Messner, Myoung-kyu Park, Emmanuelle Saada, Mohinder Singh, Einar Wigen, 2015-08-27 At the beginning of the twenty first century the vocabulary of civility and civilization is very much at the forefront of political debate Most of these debates proceed as if the meaning of these words were self evident This is where Civilizing Emotions intervenes tracing the history of the concepts of civility and civilization and thus adding a level of self reflexivity to the present debates Unlike previous histories Civilizing Emotions takes a global perspective highlighting the roles of civility and civilization in the creation of a new and hierarchized global order in the era of high imperialism and its entanglements with the developments in a number of well chosen European and Asian countries Emotions were at the core of the practices linked to the creation of a new global order in the nineteenth century Civilizing Emotions explores why and how emotions were an asset in civilizing peoples and societies their control and management but also their creation and their ascription to different societies and social groups The study is a contribution to the history of emotions to global history and to the history of concepts three rapidly developing and innovative research areas which are here being brought together for the first time

Dixon, 2003 Thomas Dixon shows how during the nineteenth century the emotions came into being as a distinct psychological category displacing such concepts as appetites passions sentiments and affections From Passions to Emotions is a significant contribution to that ongoing debate about emotion and rationality which has preoccupied thinkers across many disciplines Emotions in Non-Fictional Representations of the Individual, 1600-1850 Malina Stefanovska, Yinghui Wu, Marie-Paule de Weerdt-Pilorge, 2022-01-01 This book addresses the distinct representations of emotions in non fictional texts from the seventeenth to the mid nineteenth century 1600 1850 Focusing on memoirs autobiographies correspondences and conduct manuals it argues that in those writings passions and emotions are differently expressed than in fiction It also offers a comparative study of texts from cultures as diverse as English French Korean and Chinese and of emotions in relation to genre identity and morality during significant cultural transformation of the early modern period This book is distinctive in its choice of non fictional genres its period and its cross cultural approach It can benefit scholars interested in exploring emotion as a historical and cultural product and in enriching their knowledge of an emerging scholarly direction studies in self narratives autobiography memoirs dream narratives letters etc often insufficiently explored in earlier historical periods
