PsyD, 2022-01-27 We don't seem to handle grief very well whether it's our own or someone close to us Part of the problem is that we live in a death denying society where many people feel awkward using terms like death dying or dead We rarely say that someone has died and instead use metaphors to soften the blow This book helps families friends colleagues and professionals to understand what someone who has lost a loved one is feeling Topics include the death of a child teen adult older adult spouse sibling mentally challenged individuals death of a pet and pets grieve too The author answers questions such as Why are there fewer rituals surrounding death today What do you say to someone who has lost a loved one How long do the bereaved continue to grieve What does it mean to be going through complicated grief Grief is the great equalizer and no matter who or what we are or how rich or poor grief can bring us to our knees But you can navigate it in a healthier way with the lessons in Comforting the Bereaved through Listening and Positive Responding Grieving Beyond Gender Kenneth J. Doka, Terry L. Martin, 2011-01-19 Grieving Beyond Gender Understanding the Ways Men and Women Mourn is a revision of Men Don't Cry Women Do Transcending Gender Stereotypes of Grief In this work Doka and Martin elaborate on their conceptual model of styles or patterns of grieving a model that has generated both research and acceptance since the publication of the first edition in 1999 In that book as well as in this revision Doka and Martin explore the different ways that individuals grieve noting that gender is only one factor that affects an individual's style or pattern of grief The book differentiates intuitive grievers where the pattern is more affective from instrumental grievers who grieve in a more cognitive and behavioral way while noting other patterns that might be more blended or dissonant The model is firmly grounded in social science theory and research A particular strength of the work is the emphasis placed on the clinical implications of the model on the ways that different types of grievers might best be supported through individual counseling or group support Grief and Bereavement in Contemporary Society Robert A.
