The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume I Nikolina Bobic, Farzaneh Haghighi, 2022-10-28 For architecture and urban space to have relevance in the 21st Century we cannot merely reignite the approaches of thought and design that were operative in the last century This is despite or because of the nexus between politics and space often being theorized as a representation or by product of politics As a symbol or an effect the spatial dimension is depoliticized Consequently architecture and the urban are halted from fostering any systematic change as they are secondary to the event and therefore incapable of performing any political role This handbook explores how architecture and urban space can unsettle the unquestioned construct of the spatial politics of governing Considering both ongoing and unprecedented global problems from violence and urban warfare the refugee crisis borderization detention camps terrorist attacks to capitalist urbanization inequity social unrest and climate change this handbook provides a comprehensive and multidisciplinary research focused on the complex nexus of politics architecture and urban space Volume I starts by pointing out the need to explore the politics of spatialization to make sense of the operational nature of spatial oppression in contemporary times The operative and active political reading of space is disseminated through five thematics Violence and War Machines Security and Borders Race Identity and Ideology Spectacle and the Screen and Mapping Landscapes and Big Data This first volume of the handbook frames cutting edge contemporary debates and presents studies of actual theories and projects that address spatial politics This Handbook will be of interest to anyone seeking to meaningfully disrupt the reduction of space to an oppressive or neutral backdrop of political realities Chapters 1 and 23 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

Architecture on the Borderline Anoma Pieris, 2019-06-25 Architecture on the Borderline interrogates space and territory in a turbulent present where nation state borders are porous to a few but impermeable to many It asks how these uneven and conflicted social realities are embodied in the physical and material conditions imagined produced or experienced through architecture and urbanism Drawing on historical global examples this rich collection of essays illustrates how empires nations and cities expand their frontiers and contest boundaries but equally how borderline identities of people and places influence or expose these processes Empirical chapters covering Central Asia the Asia Pacific region the American continent Europe and the Middle East offer multiple critical insights into the ways in which our spatial imagination is contingent on border thinking on the ways of being and navigating frontiers boundaries and margins the three themes used to organise their content The underlying premise of the book is that sensitisation to border conditions can alter our understanding of the static physical spaces that service political or cultural ideologies and that the view from the periphery opens up new ways of understanding sovereignty In exploring these various spaces and their transformative subjectivities this book also reveals the unrelenting precarity of contesting and living on the margins and related spaces and discourses that are neglected or suppressed

Migrant Housing Mirjana Lozanovska, 2019-03-01 Migrant Housing the latest book by author Mirjana Lozanovska examines the house as the architectural construct in the processes of migration Housing is pivotal to any migration story with studies showing that migrant participation in the adaptation or building of houses provides symbolic materiality of belonging and the platform for agency and productivity in the broader context of the immigrant city Migration also disrupts the cohesion of everyday dwelling and homeland integral to housing and the book examines this displacement of dwelling and its effect on migrant housing This timely volume investigates the poetic and political resonance between migration and architecture challenging the idea of the house as a singular theoretical construct Divided into three parts Histories and theories of post war migrant housing House home and Mapping migrant spaces of home it draws on data studies from Australia and Macedonia with literature from Canada Sweden and Germany to uncover the effects of unprivileged post war migration in the late twentieth century on the house as architectural and normative model and from this perspective negotiates the disciplinary boundaries of architecture

Rethinking Global Modernism Vikramaditya Prakash, Maristella Casciato, Daniel E. Coslett, 2021-11-22 This anthology collects developing scholarship that outlines a new decentred history of global modernism in architecture using postcolonial and other related theoretical frameworks By both revisiting the canons of modernism and seeking to decolonize and globalize those canons the volume explores what a genuinely global history of architectural modernism might begin to look like Its chapters explore the historiography and weaknesses of modernism's normative interpretations and propose alternatives to them The collection offers essays that interrogate transnationalism in new ways reconsiders the agency of the subaltern and the roles played by infrastructures materials and global institutions in propagating a diversity of modernisms internationally Issues such as colonial modernism architectural pedagogy cultural imperialism and spirituality are engaged With essays from both established scholars and up and coming researchers this is an important reference for a new understanding of this crucial and developing topic

