

COMMUNITY-BASED PARTICIPATORY RESEARCH

Addresses an issue, concern or topic raised by the community

Community (co)-led, designed, conducted, disseminated

ACTION

Is aimed at change

Creation or production of knowledge based on systematic study

For example:

- (health) Why are there high rates of cancer?
- (education) Why do children drop out of school?
- (social) How can we address housing needs?
- (economic development) Should we develop a wind farm?
- (environmental) How can we make our neighborhood safer?
- (culture) What will happen to our knowledge of the water if it is polluted?

For example:

- The project is headquartered in the community
- Community members decide what kinds of methods work best
- Community members carry out the research
- Community members are co-authors on articles
- reports are shared with community before other scholars

For example:

- (hypothesis-driven) women who do not have a regular primary care provider are more likely to develop cervical cancer
- (grounded-theory) Interviews with women discovered that experience with sexual abuse prevented them from seeking gynecological care

For example:

- (structural) change power relations or institutions of society
- (behavioral) change lifestyle choices

Dimensions of Community-Based

Projects in Health Care Steven L. Arxer, John W. Murphy, 2017-09-19 This salient reference grounds readers in the theoretical basis and day to day practice of community based health care programs and their potential as a transformative force in public health Centering around concepts of self determination empowerment and inclusiveness the book details the roles of physicians research and residents in the transition to self directed initiatives and greater community control Community focused interventions and methods starting with genuine dialogue between practitioners and residents are discussed as keys to understanding local voice and worldview and recognizing residents as active participants and not simply targets of service delivery And coverage pays careful attention to training issues including how clinicians can become involved in community based care without neglecting individual patient needs Among the topics covered are Narrative medicine in the context of community based practice Qualitative and participatory action research Health committees as a community based strategy Dialogue world entry and community based intervention Politics of knowledge in community based work Training physicians with communities Dimensions of Community Based Projects in Health Care challenges sociologists social workers and public health administrators to look beyond traditional biomedical concepts of care and naturalistic methods of research and toward more democratic programs planning and policy The partnerships described in these pages reflect a deep commitment to patients lives and to the future of public health p Handbook of Social Policy Evaluation Bent Greve,2017-03-31 This Handbook uses methodologies and cases to discover how and when to evaluate social policy and looks at the possible impacts of evaluation on social policy decisions The contributors present a detailed analysis on how to conduct social policy evaluation how to be aware of pitfalls and dilemmas and how to use evidence effectively Theory and Methods for Public Pedagogy Research Karen Charman,Mary Dixon,2021-03-08 Theory and Methods for Public Pedagogy Research introduces promising new methods of public pedagogy research centered around transforming rather than explaining knowledge The new methods are premised on a new theorisation of public pedagogy which recognises the educative agent The agency of the public to speak to be heard to know is manifest as the educative agent speaks their knowledge and the researcher must be attentive to that speaking This work extends the well established intellectual projects in the field to introduce four new methods for public pedagogy research organisation performance curation and researcher A key focus of this work is attending to how the circulation of knowledge in non formal settings can be recognised It examines the under published area of pedagogy and research in public spaces and engages post qualitative approaches to inquiry to open up the field Moreover it explores the possibility of performances art exhibitions and museums as public spaces of knowledge generation and pedagogy It also shows how research can be applied in practice in public pedagogy to discover best practices for working in these spaces Finally it confronts and critiques the dilemmas of public pedagogy research and the limits of research methods which have previously been deployed in this field This book will be of interest to researchers and students in the field of public education and teaching in a variety of social science and arts disciplines and education
