cultural effects of international tourism's intrusion in the region which though often hotly debated have attracted relatively little empirical research. The third focus is on the challenges of how PICs articulate with their external geo-political and physical environment. These involve existing relations with formal colonial centres, geographical isolation, the need for greater air access to the outside world and for more tourists, and the continuing threat to several PICs of global warming which increased air travel will inevitably exacerbate. This text will be of interest to tourism students, researchers and academics in the fields of tourism development studies and cultural studies.

Reinventing the Local in Tourism Antonio Paolo Russo, Greg Richards, 2016-05-03. This book investigates the way localities are shaped and negotiated through tourism and explores the emerging success of local, peer-produced hospitality and tourism services which are transforming the tourist experience. Tourists are now being brought into much closer contact with locals and have new opportunities to experience the community at their destination. This book examines these place experiences and travel sharing arrangements that have now spread globally due to the use of social communication platforms such as Airbnb. It analyses the existence of global communities of place experts that are redefining the organisational structures, value systems, market opportunities, affordabilities and geographies in travel and tourism. This volume brings together the work of established tourism scholars as well as early career researchers and is one of the first books to examine the global-local relationship at tourism destinations and the way that the rapidly developing field of peer-to-peer tourism is transforming tourist destinations.