Making Home in the Suburb Maram Shaweesh, 2024-11-12 This book investigates everyday life within Lebanese Australian homes documenting how these homes integrate Lebanese Australian culture into suburban Australian life It explores how the homemaking practices of Lebanese Australian families both influence and are influenced by the context of suburban housing in Australia Drawing from in depth interviews household tours photographic documentation mental mapping and historical imagery data collection the book illuminates homemaking practices that have evolved from creating a home away from home to practices influenced by a unique Lebanese Australian lifestyle rooted in the perception of Australia as their home

The City on Display Joel Robinson, 2022-08-19 The City on Display Architecture Festivals and the Urban Commons reflects on the biennials triennials and other festivals of architecture and design that have been held over the last two decades as they expand and transform in response to the exigencies of planetary urbanisation Joel Robinson examines the development of these large scale international and perennial exhibitions as they address such challenges as urban regeneration heritage preservation climate change and the migration crisis Homing in on examples of festivals in Venice Rotterdam Oslo Tallinn Sharjah Seoul Shenzhen and Hong Kong the author describes how they alter the public spaces that host them either through civic boosterism and gentrification on the one hand or through a reassertion of the urban commons and the right to the city on the other hand He attempts to thematise the architecture festival's relationship with the city and interrogate its potential as a forum for global debate about the emergencies of the urban condition This book will be beneficial for students and academics of architecture and urbanism and especially those who have an interest in how the city gets exhibited at such festivals and even reimagined as something other than it currently is

The Optimum Imperative: Czech Architecture for the Socialist Lifestyle, 1938–1968 Ana Miljacki, 2017-02-03 The Optimum Imperative examines architecture's multiple entanglements within the problematics of Socialist lifestyle in postwar Czechoslovakia. Situated in the period loosely bracketed by the signing of the Munich accords in 1938 which affected Czechoslovakia's entrance into World War II and the Warsaw Pact troops' occupation of Prague in 1968, the book investigates three decades of Czech architecture, highlighting a diverse cast of protagonists. Key among them are the theorist and architect Karel Honzík and a small group of his colleagues in the Club for the Study of Consumption, the award-winning Czechoslovak Pavilion at the 1958 World Expo in Brussels and SIAL, a group of architects from Liberec that emerged from the national network of Stavoprojekt offices during the reform years only to be subsumed back into it in the wake of Czechoslovak normalization. This episodic approach enables a long view of the way that the project of constructing Socialism was made disciplinarily specific for architecture through the constant interpretation of Socialist lifestyle both as a narrative framework and as a historical goal. Without sanitizing history of its absurd contortions in discourse and in daily life, the book takes as its subject the complex and dynamic relationships between Cold War politics, state power, disciplinary legitimating narratives, and Czech architects' optimism for Socialism. It proposes that these key dimensions of practicing architecture and building Socialism were intertwined and even commensurate at times through the framework of Socialist lifestyle.

Postcolonialism, Heritage, and the Built Environment Jessica L. Nitschke, Marta Lorenzon, 2021-01-11 This book proposes new ways of looking at the built environment in archaeology, specifically through postcolonial perspectives. It brings together scholars and professionals from the fields of archaeology, urban studies, architectural history, and heritage in order to offer fresh perspectives on extracting and interpreting social and cultural information from architecture and monuments. The goal is to show how ongoing critical engagement with the postcolonial critique can help archaeologists pursue more inclusive, sensitive, and nuanced interpretations of the built environment of the past and contribute to heritage discussions in the present. The chapters present case studies from Africa, Greece, Belgium, Australia, Syria, Kuala Lumpur, South Africa, and Chile, covering a wide range of chronological periods and settings. Through these diverse case studies, this volume encourages the reader to rethink the analytical frameworks and methods traditionally employed in the investigation of built spaces of the past. To the extent that these built spaces continue to shape identities and social relationships today, the book also encourages the reader to reflect critically on archaeologists' ability to impact stakeholder communities and shape public perceptions of the past.

