The Politics of European Security Policies Xymena

Kurowska, Patryk Pawlak, 2014-06-03 The book is a timely investigation into the European security policy dynamic from the perspective of actors engaged in the contentious policy process. Instead of looking at security actors in isolation from one another, the book enquires into the practice of the policy process and maps out the constellations of formal and informal actors sponsoring concrete ideas on what European security should be about. The understandings of security shift and advocating a particular reading of security involves entering the political contest with actors advancing different conceptions. The contributors analyse these different modalities, overlapping scenes and shifting meanings that bring about EU security policies. Our case studies illustrate how these processes unfold both at the intra EU level where different institutions supply and endorse their security framings and vis-à-vis the EU and its neighbours. The purpose of the book is to uncover by pluralistic means the rules of the game that structure the field of the EU's security making. That way rather than impose a rigid theoretical model, the editors structure the inquiry around three concepts: security politics and policy. This book was published as a special issue of Perspectives on European Politics and Society.

ECOOP '87. European Conference on Object-Oriented Programming Jean Bezivin, Jean-Marie

Hullot, Pierre Cointe, Henry Lieberman, 2007-03-06 In October 1983 an informal meeting was organized in Le Cap d'Agde with the help of the BIGRE bulletin. Sixty people turned out to hear more than ten presentations on object-oriented programming. More important was their unanimous demand for other more structured encounters. So about one year later the Object group was created by AFCET. A second workshop was organized in Brest and again one year later in Paris, each time showing increased attendance and interest. The success of these meetings and the fact that similar activities were taking place in other European countries, especially Great Britain and Germany, led to the idea of an annual European Conference providing a forum for theorists and practitioners interested in the object-oriented programming paradigm. It is impossible to acknowledge here all the people and organizations that welcomed with great enthusiasm the birth of the ECOOP conference and contributed to its organization. More than a hundred submissions were received and the program committee had the unpleasant task of turning down many valuable contributions. We hope, however, that the selection of papers for ECOOP '87 emphasizes the fundamental issues and problems of object-oriented programming and will point toward interesting future research directions.

European Economic Governance Willem Molle, 2011-03-01

In the course of its development, the EU has had to deal with an expanding policy agenda covering ever more subjects and an increased diversity of instruments. It has also had to deal with an increased number of member states and an extended range of partners: regional authorities, non-governmental organisations These developments have greatly increased the risk of inconsistencies between the various policies pursued and between the various levels of competence for the same policy Inconsistent policies are less effective than they ought to be So they imply a welfare loss The EU has tried to cope with the challenge of consistency by adapting its governance Traditionally it uses mainly the regulatory method The effectiveness of this method has recently come into question So alternative methods are now favoured One is the financial method which implies more expenditure via the EU budget The other is coordination The application of both methods has certain advantages and disadvantages The problem for policy makers is then to determine the choice between the modes first and the optimal level of budgetary and coordination efforts next Notwithstanding its obvious policy relevance the problem has got little attention from academia This book sets out to contribute to a solution by following two approaches The first is a systematisation of the theoretical and conceptual underpinnings of the financial and coordination methods The second is an empirical investigation into a range of European policy processes implying to different degrees budgetary outlays and coordination

Transnational Crime Valsamis Mitsilegas, Saskia Hufnagel, Anton Moiseienko, Shi Yanan, Liu Mingxiang, 2018-10-09 This volume offers a diverse set of perspectives on transnational crime Providing a wide ranging overview of the legal and policy issues that arise in connection with various forms of transnational crime the authors outline the criminal justice responses adopted across different jurisdictions Including contributions from high profile Chinese and European academics and practitioners across a variety of disciplines and methodological backgrounds the authors address some of the hitherto underexplored issues related to transnational crime These range from trafficking in cultural objects derived from illicit metal detecting and metal detecting tourism in China to the European approaches to criminalising the denial of historical truth The central theme of the book is that useful lessons can be drawn from each other's experiences and that a cross fertilisation of domestic approaches to transnational crime is essential to effective cooperation This book will be of use to students and academics of comparative criminal justice and anyone interested in transnational crime

European Wind Energy Conference E.L. Petersen, 2014-01-02 The 1999 European Wind Energy Conference and Exhibition was organized to review progress and present and discuss the wind energy business technology and science for the future The Proceedings contain a selection of over 300 papers from the conference They represent a significant update to the understanding of this increasingly important field of energy generation and cover a full range of topics      TEX for Scientific Documentation Jacques Desarmenien, 1986-09 Supported by CNRS Centre national de la Recherche scientifique SMF Societe mathematique de France Universite Louis Pasteur de Strasbourg      The Impact of Climate Change on European Lakes Glen George, 2009-11-27 In this book scientists from eleven countries summarize the results of an EU project CLIME that explored the effects of observed and projected changes in the climate on the dynamics of lakes in Northern Western and Central Europe Historical measurements from eighteen sites were used to compare the seasonal dynamics of the lakes and to assess their sensitivity to local regional and global scale changes in the weather Simulations using a common set of water quality models perturbed by six climate change scenarios were then used to assess the uncertainties associated with the projected changes in the climate The book includes chapters on the phenology and modelling of lake ice the supply and recycling of nitrogen and phosphorus the flux of dissolved organic carbon and the growth and the seasonal succession of phytoplankton There are also chapters on the coherent responses of lakes to changes in the circulation of the atmosphere the development of a web based Decision Support System and the implications of climate change for the Water Framework Directive      Response of Flood Events to Land Use and Climate Change Azadeh Ramesh, 2012-11-06 This book is an original and novel contribution to flood hazard assessment climate change and land use change and is intended to serve both as an effective source of information and a valuable basis for priority setting and further technical financial and political decisions regarding flood hazard assessment The study area is located on the floodplain of the Ubaye River in the Barcelonnette area part of the Alpes de Haute Provence in southeast France The book offers a comparative overview of the major challenges faced when dealing with flood hazards The research presented is intended to promote a deeper understanding of how climate change and land use change processes have evolved from past to present and how they affect the flow regime of the Ubaye River based on sound and reproducible scientific arguments The methodology implemented ranges from remote sensing interpretation to hydrodynamic modeling and includes the application of spatial and statistical modeling The results of this research provide essential information for policymaking decision making support and flood hazard planning in the Barcelonnette area      The European Union After the Crisis Hugo Radice, 2017-10-02 The global financial and economic crisis struck the European Union and its member states with particular force from 2009 onwards The immediate problem was the knock on effects of the crisis on each country s public finances Bank bail outs imposed a massive increase in sovereign debt on member states while the economic recession unavoidably led to ballooning budget deficits via the usual mechanisms of reduced taxes and increased welfare spending Subsequently the Eurozone sovereign debt crisis exposed the hidden weaknesses in the monetary and financial arrangements that had accompanied the launch of the Euro the severe economic imbalance between member states rooted in longer term structural divergences and the inadequate institutional mechanisms for resolving these difficulties This book originated from an EU funded international research network on Systemic Risks Financial Crises and Credit the Roots Dynamics and Consequences of the Sub Prime Crisis Contributions explore and evaluate some of the ways in which the institutions and policies of the European Union and its member states have changed in response to the problems brought about by the crisis This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary European Studies
