Engaging Musical Practices A Sourcebook For Instrumental Music:

Engaging Musical Practices Suzanne L. Burton, Alden H. Snell II, 2015-02-12 Engaging Musical Practices A Sourcebook for Instrumental Music is a long awaited compilation of best practices for instrumental music education. This unique book contains practical and pedagogically oriented chapters written by leaders in the field of instrumental music education. Designed for instrumental music teachers or for use in instrumental methods courses, the book covers a wide range of topics such as student readiness for instrumental music, beginning an instrumental music program, teaching instrumental music at the intermediate and advanced levels, working with strings and orchestras, motivating students, incorporating improvisation into the curriculum, selecting repertoire based on curricular goals, engaging students in assessment, marching band pedagogy and techniques, integrating technology, considering traditional instrumental music practice, becoming an instrumental music teacher, communicating effectively with stakeholders. Contributions by James Ancona and Heidi Sarver, Kimberly Ackney and Colleen Conway, Christopher Azzara, William Bauer and Rick Dammers, Brian Bersh, Suzanne Burton, Rick Townsend, Patricia Campbell and Lee Higgins, Robert Gardner, Richard Grunow, Mike Hewitt and Bret Smith, Dan Isbell, Nate Kruse, Chad Nicholson, Alden Snell and David Stringham.

Engaging Musical Practices Suzanne L. Burton, 2012-03-22 Middle school general music may be a student's last encounter with school music. A practical book with accessible pedagogical resources on middle school general music is needed for methods courses and music practitioners use. The book Engaging Musical Practices A Sourcebook for Middle School General Music presents numerous ways to engage adolescents in active music making that is relevant to their lives so that they may be more apt to continue their involvement with music as a lifetime endeavor. Structured in twelve chapters, the book begins with perspectives on adolescent development and working with students with special needs. Five chapters are devoted to the pedagogy of teaching students practical musical skills such as singing, playing the keyboard, guitar, drums and percussion. Chapters on starting a steel band using informal and formal music learning strategies, incorporating technology, implementing world music techniques, composing in the classroom and the use of music based learning centers lead the reader into implementing musical approaches focused on the doing of making music. The book is filled with musical examples, sample rubrics and resource lists that take the reader beyond the book's content. Engaging Musical Practices provides exciting and classroom tested content that connects in and out of school music making for adolescents, generating excitement for musical participation. This book is a necessity for any practitioner who teaches students in the middle grades or as a text for secondary general music methods courses.

Applying Model Cornerstone

Assessments in K-12 Music Frederick Burrack, Kelly A. Parkes, 2018-06-19. Model Cornerstone Assessments (MCAs) that were developed for the National Core Arts Standards in Music are curriculum-embedded measures designed for music students to apply relevant knowledge and skills while demonstrating learning in the standards that define the artistic processes. They are meant to engage students in tasks authentic to a school's curriculum and honor the intent of the Music Performance Standards. They are created as models to allow for usefulness in a variety of curricular contexts and demographics. The intent of each MCA is to provide research-based assessment tasks that are specifically focused on the expected learning for the performance standards with rubrics that have been tested for scoring consistency. Following substantial development and piloting in schools across the United States, this book provides a thorough background of the MCAs and the confidence measures administered to guide implementation by teachers, administrators and the educational community.

The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing, Volume II: Education Helga R. Gudmundsdottir, Carol Beynon, Karen Ludke, Annabel J. Cohen, 2020-05-19. The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing Volume II: Education examines the many methods and motivations for vocal pedagogy, promoting singing not just as an art form arising from the musical instrument found within every individual but also as a means of communication with social, psychological and didactic functions. Presenting research from myriad fields of study beyond music including psychology, education, sociology, computer science, linguistics, physiology and neuroscience, the contributors address singing in three parts: Learning to Sing Naturally; Formal Teaching of Singing; Using Singing to Teach. In 2009, the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada funded a seven-year major collaborative research initiative known as Advancing Interdisciplinary Research in Singing (AIRS). Together, global researchers from a broad range of disciplines addressed three challenging questions How does singing develop in every human being How should singing be taught and used to teach How does singing impact wellbeing Across three volumes The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing consolidates the findings of each of these three questions defining the current state of theory and research in the field Volume II Education focuses on the second question and offers an invaluable resource for anyone who identifies as a singer wishes to become a singer works with singers or is interested in the application of singing for the purposes of education
