explain why the innocent are convicted a very simple question has not been answered How is it possible that prosecutors can convince juries and themselves of the guilt of an innocent defendant often even against strong exculpatory evidence Narratives of Guilt and Innocence seeks to address this crucial question by highlighting the narrative blueprint of a given criminal justice system and then how the power of narrative influences how police prosecutors juries and judges construct legal reality and the evidence for it That law and storytelling are connected is a common trope but we know surprisingly little about the intricate role storytelling plays in criminal cases and wrongful convictions in particular This book questions the effectiveness of the adversarial contest between prosecutor and defense as a means to arrive at the truth and argues that narrative is an important a factor in the construction of legal reality Wrongful convictions exemplify that narrative and truth have an uncomfortable relationship Ralph Grunewald provides a retelling and reading of well known miscarriages of justice including the best known wrongful conviction in Germany Applying a comparative perspective shows that the narrative desire as a human trait has a universal power with a persistence that transcends the regulatory and procedural setup of a given system Narratives of Guilt and Innocence puts wrongful convictions into an interdisciplinary and comparative context and vividly demonstrates just how much the process of storytelling affects legal reality

Judicial Process in America Robert A. Carp, Kenneth L. Manning, Lisa M. Holmes, Ronald Stidham, 2019-02-20 Known for shedding light on the link between the courts public policy and the political environment Judicial Process in America offers students a clear but comprehensive overview of today s American judiciary Considering the courts from every level the authors thoroughly cover judges lawyers litigants and the variables at play in judicial decision making The highly anticipated Eleventh Edition offers updated coverage of recent Supreme Court rulings including same sex marriage and health care subsidies the effect of three women justices on the Court s patterns of decision and the policy making role of state tribunals as they consider an increasing number of state programs and policies New to this Edition Discussions of recent judicial appointments take a critical look at how President Trump s victory has set the stage for moving the ideological direction of the Supreme Court and of the lower federal judiciary in a distinctly more conservative direction An analysis of recent controversial Supreme Court decisions help students to identify with the content by exploring issues such as citizenship rights for immigrants gay and lesbian rights and freedom of speech and religion Additional tables and graphs illustrate the patterns and trends that are occurring in today s judicial process New coverage of current topics help students see how the judicial process is applied These topics include the legality of Congress feeble attempts to repeal and replace the Affordable Care Act that affects millions of people how to address the issues of immigration and deportations including what to do about so called Dreamers children brought illegally to the United States by their parents without the children s knowledge and who have spent much or all of their lives here the status of abortion rights in America as more and more conservative states have sought to further restrict a woman s right to such a procedure the legal status of transgender persons in the armed forces the degree to which severely gerrymandered legislative districts pass constitutional muster and the great changes in the issue of same sex marriage both among average Americans and within the state and federal court systems including all the ancillary issues such as whether same sex couples can adopt children and obtain government fringe benefits

Women and Children as Victims and Offenders: Background, Prevention, Reintegration Helmut Kury, Slawomir Redo, Evelyn Shea, 2016-06-20 This work compiles experiences and lessons learned in meeting the unique needs of women and children regarding crime prevention and criminal justice in particular the treatment and social reintegration of offenders and serves as a cross disciplinary work for academic and policy making analyses and follow up in developing and developed countries Furthermore it argues for a more humane and effective approach to countering delinquency and crime among future generations In a world where development positively depends on the rule of law and the related investment security two global trends may chart the course of development urbanization and education Urbanization will globalize the concepts of justice and fairness education will be dominated by the urban mindset and digital service economy just as a culture of lawfulness will This work looks at crime prevention education as an investment in the sustainable quality of life of succeeding generations and at those who pursue such crime prevention as the providers of much needed skills in the educational portfolio Adopting a reformist approach this work collects articles with findings and recommendations that may be relevant to domestic and international policymaking including the United Nations Studies and their educational value for the welfare of coming generations The books address the relevant United Nations ideas by combining them with academic approaches Guided by the Editors respective fields of expertise and in full recognition of academic freedom and organized scepticism it includes contributions by lawyers criminologists sociologists and other eminent experts seeking to bridge the gap between academic and policy perspectives as appropriate against the international background including the United Nations developments The second volume opens with Part IV which presents articles on different kinds of crime prevention The effectiveness of punishment and in particular imprisonment is examined by contrasting it with alternative sanctions and the following questions are raised Does harsh punishment have a crime preventive effect What are the side effects of imprisonment on the offenders and their families Are alternatives such as restorative justice or mediation more effective and cheaper Part V outlines proactive strategies of crime prevention e g for potential sex offenders or in the domain of internet crime Part VI envisions a more peaceful and inclusive society which would be realized by improving the protection of women and children in their everyday life and easing the reintegration of those who have become offenders The importance of the role played by the UN in formulating these goals is underlined The volume concludes with an epilogue of the 70th President of the United Nations Economic and Social Council Martin Sajdik and a post scriptum of the editors p
