Chinese Grammar Synchronic And Diachronic Perspectives Oxford Linguistics:

Sinitic Grammar Hilary Chappell, 2001 Chappell combines typological observations of Sinitic and non Sinitic languages with general linguistic theory in a most satisfying fashion This is the first serious attempt to put several non Mandarin varieties on the menu of the linguist gourmand Chappell's volume is a very welcome refreshing and exciting contribution Cahiers de Linguistique Asie Orientale The first book in English to present cutting edge analyses on the grammar of little explored Chinese languages and dialects the book is made accessible to a general readership in addition to specialists within the field Folia Linguistica This is the first book in English to present cutting edge analyses on the grammar of little explored Chinese languages and dialects The contributors challenge the view that standard Mandarin should be taken as representative of all Chinese languages By providing all necessary background information to the language covered in each chapter in addition to full transcription and translation of all Chinese character examples the book is made accessible to a general readership in addition to specialists within the field

Chinese Linguistics Giorgio Francesco Arcodia, Bianca Basciano, 2021 This volume provides a broad introduction to Chinese linguistics It offers an accessible synthesis of the most relevant topics in the field both for researchers and scholars on China studies and for linguists including those with little or no previous knowledge of Chinese

New Perspectives on Aspect and Modality in Chinese Historical Linguistics Barbara Meisterernst, 2018-12-28 This book presents new perspectives on the study of Aspect and Modality in Chinese Historical Linguistics Based on the international Workshop on Aspect and Modality in Chinese the book includes the latest research findings in the field to make them available not only to specialists in Classical and Buddhist Chinese but also to researchers and students of general linguistics and of the universals of language It also discusses different aspects of the AM Aspect Modality and the TAM Tense Aspect Modality system of Chinese It provides a comprehensive overview of both of the universally related systems of aspect and modality The first part of the book focuses on aspectual features of Chinese these include basic studies on the syntactic representation of the aspectual structure of the verb phrase in Archaic Chinese the aspectual function of different object constructions and their development temporal features of the verb phrase and the aspectual functions of nominalization processes The second part includes articles highlighting different aspects of the modal system or the interplay between tense aspect and modality in Chinese including a survey on the history of studies on modality in Chinese and the modal and temporal aspectual markers indicating future meanings a specialized study on modal deontic verbs in the Buddhist Vinaya texts the modal function of rhetorical questions in Buddhist Chinese and a study on the diachronic development of the aspectual and modal system in Chinese

The Diachronic Development of Modal Expressions in Chinese Barbara Meisterernst, 2024-11-18 The present study is the first to apply a syntactic approach to the grammaticalization of Chinese modals based on hypotheses on cross linguistic diachronic developments of modals from lexical to functional categories as upward movement on a functional spine The temporal framework of the study covers Late

Archaic and Middle Chinese Early Middle Chinese is a crucial turning point for the development of Chinese from a more synthetic to a more analytic language This change is attributed e g to the loss of a former morphology which also affects the modal system Against this background the negative cycle of Chinese the relevance of polarity contexts and the development of a new system of deontic epistemic and future markers are analyzed In addition to a comprehensive analysis of the syntactic processes involved in the diachronic changes of the Chinese modal system the study also provides a comparison with the syntax of grammaticalization of the thoroughly discussed Germanic modals This constitutes a broad basis for further analyses of the changes in the Chinese language during its long written history but also for cross linguistic studies on the syntax of grammaticalization and on linguistic universals Cantonese: A Comprehensive Grammar Stephen

Matthews, Virginia Yip, 2013-05-24 Cantonese A Comprehensive Grammar is a complete reference guide to Cantonese as spoken by native speakers in Hong Kong It presents a fresh and accessible description of the language concentrating on the real patterns of use in current Cantonese This makes it the ideal reference source for all learners and users of Cantonese irrespective of level in schools colleges universities and adult classes of all types Moreover it will provide a lasting and reliable resource for all fluent speakers of the language The book is organized to promote a thorough understanding of Cantonese grammar Arranged by both syntactic categories and language functions the Grammar provides an in depth treatment of structures and pays special attention to idiom and speech registers Explanations are full clear and free of jargon An extensive index numbered paragraphs and generous use of headings and cross references provide readers with easy access to the information they require Features include Comprehensive pronunciation section Full use of examples from films advertising and authentic conversations Cantonese English parallels highlighted throughout the book All examples given in characters as well as pinyin The Routledge Encyclopedia of the Chinese Language Sin-Wai Chan, 2016-04-14 The

