Coaching Psychology Manual Margaret Moore (MBA), 2015 Psychological Experiences and Responses in the Global South Amidst and Ahead of the Covid-19 Pandemic Nelesh Dhanpat, Madelyn Geldenhuys, Shuan Ruggunan, The COVID 19 pandemic has led to increased strain and mental health problems due to changing working conditions Given the existential nature of the pandemic it remains crucial to establish employee effectiveness resilience and agility and to particularly understand the long term psychological impact the pandemic might have on workplaces It is essential to recognize how workplaces cope with work from home challenges and hybrid working beyond the crises Building a narrative in our understanding of the psychological cognitive and physical experiences and responses of workplaces is critical. It provides the opportunity to help craft the way forward for organizations and employees. Self-Managed and Coach Led Stress Management, 2012. Safer Surgery Lucy Mitchell, Rhona Flin, 2017-05-15. Operating theatres are very private workplaces. There have been few research investigations into how highly trained doctors and nurses work together to achieve safe and efficient anaesthesia and surgery. While there have been major advances in surgical and anaesthetic procedures, there are still significant risks for patients during operations and adverse events are not unknown. Due to rising concern about patient safety, surgeons and anaesthetists have looked for ways of minimising adverse events. Behavioural scientists have been encouraged by clinicians to bring research techniques used in other industries into the operating theatre in order to study the behaviour of surgeons, nurses and anaesthetists. Safer Surgery presents one of the first collections of studies designed to understand the factors influencing safe and efficient surgical, anaesthetic and nursing practice. The book is written by psychologists, surgeons and anaesthetists whose contributions combine to offer readers the latest research techniques and findings from some of the leading investigators in this field. It is designed for practitioners and researchers interested in understanding the behaviour of operating theatre team members with a view to enhancing both training and practice. The material is also suitable for those studying behaviour in other areas of healthcare or in high risk work settings. The aims of the book are to: a) present the latest research on the behaviour of operating theatre teams; b) describe the techniques being used by psychologists and clinicians to study surgeons, anaesthetists and theatre nurses; task performance; c) outline the safety implications of the research to date.

The field of Educational Leadership and Management originated and grew to maturity in the Western societies of the USA, UK and Australia. However, since the mid 1990s, scholars in East Asia have asserted the need to ground leadership theories and practices in the local contexts in which school leaders practice. Mastering Theories of Educational Leadership and Management is one of the first volumes published which seeks to do this. The edited chapters illustrate and elaborate how perspectives on key concepts and theories of educational leadership are being interpreted and enacted in East Asian societies By doing so the book makes a valuable contribution which will hopefully reduce the gap between theories as explained by Western scholars and practices as enacted in East Asian societies Professor Dr Philip Hallinger
