Covid-19 and the Dialectics of Global Pandemics in Africa Munyaradzi

Mawere,Bernard Chazovachii,2021-10-01 The prevalence of global pandemics has been timeless and universal In 1918 the Spanish Flue grounded Spain and her neighbours In 1997 2014 and 2020 the Ebola virus wreaked havoc in West Africa in the same manner that polio had ravaged the globe Since 2019 the Coronavirus has forced most economies onto a downward spiral Despite concerted global attempts at observing World Health Organization guidelines the Coronavirus has been changing peoples lives forcing most economies onto their knees endangering lives and livelihoods making a mockery of global medicine and causing the widespread despair and helplessness that has come to be known as the new normal Unlike the other pandemics the mayhem complexities and dialectics caused by Covid 19 have been matchless requiring a systematic study and necessitating a volume like this one The volume s 16 well researched chapters argue that despite Covid 19 s enormous lessons and predictions about even greater future pandemics humanity can ill afford to relent in its determination to conquer the pandemic in the same way that human resolve has defeated past pandemic As such the volume provides hope and direction to the global community on how best to deal with Covid 19 and pandemics of similar or even higher magnitude in the future

Conceptual Economics: The Liaising Role In Politics And Social Sciences Kui-wai Li,2021-01-18

Given that there is no shortage of economic theories while economic problems are growing periodically Conceptual Economics boldly attempts to initiate a new approach by employing conceptual and intuitive tools to examine the intra relationship between microeconomics and macroeconomics as well as the inter relationship between economic analysis and other social science studies especially the relationship with political science The few intuitive ideas include the separation between ex ante situations and ex post outcomes the difference between endowment differences and unequal outcomes and the role of economics as a vehicle in the delivery of numerous social and political activities The discussion extends to cover an analysis on human values and concludes with a recommendation on the functionality of civic capitalism With intuition and analytical reasoning within economics and with other social sciences Conceptual Economics can become a new branch in economic study where scholars analysts and intellectuals could think outside the box by liaising a wider economic perspective and or amalgamating non economic aspects into their analysis This shall provide a new dimension to solving human economic problems and possibly area of intellectuality

Moral Contexts Margaret Urban Walker,2002-11-23 Many contexts shape and limit moral thinking in philosophy and life Human conditions of vulnerability and interdependency of limited awareness and control of imperfect insight into ourselves and others are inevitable contexts that neither moral thought nor theory should forget To be truly reflective moral thinking and moral philosophy must become aware of the contexts that bind our thinking about how to live This collection of essays by Margaret Urban Walker seek to show how to do this and why it makes a difference Contingent and changeable contexts that shape moral thinking include our individual histories our social positions and institutional roles relationships cultural settings and social arrangements and the specific moral idioms we pick up along the way The paradigms and specialized language of ethical theory are contexts too they shape how moral theory looks and what or whom it looks at Ethical theory and practice are meaningless without these Moral Contexts