Linguistics Chu-Ren Huang, Zhuo Jing-Schmidt, Barbara Meisterernst, 2019-03-11 The Routledge Handbook of Chinese Applied Linguistics is written for those wanting to acquire comprehensive knowledge of China the diaspora and the Sino sphere communities through Chinese language It examines how Chinese language is used in different contexts and how the use of Chinese language affects culture society expression of self and persuasion of others as well as how neurophysiological aspects of language disorder affect how we function and how the advance of technology changes the way the Chinese language is used and perceived The Handbook concentrates on the cultural societal and communicative characteristics of the Chinese language environment Focusing on language use in action in context and in vivo this book intends to lay empirical grounds for collaboration and synergy among different fields A Grammar of Gan Chinese Xuping Li, 2018-02-19 China is very rich in language resources and Mandarin is undoubtedly its most prestigious and well known representative Unfortunately most of these languages remain understudied or even unstudied Such is the case of Yichun Gan Written in the style of a reference grammar this book sets out to give a comprehensive and systematic description of Yichun grammar with the aim of increasing readers knowledge about Chinese languages other than Mandarin In addition to common categories like nouns verbs adjectives and prepositions the volume attempts to cover as many grammatical categories and constructions as possible including the Sinitic specific categories such as classifiers the aspect system postpositions and the object marking BA constructions To highlight its uniqueness the book adopts a comparative perspective to contrast many features of Yichun Gan with Mandarin and other Sinitic languages Our study shows that Yichun Gan possesses both Northern and Southern Chinese traits in many constructions which supports its status as a transitional language It will be of interest to linguists who wish to learn more about East Asian languages and more specifically Sinitic languages A Reference Grammar of Caijia Shanshan Lü, 2022-10-24 Caijia me 21ni33 o 33 Caijia speech is an endangered language in the Sino Tibetan family with less than 1000 speakers in Hezhang and Weining counties in northwest in Guizhou Province in Southwest China Its sub classification remains unclear It was almost four decades ago when the Caijia language was officially reported for the first time in 1982 by the Language Team of Bureau of Ethnic Identification in Bijie yet this language has nevertheless remained neither well described nor studied This book a linguistic description of the Xingfa variety of Caijia based on the fieldwork data in Xingfa township of Hezhang county is the first reference grammar of the Caijia language covering its sound system word formation parts of speech and syntactic structures in fifteen chapters Being analytic Caijia presents many common grammatical features attested in East and Southeast Asian languages for example compounds quadrisyllabic idiomatic expressions or elaborate expressions lack of inflection a classifier system a strong relationship between nominalization and relativization pro drop and grammaticalization of verbs Moreover Caijia shares more similarities with Sinitic languages Apart from these common areal features this book will also reveal some special features of Caijia Chinese Syntax in a Cross-linguistic Perspective Yen-hui Audrey Li, Andrew Simpson, Wei-Tien Dylan Tsai, 2015 Chinese Syntax in a Cross linguistic Perspective collects twelve new papers that explore the syntax of Chinese in comparison with other languages

A Grammar of Shaowu Sing Sing Ngai, 2021-09-20 This is the first comprehensive grammar of Shaowu a Min language spoken in Shaowu city and its environs in northwestern Fujian province China The book offers first hand linguistic data collected over four years in the field now placed at the disposal of researchers and students working in language documentation comparative linguistics and Sinitic typology It can serve as a reference grammar for those interested in learning the Shaowu language thereby helping to preserve it In addition the book provides insights into Shaowu s classification which has been widely debated thus elucidating its genetic affiliation The book first presents Shaowu s geography demography and history It then profiles the language s phonology and lexicon before providing a detailed description of its syntax notably on its nominal predicate clausal and complex sentence structures which are the focus of the book The typological profile of Shaowu is also treated with the conclusion that the language has Gan Hakka Mandarin and even some Wu overlays on its Min base The Shaowu language serves an excellent example to illustrate the degree of hybridity a language can attain due to intensive language contact over time

The Mainland Southeast Asia Linguistic Area Alice Vittrant, Justin Watkins, 2019-06-04 This book lies at the crossroads of areal typology language contact and genetic affiliation Concerned with mainland Southeast Asia in particular the various grammatical sketches lay emphasis on characteristics shared by unrelated languages

