Gross, 2021 Integrating the ethics of medicine and the ethics of war Military Medical Ethics in Contemporary Armed Conflict offers theorists and practitioners clinicians and commanders the tools they need to distribute scarce medical resources in wartime Emphasizing that military medicine's goal is to maintain unit readiness and the force capabilities necessary to wage just war Michael L. Gross instructs readers on when and how compatriot and host nation war fighters local civilians detainees and veterans should receive medical attention Readers will see how medicine functions also as a weapon of war To this end military forces deploy medical care to win local hearts and minds and harness medical science to enhance war fighter capabilities Trauma, Gender and Ethics in the Works of E.L. Doctorow María Ferrández San Miguel, 2020-01-24 This project approaches four of E. L. Doctorow's novels Welcome to Hard Times 1960 The Book of Daniel 1971 Ragtime 1975 and City of God 2000 from the perspectives of feminist criticism and trauma theory The study springs from the assumption that Doctorow's literary project is eminently ethical and has an underlying social and political scope This crops up through the novels overriding concern with injustice and their engagement with the representation of human suffering in a variety of forms The book puts forward the claim that E. L. Doctorow's literary project through its representation of psychological trauma and its attitude towards gender may be understood as a call to action against both each individual's indifference and the wider social and political structures and ideologies that justify and/or facilitate the injustices and oppression to which those who are situated at the margins of contemporary US society are subjected

History, Literature, Critical Theory Dominick LaCapra, 2013-05-15 In History Literature Critical Theory Dominick LaCapra continues his exploration of the complex relations between history and literature here considering history as both process and representation A trio of chapters at the center of the volume concern the ways in which history and literature particularly the novel impact and question each other In one of the chapters LaCapra revisits Gustave Flaubert pairing him with Joseph Conrad Other chapters pair J. M. Coetzee and W. G. Sebald Jonathan Littell's novel The Kindly Ones and Saul Friedlander's two volume prizewinning history Nazi Germany and the Jews A recurrent motif of the book is the role of the sacred its problematic status in sacrifice its virulent manifestation in social and political violence notably the Nazi genocide its role or transformations in literature and art and its multivalent expressions in postsecular hopes anxieties and quests LaCapra concludes the volume with an essay on the place of violence in the thought of Slavoj Žižek In LaCapra's view Žižek's provocative thought at times has uncanny echoes of earlier reflections on or apologies for political and seemingly regenerative even sacralized violence

Ethical Cities Brendan F.D. Barrett, Ralph Horne, John Fien, 2020-12-06 Combining elements of sustainable and resilient cities agendas together with those from social justice studies and incorporating concerns about good governance transparency and accountability the book presents a coherent conceptual framework for the ethical city in which to embed existing and new activities within cities so as to guide local action The authors observations are derived from city specific surveys and urban case studies These reveal how progressive cities are promoting a diverse range of ethically informed approaches to urbanism such as community wealth building basic income initiatives participatory budgeting and citizen assemblies The text argues that the ethical city is a logical next step for critical urbanism in the era of late capitalism characterised by divisive politics burgeoning inequality widespread technology induced disruptions to every aspect of modern life and existential threats posed by climate change sustainability imperatives and pandemics Engaging with their communities in meaningful ways and promoting positive transformative change ethical cities are well placed to deliver liveable and sustainable places for all rather than only for wealthy elites Likewise the aftermath of shocks such as the 2008 Global Financial Crisis and the Covid 19 pandemic reveals that cities that are not purposeful in addressing inequalities social problems unsustainability and corruption face deepening difficulties Readers from across physical and social sciences humanities and arts as well as across policy business and civil society will find that the application of ethical principles is key to the pursuit of socially inclusive urban futures and the potential for cities and their communities to emerge from or at least ameliorate a diverse range of local national and global challenges

Flood Risk and Social Justice Zoran Vojinovic, Michael B. Abbott, 2012-03-05 Flood Risk and Social Justice is a response to the rising significance of floods and flood related disasters worldwide as an initiative to promote a socially just approach to the problems of flood risk It integrates the human social and the technological components to provide a holistic view This book

treats flooding as a multi dimensional human and natural world tragedy that must be accommodated using all the social and technological means that can be mobilised before during and after the flooding event It covers socially just flood risk mitigation practices which necessitate a wide range of multidisciplinary approaches starting from social and wider environmental needs including feedback cycles between human needs and technological means Flood Risk and Social Justice looks at how to judge whether a risk is acceptable or not by addressing an understanding of social and phenomenological considerations rather than simple calculations of probabilities multiplied by unwanted outcomes and their balancing between costs and benefits It is argued that the present flood management practice should be largely replaced by the social justice approach where particular attention is given to deciding what is the right thing to do within a much wider context Thus it insists upon the validity of modes of human understanding which cannot be addressed within the limited context of modern science Flood Risk and Social Justice is written to support a wide range of audiences and seeks to improve the dialogue between researchers and practitioners from different disciplines including post graduate engineering environmental and social science students industry practitioners academics planners environmental advocacy groups and environmental law professionals who have a strong interest in a new kind of social justice work that can act as a continuous counter balance to the various mechanisms that unceasingly give rise to profound injustices More information about this book can be found in this article written for the WaterWiki by the author <http://www.iwaterwiki.org/xwiki/bin/view/Articles/FloodRiskandSocialJustice> Authors Zoran Vojinovic is Associate Professor at the UNESCO IHE Institute for Water Education Delft the Netherlands with almost 20 years of consulting and research experience in various aspects of water industry in New Zealand Australia Asia Europe Central South America and the Caribbean Michael B Abbott is Emeritus Professor at the UNESCO IHE Institute for Water Education Delft the Netherlands and a Director of the European Institute for Industrial Leadership in Brussels He founded and developed the disciplines of Computational Hydraulics and Hydroinformatics and co founded the Journal of Hydroinformatics with Professor Roger Falconer

Theology for International Law Esther D.
