Competition Car Composites A Practical Handbook:

Competition Car Composites Simon McBeath,2000

Competition Car Composites Simon McBeath,2016-08-15

Composites have been around since ancient civilisations began making bricks from clay and straw Glass fibre carbon fibre and aramid fibres to name but three are recent innovations yet today there are few competition cars that don't have at least some components made out of one or more of these materials However while it is well known that glass fibre technology can be used in the home workshop what may not be so widely realised is that more advanced fibres also lend themselves to DIY methods This revised edition of Competition Car Composites starts by examining the materials and methods that can be used explaining basic wet and dry laminating techniques pattern making and mould construction and the design and manufacture of components It then goes on to cover material and technology upgrades and how more advanced materials can be exploited to achieve improved properties and reduced weight The use of thermoplastic materials resin infusion methods and especially pre pregs in the home workshop are also discussed as are the composite techniques used by top racecar constructors

Marine Applications of Advanced Fibre-reinforced Composites Jasper Graham-Jones,John

Summerscales,2015-09-28 The marine environment presents significant challenges for materials due to the potential for corrosion by salt water extreme pressures when deeply submerged and high stresses arising from variable weather Well designed fibre reinforced composites can perform effectively in the marine environment and are lightweight alternatives to metal components and more durable than wood Marine Applications of Advanced Fibre Reinforced Composites examines the technology application and environmental considerations in choosing a fibre reinforced composite system for use in marine structures This book is divided into two parts The chapters in Part One explore the manufacture mechanical behavior and structural performance of marine composites and also look at the testing of these composites and end of life environmental considerations The chapters in Part Two then investigate the applications of marine composites specifically for renewable energy devices offshore oil and gas applications rigging and sails Underwater repair of marine composites is also reviewed Comprehensively examines all aspects of fibre reinforced marine composites including the latest advances in design manufacturing methods and performance Assesses the environmental impacts of using fibre reinforced composites in marine environments including end of life considerations Reviews advanced fibre reinforced composites for renewable energy devices rigging sail textiles sail shape optimisation and offshore oil and gas applications

Natural Fibre Composites

Alma THULE,Robert Shanks,2014-02-13 The use of natural fibres as reinforcements in composites has grown in importance in recent years Natural Fibre Composites summarises the wealth of significant recent research in this area Chapters in part one introduce and explore the structure properties processing and applications of natural fibre reinforcements including those made from wood and cellulosic fibres Part two describes and illustrates the processing of natural fibre composites Chapters discuss ethical practices in the processing of green composites manufacturing methods and compression and injection molding techniques for natural fibre composites and thermoset matrix natural fibre reinforced composites Part three highlights and interprets the testing and properties of natural fibre composites including non destructive and high strain rate testing The performance of natural fibre composites is examined under dynamic loading the response of natural fibre composites to impact damage is appraised and the response of natural fibre composites in a marine environment is assessed Natural Fibre Composites is a technical guide for professionals requiring an understanding of natural fibre composite materials It offers reviews applications and evaluations of the subject for researchers and engineers Introduces and explores the structure properties processing and applications of natural fibre reinforcements including those made from wood and cellulosic fibres Highlights and interprets the testing and properties of natural fibre composites including non destructive and high strain rate testing Examines performance of natural fibre composites under dynamic loading the response of natural fibre composites to impact damage and the response of natural fibre composites in a marine environment