New Islamist Architecture and Urbanism Bülent Batuman, 2017-12-22 New Islamist Architecture and Urbanism claims that in today's world, a research agenda concerning the relation between Islam and space has to consider the role of Islamism rather than Islam in shaping and, in return, being shaped by the built environment. The book tackles this task through an analysis of the ongoing transformation of Turkey under the rule of the pro-Islamic Justice and Development Party. In this regard, it is a topical book, a rare description of a political regime's reshaping of urban and architectural forms whilst the process is alive Defining Turkey's transformation in the past two decades as a process of new Islamist nation re building the book investigates the role of the built environment in the making of an Islamist milieu Drawing on political economy and cultural studies it explores the prevailing primacy of nation and nationalism for new Islamism and the spatial negotiations between nation and Islam It discusses the role of architecture in the deployment of history in the rewriting of nationhood and that of space in the expansion of Islamist social networks and cultural practices Looking at examples of housing compounds mosques public spaces and the new presidential residence New Islamist Architecture and Urbanism scrutinizes the spatial making of new Islamism in Turkey through comparisons with relevant cases across the globe urban renewal projects in Beirut and Amman nativization of Soviet modernism in Baku and Astana the presidential palaces of Ashgabat and Putrajaya and the neo Ottoman mosques built in diverse locations such as Tokyo and Washington DC

Handbook of Research on Methodologies for Design and Production Practices in Interior Architecture Garip, Ervin, Garip, S. Banu, 2020-11-20 Studio environments can be defined as multi dimensional integrated production spaces where basic design trainings take place and where design issues including theoretical notions such as sociological political phenomenological and other dimensions are discussed Present approaches within the literature and social media on this topic gives cause for students to evaluate their future professions over finished and pictorial products rather than ontological and processual means While there are many resources available on the present approaches of aesthetics and visuality of interior spaces there is not much research available on new design methodologies related design processes and new applied methods in interior architecture Based on different contexts these methods of design practice have the potential to enrich design processes and create multiple discussion platforms within project studios as well as other design media These different representations and narration methods for research in the context of interior architecture can be effectively used in design processes The Handbook of Research on Methodologies for Design and Production Practices in Interior Architecture proposes new design methodologies and related design processes and introduces new applied method approaches while presenting alternative methods that have been used within design studios in the field of interior architecture The chapters deal with four major sections the design process and interdisciplinary approaches then scenario development and content followed by material texture and atmosphere and concluding with new approaches to design While highlighting topics such as spatial perception design strategies architectural atmosphere and design thinking this book is of interest to architects interior designers practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students looking for advanced research on the new design methodologies and processes for interior architecture

The Socialist Life of Modern Architecture Juliana Maxim, 2018-12-07 The Socialist Life of Modern Architecture is the first systematic architectural history of Romania under socialism written in English It examines the mechanisms through which modern architecture was invested with political meaning and in reverse how specific architectural solutions came to define the socialist experience Each of the book's three parts traces the historical development of one key aspect of Romania's architectural culture between the years 1949-1964: the planning and construction of housing districts in Bucharest; the role of typification of design and standardization of construction in a project of cultural transformation; the production and management of a folk architectural tradition. Going beyond buildings and architects to consider the use of photography, painting and novels as well as narrations of history and the formation of an ethnographic architectural heritage, the author explores how buildings came to participate in the cultural imagination of socialism and became in fact a privileged medium of socialism. Part of the growing interest in the significance of Soviet Bloc architecture, this is an important contribution to the fields of architectural history, cultural history and visual culture.
