Ethics for a Brave New World, Second Edition (Updated and Expanded) John S. Feinberg, Paul D.

Feinberg, 2010-11-04 Aldous Huxley's 1932 book Brave New World foresees a world in which technological advances have obliterated morality and freedom. John Feinberg and Paul Feinberg in the first edition of Ethics for a Brave New World noted how Huxley landed frighteningly close to the truth. Their book responded to ethical crises such as abortion, euthanasia, capital punishment, and genetic engineering by looking to Scripture for principles to guide us through the moral quagmires of our time. Now dramatically updated and expanded, this edition of Ethics for a Brave New World seeks to maintain the relevance, rigorous scholarship, and biblical faithfulness of the first edition. While many of the topics covered in the book remain the same, John Feinberg has revised each chapter to keep it current with contemporary trends and to respond to the most recent scholarship. There is a new chapter on stem cell research and greatly expanded material on issues such as homosexuality and genetic engineering. This important resource will be a valuable guide for students and those seeking answers to ethical dilemmas.

Ethics for a Brave New World John S. Feinberg, Paul D. Feinberg, 2010. This updated and revised second edition analyzes the current literature regarding various ethical issues. Includes a new chapter on stem cell research and expanded material on other topics.

Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies Ken Albala, 2013-05-07. Over the past decade there has been a remarkable flowering of interest in food and nutrition both within the popular media and in academia. Scholars are increasingly using foodways, food systems, and eating habits as a new unit of analysis within their own disciplines, and students are rushing into classes and formal degree programs focused on food. Introduced by the editor and including original articles by over thirty leading food scholars from around the world, the Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies offers students, scholars, and all those interested in food-related research a one-stop, easy-to-use reference guide. Each article includes a brief history of food research within a discipline or on a particular topic, a discussion of research methodologies and ideological or theoretical positions, resources for research including archives, grants, and fellowship opportunities, as well as suggestions for further study. Each entry also explains the logistics of succeeding as a student and professional in food studies. This clear, direct Handbook will appeal to those hoping to start a career in academic food studies, as well as those hoping to shift their research to a food-related project. Strongly interdisciplinary, this work will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities.

The Art and Science of Making the New Man in Early 20th-Century Russia Yvonne Howell, Nikolai Kremmentsov, 2021-12-02. The idea that morally, mentally, and physically superior new men might replace the currently existing mankind has periodically seized the imagination of intellectuals, leaders, and reformers throughout history. This volume offers a multidisciplinary investigation into how the new man was made in Russia and the early Soviet Union in the first third of the 20th century. The traditional narrative of the Soviet new man as a creature forged by propaganda is challenged by the strikingly new and varied case studies presented here. The book focuses on the interplay between the rapidly developing experimental life sciences such as biology medicine and psychology and countless cultural products ranging from film and fiction dolls and museum exhibits to pedagogical projects sculptures and exemplary agricultural fairs With contributions from scholars based in the United States Canada the UK Germany and Russia the picture that emerges is emphatically more complex contradictory and suggestive of strong parallels with other new man visions in Europe and elsewhere In contrast to previous interpretations that focused largely on the apparent disconnect between utopian new man rhetoric and the harsh realities of everyday life in the Soviet Union this volume brings to light the surprising historical trajectories of new man visions their often obscure origins acclaimed and forgotten champions unexpected and complicated results and mutual interrelations In short the volume is a timely examination of a recurring theme in modern history when dramatic advancements in science and technology conjoin with anxieties about the future to fuel dreams of a new and improved mankind

Colonialism and the Emergence of Science Fiction John Rieder, 2013-01-01 This groundbreaking study explores science fiction's complex relationship with colonialism and imperialism In the first full length study of the subject John Rieder argues that the history and ideology of colonialism are crucial components of science fiction's displaced references to history and its engagement in ideological production With original scholarship and theoretical sophistication he offers new and innovative readings of both acknowledged classics and rediscovered gems Rider proposes that the basic texture of much science fiction in particular its vacillation between fantasies of discovery and visions of disaster is established by the profound ambivalence that pervades colonial accounts of the exotic other Includes discussion of works by Edwin A Abbott Edward Bellamy Edgar Rice Burroughs John W Campbell George Tomkyns Chesney Arthur Conan Doyle H Rider Haggard Edmond Hamilton W H Hudson Richard Jefferies Henry Kuttner Alun Llewellyn Jack London A Merritt Catherine L Moore William Morris Garrett P Serviss Mary Shelley Olaf Stapledon and H G Wells
