence of NGOs across China in three different issue areas: environmental protection, HIV/AIDS prevention and gay and lesbian rights.

The State and the Advocate Teresita Rosario, 2014-07-11. This book seeks to demonstrate the role of public policy in support of equitable and inclusive development. The achievement of this overarching goal rests on an assumption that development does not happen by chance or by accident but rather through the deliberate application of analytical tools which public policy is able to provide. Set within an Asian context, the book emphasizes the role of public policy in reducing poverty, eliminating deprivation, promoting equity and ensuring social justice. The book likewise aims to provide an argument for the developmental role of the state, one which has been the subject of a long standing debate among development scholars. In addition, the book accounts for the role of civil society organizations, particularly their involvement in multi stakeholder participation. Through different case studies, this book explains the outcome of public policy decisions as combinations of efforts among government and civil society actors to ensure the creation of the most optimal public good. Finally, the book takes a comparative perspective, i.e. there are cases that directly or indirectly implicate the regional character of public policies that result in the creation and distribution of regional public goods.

NGO Governance and Management in China Reza Hasmath, Jennifer Y. J. Hsu, 2015-07-16. As China becomes increasingly integrated into the global system, there will be continuing pressure to acknowledge and engage with non governmental organizations (NGOs). Suffice to say, without a clear understanding of the state's interaction with NGOs and vice versa, any political, economic and social analysis of China will be incomplete. This book provides an urgent insight into contemporary state-NGO relations. It brings together the most recent research covering three broad themes: namely, the conceptualizations and subsequent functions of NGOs, state-NGO engagement and NGOs as a mediator between state and society in contemporary China. The book provides a future glimpse into the challenges of state NGO interactions in China's rapidly developing regions which will aid NGOs strategic planning in both the short and long term. In addition, it allows a measure of predictability in our assessment of Chinese NGOs' behaviour, notably when they eventually move their areas of operation from the domestic sphere to an international one. The salient themes, concepts, theories, and practice discussed in this book will be of acute interest to students, scholars, and practitioners in development studies, public administration, and Chinese and Asian politics. Reza Hasmath is a Lecturer in Chinese Politics at the University of Oxford, UK, and an Associate Professor in Political Science at the University of Alberta, Canada. His research looks at state-society relationships, the labour market experiences of ethnic minorities, and development theories and practices. Jennifer Y. J. Hsu is an Assistant Professor in Political Science at the University of Alberta, Canada. Her recent publications include a co-authored book HIV/AIDS in China: The Economic and Social Determinants (Routledge, 2011) and a co-edited book The Chinese Corporatist State: Adaption, Survival, and Resistance (Routledge, 2012).

Spatial Justice, Contested Governance and Livelihood Challenges in Bangladesh Lutfun Nahar Lata, 2023-03-09. This book analyses the key livelihood and governance challenges that the urban poor experience while navigating public spaces in Dhaka, Bangladesh. Using data collected through extensive fieldwork in Bangladesh, the book contributes to the emerging scholarship of resilient cities, gendered space, spatial justice, and poverty in cities of the Global South. The book assesses the everyday politics of survival for the urban poor, how the poor negotiate different levels of formal and informal modes of power and governance, and the dynamics of gender. It explores how tenuous counter spaces are created when these factors combine to provide a valuable framework for work in other urban contexts in the Global South, beyond Bangladesh. Using cross-disciplinary perspectives, this book investigates the issues of human development, urban governance, urban planning, and the gendered nature of urban space to outline how these issues enable or constrain poor people's livelihood practices and their rights to be in the city. Exploring debates surrounding placemaking and inclusive cities and their connection to poor people's livelihoods, this book will be of interest to scholars in the field of Sociology, Development Studies, Planning, Geography, and Anthropology.

Social Development Issues, 2000      Projects in Progress, 1979      ICT Analysis and Applications Simon Fong, Nilanjan Dey, Amit Joshi, 2022-01-07. This book proposes new technologies and discusses future solutions for ICT design infrastructures as reflected in high-quality papers presented at the 6th International Conference on ICT for Sustainable Development (ICT4SD 2021) held in Goa, India, on 5-6 August 2021. The book covers topics such as big data and data mining, data fusion, IoT programming toolkits and frameworks, green communication systems, and network use of ICT in smart cities, sensor networks, and embedded system networks and information security, wireless and optical networks, security, trust, and privacy, routing and control protocols, cognitive radio, and networks and natural language processing. Bringing together experts from different countries, the book explores a range of central issues from an international perspective.