Areal Diffusion and Genetic Inheritance Alexandra Y. Aikhenvald, R. M. W. Dixon, 2006-03-02 Two languages can resemble each other in the categories constructions and types of meaning they use and in the forms they employ to express these Such resemblances may be the consequence of universal characteristics of language of chance or coincidence of the borrowing by one language of another s words or of the diffusion of grammatical phonetic and phonological characteristics that takes place when languages come into contact Languages sometimes show likeness because they have borrowed not from each other but from a third language Languages that come from the same ancestor may have similar grammatical categories and meanings expressed by similar forms such languages are said to be genetically affiliated This book considers how and why forms and meanings of different languages at different times may resemble one another Its editors and authors aim a to explain and identify the relationship between areal diffusion and the genetic development of languages and b to discover the means of distinguishing what may cause one language to share the characteristics of another The introduction outlines the issues that underlie these aims introduces the chapters which follow and comments on recurrent conclusions by the contributors The problems are formidable and the pitfalls numerous for example several of the authors draw attention to the inadequacy of the family tree diagram as the main metaphor for language relationship The authors range over Ancient Anatolia Modern Anatolia Australia Amazonia Oceania Southeast and East Asia and Sub Saharan Africa The book includes an archaeologist s view on what material evidence offers to explain cultural and linguistic change and a general discussion of which kinds of linguistic feature can and cannot be borrowed The chapters are accessibly written and illustrated by twenty maps The book will interest all students of the causes and consequences of language change and evolution Edinburgh Handbook of Evaluative Morphology Nicola Grandi, 2015-06-03 With examples drawn from over 200 world languages this ground breaking volume presents a state of the art overview of evaluative morphology Meaning and Universal Grammar Cliff Goddard, Anna Wierzbicka, 2002-01-01 Volume one of a set of studies that is founded on the idea that universal grammar is based on indeed inseparable from meaning The theoretical framework is the natural semantic metalanguage NSM approach originated by Anna Wierzbicka and developed in collaboration with Cliff Goddard The Peopling of East Asia Roger Blench, Laurent Sagart, Alicia Sanchez-Mazas, 2005-03-20 Recent findings in the fields of East Asian archaeology linguistics and genetics are collected together here making this an ideal reference tool for scholars in all disciplines working on the reconstruction of the East Asian past The Language of the Sangleys Henning Klöter, 2011 An incisive multi faceted study of a Spanish Chinese manuscript grammar of the seventeenth century The Language of the Sangleys presents a fascinating new chapter in the history of Chinese and general linguistics Newest Trends in the Study of Grammaticalization and Lexicalization in Chinese Janet Zhiqun Xing, 2012-04-02 Grammaticalization and lexicalization have been two major issues in the study of diachronic change in the past few decades Drawing evidence from Western languages researchers have uncovered a number of characteristics of the process of grammaticalization and lexicalization as well as the relationship between the two However the question remains whether or not those characteristics are applicable to genetically unrelated and typologically different languages such as Chinese The contributors of this volume attempt to answer just this question Based on Chinese historical data from the past three thousand years five articles in the volume investigate the development of a certain grammatical category the definite article M Fang modal verbs of volition A Peyraube and M Li the classifier class J Z Xing the repeater class C Zhang and the process of lexicalization X Dong while the remaining four articles are case studies of unique grammatical words which have all undergone a complicated process of grammaticalization and some involved lexicalization the sentence particle ye Q Chen the versatile directional verb li C Liu the degree adverb hen M Liu and C Chang and the giving verb gei F Tsao All these studies have identified tendencies of diachronic change in Chinese and some of them have also revealed certain typological characteristics that Chinese has compared to other languages Linguistic Epidemiology Nick Enfield, 2013-04-15 This important new study examines in detail a semantic pragmatic pattern surrounding the basic verb acquire in nearly 30 Southeast Asian languages concentrating on Lao Vietnamese Khmer Kmhmu Hmong and varieties of Chinese The book makes a significant contribution to empirical work on semantic and grammatical change in a linguistic area as well as representing theoretical advances in cognitive semantics Gricean pragmatics semantic change grammaticalization language contact and areal linguistics The book also examines how changes in the speech of individuals actually become changes in large scale public convention language contact is reconsidered and traditional distinctions such as that between internal and external linguistic mechanisms are challenged This groundbreaking new book is for specialists in Southeast Asian linguistics as well as scholars of descriptive semantics and pragmatics grammaticalisation linguistic change and evolution areal linguistics and language contact history and linguistic anthropology From Linguistic Areas to Areal Linguistics Pieter Muysken, 2008-02-06 From linguistic areas to areal linguistics explores language description and typology in terms of areal background presenting case studies in areal linguistics Some concern well established linguistic areas such as the Balkan other regions such as East Nusantara Indonesia and the Guapore Mamore Amazon regions have never before been studied in an areal perspective and yet other areas are involved in current debates The insight has gained ground that languages owe many of their characteristics to the languages they are in contact with over time Yet the nature of these areal influences remains a matter of debate Furthermore areas are often hard to define Hence the title a shift from linguistic areas as concrete and circumscribed objects to a new way of doing linguistics areally New findings include the observation that there may be many more language areas than previously recognized The book is primarily directed at linguists working in descriptive comparative historical and typological linguistics Since it covers linguistic areas from four continents it will have a wide appeal
