

What is CNIC?

The Computerized National Identity Card (CNIC) is issued by the National Database and Registration Authority (NADRA) in Pakistan. It serves as the official identification document for Pakistani citizens over the age of 18. The CNIC includes critical personal information such as the individual's name, photograph, date of birth, address, and a unique 13-digit identification number.

The CNIC system was introduced in the early 2000s as an upgrade from the Manual National Identity Card (MNIC). The transition to a computerized system aimed to improve accuracy, reduce fraud, and enhance the efficiency of public service delivery. Over the years, NADRA has continuously updated and refined the CNIC system to meet evolving technological and administrative needs.

As of the latest statistics, over 120 million Pakistani citizens hold a CNIC. The system has been instrumental in ensuring transparent and efficient governance, contributing to national security, and enabling economic and social inclusion. NADRA continues to expand its reach and capabilities, integrating biometric verification and other advanced technologies to maintain the integrity and reliability of the CNIC system.
